MAKE PROVISION FOR YOUR PETS WHEN YOU GO AWAY

If you plan to move or to go on a vacation, please give forethought to whatever arrangement you intend to make for the care of any pet you may have, dog, cat, bird, or other animal.

Animals, cats in particular, have an uncanny way of sensing in advance any disruption of their ordinary routine. They often will leave home or hide somewhere so they cannot be found when the family is ready to close the house, with the result that they are left behind to become strays and a nuisance in the neighborhood. Contrary to the belief held by many persons, domestic animals are not equipped to take care of themselves; they are dependent upon man to whom they look for protection.

If your pet is to be boarded while you are away, be sure arrangements are made well in advance and that he is settled comfortably before he has a chance to sense a change. If he is to be taken with you, keep him in or under control while out-of-doors when it is nearing time for your departure so that he will not, "among the missing" when you come to leave. If he must be disposed of, take or send him to the nearest animal welfare organization.

We are sure that most cases of desertion of animals are unintentional, due principally to delay in making the necessary arrangements. Won't you please make plans far enough in advance this year to assure proper care of your pet?

Due to dimout regulations, whether in the country or in the city, animals on the highways at night not only are in great danger of being hit by automobiles, but they also constitute a menace to public safety. Owners or custodians should see that dogs and cats are confined before dusk.

HONOR SERVICE

The Parish of St. Paul will hold a Patriotic All-Parish Honor Service in honor of the servicemen from St. Paul's, on Sunday, July 4th at 11:00 A.M. Col. Raymond A. Lang, Chief of Chaplains at Camp Edwards will be the guest speaker. Sixty-one men have gone from St. Paul's, two of whom have already made the supreme sacrifice.

In the Service of Honor on July 4th the Honor Roll will be read. As each name is called a parent, wife or some close friend will rise in response to the names.

A special tribute will be paid to the two men, Paul Moffett Lambert and Edward V. T. Wetmore who have already laid down their lives.

A copy of the ceremony and a list of all the men in the armed forces from St. Paul's will be mailed to each member of the Honor Roll.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9:00 A.M. on Sunday, July 4th, and thereafter until late September.

MARITIME SERVICE OFFICE TO BE OPEN JULY

The United States Maritime Service announces that the Boston Enrolling office located at 177 Milk St., Boston, Massachusetts will remain open on Monday, July 5, 1943, from 8:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. for the purpose of interviewing and enrolling candidates for the U. S. Maritime Service.

Payroll Savings Buys Comfort For Your Fighting Relatives

Not all of your payroll savings and other War Bond purchases are used for tanks, planes and gunpowder. A part of your investment goes for the comfort of your father, brother, son or friend.

Put your war bond buying through your payroll savings plan on a family basis to do the most effective job in providing for the care and safety of your men in the armed forces. Figure it out for yourself how much beyond 10 per cent of the aggregate income of your family you can put into war bonds above the cost of the necessities of life.

Remember a single $18.75 war bond will buy for a fighting soldier on the front: Two cotton undershirts at 44 cents; two pairs of cotton shorts at 76 cents; two pairs of cotton socks at 34 cents; one pair of shoes at $4.31; a cotton khaki shirt at $4.64; pair twill trousers at $4.16; one web waist belt at 23 cents; two cotton neckties at 44 cents; 2 khaki caps at $1.26 and one twill jacket at $2.16. Total $18.75.

A $18.75 war bond should make a marine comfortable for the night with a 23-pound mattress at $4.20; two blankets at $13.54; a pillow at 56 cents and two pillow cases at 36 cents. Total $18.60.

Or he could be provided with a rubber poncho at $4.77; a helmet with its lining and other items of its assembly at $5.62; a rifle cartridge belt at $2.15; a marine corps pack consisting of haversack, knapsack and suspenders at $5.10; a canteen and its cover at $1.05. Total $18.69.

Those of you who worry about the comfort of your boy in service can help insure his comfort by buying war bonds. And 10 years from now you'll take back $25 for every $18.75 you put in.

School Committee Rejects Grant For Nursery School

At a meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday evening it was voted to reject an offer of a grant of over $3,000 in Federal Funds under the Latham Act for the establishment of a nursery school for children of mothers engaged in war work.

The city would have been required under the terms of the offer to almost equally match the sum offered by the grant, and to do this it would have been necessary to charge fees for children who would attend the school or to receive contributions from industry.

When the grant was first offered the school committee was given a period of 10 days in which to accept or reject the offer, but a request for an extension of 30 days in which to consider the matter was granted by the Federal Works Administration.

Chairman Ralph F. Taber of the School Committee stated that a survey of the situation has revealed that there is no need for the project and that services of this kind could be provided through other means. He also stated that if the grant were accepted and the nursery school established it would place the city in the position of operating a private enterprise.

The following teachers have been appointed for next year:

Mrs. Helen Anderson, Hamilton School.

Mrs. Elsa Martz, Day Junior High School.

Mrs. Anne Shields, Bigelow Junior High School.

Mrs. Louise Hood, building assistant at Underwood and Lincoln Eliot schools.

Mrs. Nellie Penny, mathematics, Newton High School.

Mrs. Caroline Allingham, mathematics, Weeks Junior High School.

Elizabeth M. Harvey, music, Weeks Junior High.

Mrs. Hazel Broad, science assistant, Newton High School.

Jerry Angino, Day Junior High entering Army.

John Anahnan, Bigelow Junior High School, entering Army.

Adele Joysen, Warren Junior High, to enter Red Cross Recreation work overseas as assistant recreation director.

A leave of absence for the duration of the war was granted Joseph A. Bedard, of the Trade School to enable him to accept a position with the State Department of Education.

The committee authorized the appointment of an additional clerk at the office of the Weeks Junior High School, after Superintendent Julius E. Warren explained that there was only one clerk at the school and there was work enough for two.

The following transfers were also authorized:

Charles O. Richter, from Day Junior High School to the position of research assistant at the central office.

Rhoda White from kindergarten of the Horace Mann and Bowen Schools to the Peabody Home.

Janet W. Moody, from Lincoln Eliot School to Bowen and Horace Mann Kindergarten.

Mary Hart from Hamilton School to Lincoln-Eliot School.

Euphrosyne Georgas from Peabody Home to Burr School.

The retirement of Miss E. Louise Richardson, teacher of English at the Newton High School since 1916, was approved.

Miss Jane Forte, who had been a substitute since January, was elected a teacher of physical education at Newton High School, and Miss Helen G. Briggs of Caribou, Me., was elected a teacher at the Ward School.

Chief Returns From Convention

Chief John L. Keating of the Newton Fire Department has returned from Rutland, Vermont, where he attended a three-day convention of the New England Fire Chiefs' Association.

Among matters discussed at the convention were improvement of facilities for civilian defense in the event of an attack by the enemy and the maintaining of efficiency of fire fighting outfits under war conditions.

Vacations started yesterday for over 150 boys and girls between 10 and 16 years, and for 15 mothers accompanying small children to camps maintained by the City Missionary Society of Boston. The boys and girls left the North Station for Camp Waldron and Camp Andover at Meredith, N. H., while the mothers and little children are being entertained at Eliot, Me., in Rosemary Cottage.

Rev. Earl W. Douglas of Newton, is executive secretary.

ROLL OF HONOR

Roy S. Edwards, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Service to Newton Service Men, in behalf of the Committee, cordially invites all service men who will be in Newton on Sunday, July 4th, to share with the newly inducted Newton citizens the position of honored guests at the dedication of the Roll of Honor.

Service men and newly inducted men are requested to report at the City Hall at 4 p. m. Sunday, July 4th.

Appropriate $115 To Raze Old Barn

An appropriation of $115 was authorized by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night for razing the old barn at 60 Waverley ave., Newton, which was adjudged as dangerous over two months ago by the Board. The owner has failed to comply with the order of the Board to remove the structure.

At a hearing held in May Alderman Inches, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board stated that the money spent by the city to remove the building will become a lien on the property. At that time the owner said he did not object to the removal of the barn but did object to being called upon to bear the expense which would be incurred.

The sum of $115 will be paid a wrecking firm to remove the building.

Officer Cain Presented Check

Patrolman Francis M. Cain of 25 Auburn st., West Newton, was presented with a check for $100 from the Newton Police Memorial Association on the occasion of his retirement on Thursday after 38 years of service on the Newton police force. The presentation was made at police headquarters by Chief Michael T. Hughes who was appointed a regular member of the department at the same time as Patrolman Cain in 1906. Patrolman Cain had served for two years previous in other positions in the department.

For the past 20 years Patrolman Cain has patrolled the Chestnut Hill district. He will not reach the compulsory retirement age of 65 until July 9, but retired from actual duty on Thursday because of the vacation which was due him.

Schools Sell Total Of $266,777.55 In Stamps and Bonds

The final report of stamps and bonds sold in the 27 Public and 3 Parochial Schools in the City of Newton will be of interest to all Newton residents. From March 1942 to September 1942 $28,382.37 was sold, and from September 1942 to June 1943 $238,395.18, making a grand total of $266,777.55. Twenty-One Public Schools and two Parochial Schools now fly the "Treasury Minute Man" Flag, and 12 Public Schools and One Parochial School completed a "Jeep Campaign" and are the proud owners of a Treasury Citation for their services.

Thousands Expected At Dedication Of World War II Honor Roll

To Be Held Sunday At City Hall—Gov. Saltonstall To Be Dedication Orator

Thousands of Newtonians are expected to attend the dedication of Newton's World War II honor roll at City Hall next Sunday which will be the highlight of the city's Fourth of July celebration this year.

Gov. Leverett Saltonstall will give the dedication speech when his home city pays tribute to the men and women who have joined the colors. More than 4,300 names will appear on the roll of honor when it is unveiled. Eventually it will hold the names of more than 6,000 citizens of the city.

Preparations for the event, which is expected to strike a new high for patriotic fervor, have been under way for several weeks under the direction of Roy S. Edwards, Chairman of the Citizens Committee for Service to Newton Service Men and Alderman Theodore Lockwood, Chairman of the Roll of Honor Committee. A large committee of citizens have given much time and thought to making the dedication a success.

Except for a parade, which was cancelled, the Fourth of July dedication program will go off as originally scheduled. The parade, in which it was planned to display the entire Newton Civilian Defense organization was eliminated because of the gasoline shortage, officials said.

Gold star parents, and other relatives of Newton men killed in action, missing, or known to be prisoners of war, will be special guests of the honor roll dedication. All such persons who it has been possible to locate have been invited to assemble at City Hall at 4 p. m. Sunday where Warren W. Oliver and Mrs. Edith Thomas will act as host and hostess.

A special invitation has also been sent to some 200 selectees who will go to camp within a few days and who constitute one of the largest groups to be called from Newton. All service men and women who may be home on leave are also invited to meet at City Hall and to occupy a place of distinction at the ceremony.

Shortly before 5 o'clock the honored guests, together with Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Governor Saltonstall, Hon. Sinclair Weeks and the Hon. Edwin O. Childs will proceed to the site of the dedication at the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st. A grandstand facing the Honor Roll and seating about 300 persons will be reserved for the special guests.

All veteran organizations in Newton will be represented by their respective color guards and the American Legion Band of Newton Post will provide the martial music.

Raising of the flag by a Boy and a Girl Scout while a trumpet plays to the colors will signal the beginning of the dedication program. The ceremony, which will last about one half hour, will be concluded by singing of the National Anthem led by a soloist to be announced and members of the Highland Glee Club.

The program follows:

Flag Raising

Opening Remarks—Alderman Theodore Lockwood, Chairman of Roll of Honor Committee.

Introduction of Roy S. Edwards, Master of Ceremony

Invocation—Rev. Charles O. Farrar, St. Paul's Episcopal Church

Acceptance of the Honor Roll—Mayor Paul M. Goddard

Patriotic Remarks—Former Mayor or Sinclair Weeks

Unveiling of Honor Roll
Dedication Speech—Gov. Leverett Saltonstall
Benediction—Rev. John Sheridan, Church of Our Lady
National Anthem

Grant Petition To Use Buildings For Manufacturing

The petition of P. N. Condit for the use of buildings at 68 and 75 Union st., Newton Centre, for light manufacturing purposes was granted by the Newton Board of Aldermen, at their meeting on Monday night, on condition that the applicant shall restrict the property to its present use and floor space. The concern is engaged in the production of germicide used by the government for war purposes.

Alderman Warner Eustis and Donald L. Gibbs voted against the petition. Alderman John Temperley voted in favor of the petition for the duration of the war only. Alderman Temperley who operates a printing plant at 75 Union st., stated that his establishment had been in existence long before the zoning law for the district had been adopted.

H. W. Lundstrom of Sumner st., Newton Centre, also spoke in favor of the petition. Sidney Von Loesche, president of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, speaking on behalf of the association, opposed the petition on the grounds that if the use of the property had been illegal it should not be allowed to continue.

At a hearing on the matter by the Claims and Rules committee held during recess, the petitioner stated that he was asking permission to continue what he had been doing for the past 8 years. He said he had occupied only 500 square feet in 1938 but had expanded the space to meet the increasing demands by the government for his product.

An application of Nera M. Bartevian to change a single dwelling at 602 Centre st., Newton, to a two family dwelling was rejected by the board following a hearing. Chairman Henderson inches reported that a petition had been signed by nineteen neighbors who were opposed to the change, some of whom had appeared at the hearing.

Vice-President Joseph Jamieson, presided at the meeting in the absence of the President, Charles B. Floyd, and announced that the next meeting of the board will be on July 19.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"The Lord is our judge, the Lord is our king; he will save us." These words from Isaiah 33:22 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 4, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "God." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward: Not that we are sufficient of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God; Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit; for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Corinthians 3:4-6, 17).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "God made man free... Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. Love and Truth make free, but evil and error lead into captivity. Christian Science raises the standard of liberty and cries: 'Follow me!'... Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty' of the children of God, and be free! This is your divine right" (p. 227).

Listen to Morgenthau-Marshall Tell Power of Payroll Savings!

Washington, D. C.—How important is the average worker's war bond purchases out of his pay every payday in the grand strategy of the Allied High Command? Does the extent of his or her War Bond allotment have a part in determining when, where and the strength of our military blows?

Any worker listening in on a recent conversation between General George C. Marshall, President Roosevelt's Chief of Staff, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., learned the answers to these questions.

Said General Marshall: "Mr. Secretary, I want you to answer a question for me and to answer it with complete frankness. Can we military leaders plan to fight this war in an orderly way—the surest and most effective manner—must we take extraordinary risks for fear the money will not hold out?"

Replied Secretary Morgenthau: "General, the American public will take care of that. What they have done in the Second War Loan drive—the money they have produced and the spirit they have shown—is proof enough for me that they will not let our fighters suffer from lack of support until we achieve complete victory, no matter how long that may be nor how much it may cost."

Up your War Bond allotment out of your wages today. Figure it out for yourself how much above 10 per cent it should be.

THE CAMBRIDGE SUMMER THEATRE

Dorothy Mackaill, one of the late Flo Ziegfeld's glamorous beauties and lovely movie star, will make a personal appearance at Brattle Hall next week when the presents the hilarious comedy, "Personal Appearance." Written by Lawrence Riley, this laugh hit, a smash success on Broadway a few seasons ago, deals with the amorous adventures of a movie star, forced by circumstances to stay overnight at a small farm in the wilds of Pennsylvania. The presence of this glamorous lady in their midst is nearly too much for the local residents and presents many an amusing situation.

Born in England, Dorothy Mackaill, a personal discovery of the great Ziegfeld, came to this country to appear in the Follies. Going direct to Hollywood after a season on the New York Stage, she was starred in many famous movies. Among these were "Subway Sadie," "Shore Leave" with Richard Barthelmess, "The Barker" with Milton Sills and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and many others.

Featured with Miss Mackaill in the forthcoming "Personal Appearance" will be Jeanne Cagney, Jimmy's little sister. Others of the Cambridge group to be seen include Robert Perry, Richard Hart, Louise Valery, and Allan Tower. Mr. Perry has directed and the settings are by Andrew Mack.

For the remainder of this week, Leatrice Joy Gilbert, the lovely daughter of Leatrice Joy and the late John Gilbert, both great movie figures, is being seen in the John Van Druten comedy, "Old Acquaintance." Supporting Miss Gilbert are Ann Dore, Ruth Hermansen and William Mendrek, Ada Roston and Elizabeth Richlin. There will be a matinee Saturday of this delightful comedy.

West Newton

—George C. Sweeney, Jr., son of Robert C. Sweeney, of 12 Valentine st., was an honor graduate at the recent commencement exercises of Phillips Academy, Andover. He was graduated cum laude and received special mention for distinguished scholarship during his senior year, having won the Matthew S. McCord senior mathematics prize. He will enter Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

—At a recent meeting of the Boston camp of Gideons held at their quarters on Boylston st., Boston, Mr. Karl P. Ricker of 51 Hillside ave., was elected secretary.

Auburndale

Complex Stomachs

Complex stomachs enable cattle, sheep and other ruminants to get all their protein needs from the commonest cereal and legume feeds. Animals with simple stomachs, such as hogs and chickens, cannot use any but the high quality protein feed-stuffs, and in addition must have a certain minimum amount of animal protein feed.

Pasteurization of Cream Preserves Butter Flavor

Many farm people, making butter for home use for the first time in many years, inquire for information about how to keep butter from developing a rancid flavor. According to Forrest C. Button, professor of dairy manufactures, the answer to this question is pasteurization of the cream.

"The heat of pasteurization makes inactive the raw cream enzyme, which causes deterioration of the fat," Professor Button explains. "Pasteurization is a simple procedure: Just put the cream into a can or pail; place this container in a large kettle, boiler or other suitable container partly filled with water; place this on the stove and bring the cream to a temperature of 145 to 150 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes. A shorter method is to heat the cream for 15 to 170 degrees for 10 or 15 minutes, but the 30-minute method is the standard procedure. The cream should be stirred while being heated to facilitate heating."

When the pasteurization process is completed, Professor Button says that the cream should be cooled to 50 degrees Fahrenheit or lower and held at this temperature for at least three hours before churning in order to insure firm butter granules.

"For the sake of convenience," he says, "the cream may be held cold overnight. But if the butter is to be churned as soon after the three-hour period as possible, it may be cooled quickly by stirring it and running cold water into the kettle or by setting the cream can into the milk cooling tank which is available on most dairy farms. The desirability of using a dairy thermometer in heating and cooling the cream is obvious."

Layer of Ashes and Air From Pit Preserve Grates

Grates are put into furnaces for two purposes—to hold the fuel bed and to admit air.

Furnace manufacturers make these grates out of very high-grade alloyed iron and as heavy as possible, to prevent their warping and burning. In spite of this, many sets of grates are replaced each year. In every case this is the result of abuse by improper firing.

The remedy is simple: Keep a layer of ashes on top of the grates and keep the ash-pit clean. The ashes on the grate prevent their contact with the hot coals. The air flowing through the grates helps to keep them from becoming overheated. Scientific tests have shown that loose ashes have very little resistance to air flow. Therefore, four to six inches of ashes on the grates will not cut the draft appreciably. Do not shake the grates violently and never dump the grates until you want to clean the furnace out for the summer. A full ash-pit in contact with the grates, prevents the proper circulation of air and causes the grates to become overheated.

English Regency

English Regency covered that period from 1811 to 1820, when George IV acted as regent for the insane George III. The Regency styles grew out of those we familiarly know as Georgian but they were strongly influenced by the Empire styles of France, reflecting the revival of interest in Roman, Egyptian and Greek architecture and design. Hence its chairs are rather robust versions of Directoire and Empire chairs, the cupboards and cabinets often have metal grills in place of glass in the doors. The most familiar woods were mahogany and rosewood, while black lacquered finish lined with gold was also popular.

Restore Old Shrubs

Any old shrubs can be rejuvenated. In the case of hedges, it is best to cut them within a few inches of the ground in the early spring before the new growth starts. Then as the hedge grows up, shear it about every six inches to make it bushy and compact. If they are individual shrubs, they can be rejuvenated by removing a third of the oldest wood each year, cutting it off to the ground. As the new suckers come up, it is well to pinch off the tips, and in each case, if the shrub has grown a foot. This will develop more side branches and prevent the long slender unbranched shoots that you will get otherwise.

Governors Up in Air

Five governors gained an insight to aerial warfare through service during World War I in the army or navy war forces. Governors Spessard Holland of Florida, Dwight Green of Illinois, Sumner Sewall of Maine and Herbert B. Maw of Utah were army fliers; Gov. Andrew Schoepf of Kansas enlisted in the naval reserve flying force in 1918, serving four years. Governor Holland brought down two enemy planes, was shot down once himself, and received the Distinguished Service Cross.

PROCTOR-HOLBROOK

Announcement has been made by Maj. Donald Holbrook of Newton and Mrs. Roland Wingate of Asheville, N. C., of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Katherine Holbrook to Sgt. John A. Proctor, Jr., U.S.A.A.F., son of Lt.-Col. John A. Proctor of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Eleanor Bingham Proctor of Brookline. The wedding was performed Friday, June 18, by Rev. Lester W. Wallace in the Shore Road Baptist Church at Ogunquit, Maine, where the bridegroom's mother has a summer home.

Carrying a bouquet of gardenias and sweet peas, the bride wore a gown of white sheer wool with a coronet of gardenias in her hair. Due to the fact that Maj. Holbrook is stationed in Wichita, Kan. and was unable to be present, the bride was given in marriage by her grandmother, Mrs. Walter H. Holbrook, of Boston, who entertained for the bridal group and guests at a supper after the ceremony. The bride was escorted by Lt. Howard Sumner Macdonald, USNR, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Mrs. Charles E. Lauriat, of Boston, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown with a bouquet of white snapdragons and pink roses. Lt.-Col. Proctor was the best man for his son, who has just returned from two years' foreign service.

Mrs. Proctor graduated from Dana Hall School and Russell Sage College. She has been teaching in the Physical Education department at the University of Texas. Sgt. Proctor attended Belmont High School and Admiral Farragut Naval Academy. Following a short wedding trip Sgt. and Mrs. Proctor will live at 90 Commonwealth ave., Boston, until Sgt. Proctor receives further orders.

EDMONSTON-TAYLOR

Happy to announce their recent marriage are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edmonston of Newton and Lawrence, respectively. The ceremony which was a double ring, double wedding ceremony, took place before a small group of their many friends in the Presbyterian Church, Spokane, Washington, on June 5.

The bride is the former Miss Elizabeth Allyn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Taylor, of Lawrence. She was attending the Massachusetts School of Art, with her husband-to-be, when the war broke out. She now resides in Spokane with another bride, the former Miss Mary Stauffer, who became the wife of Seaman Second Class Jack Hart of Cozad, Nebraska, at the same ceremony.

Mr. Edmonston has always resided in Newton. He is a graduate of the National Honor Society, and had completed two years at the Massachusetts School of Art before his enlistment in November. He was employed at the Newton Hospital at this time.

He is now attending radio school at the naval training station in Farragut, Idaho, and will be eligible for further training as an aviation radioman or for active duty with the fleet.

chose aqua crepe and lace with a corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Doherty was gowning in blue chiffon with gardenias.

Lt. Peter Joseph Doherty, U.S.A., was the best man for his brother and the ushers were Ensign William Doonan and Ensign Robert Church of the Navy Air Corps. Lt. Robert Doherty and Lt. David Kraft of Alvernia School, Our Lady's School and Burdett College. The groom graduated from Boston College and attended Boston College Graduate School. Following a wedding trip to Harwichport, Ensign and Mrs. Doherty will leave for Pensacola, Fla., where he will resume his duties as a naval aviation instructor.

ANNOUNCE PROMOTION OF COL. WARREN J. CLEAR

The promotion of Col. Warren J. Clear to the rank of full colonel has been announced by the War Department.

Col. Clear, who is now residing at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club in Monterey, California, is a former resident of Newton and son of Mr. James Clear of Hovey st.

He was retired from active duty prior to the present war but was called back into service because of his extensive knowledge of Japan. He has successfully completed several dangerous missions in the Far East and was on Corridor shortly before it fell. He is now a member of the War department general staff and has been assigned to the West Coast.

KILL CRAB GRASS

WITHOUT DESTROYING Lawn Grass

ZOTOX... an amazing new chemical discovery kills the plant and seeds of Crab Grass and checks reinfestation. Does not destroy lawn grasses, and is non-poisonous to soil. Proved by 4 years of tests. This new easy method does away with laborious raking and weeding. Simply mix ZOTOX with water and spray it on. A 16-oz. bottle makes 10 gallons and treats 2000 sq. ft. For "spot" treatment of small patches it goes farther. Prices 8 oz. bottle, $1.00; 16 oz. bottle, $1.50; 32 oz. bottle, $2.50; 5 lb. can, $4.50. Ask for free literature.

Men In Service

Sherman J. Crough, who is stationed at Camp Edwards, has been made a Corporal and has been accepted for Officers' Candidate School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Crough of 181 Pleasant st., Newton Centre. Corporal Crough graduated two years ago from the Newton High School and had just completed his sophomore year at Dartmouth upon his enlistment in the Army in December.

William E. Worcester, Jr., 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Worcester, 640 Watertown st., Newtonville, were the gold bars of a second lieutenant after the Medical Administrative Corps officer candidate school graduation here.

He received his B.S. at the University of Vermont in 1936.

James R. Doherty, 25, son of Mr. Peter F. Doherty of 2 Barnes rd., Newton, won his Navy "Wings of Gold" and was commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve this week following completion of the prescribed flight training course at the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla.

Prior to entering the Naval service, Ensign Doherty received his A.B. degree from Boston College.

Having been designated a Naval Aviator, he will go on active duty at one of the Navy's air operational training centers before being assigned to a combat zone.

Nine youths from Newton have reported to the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Alabama, from the Nashville Army Air Center (AAFCC) Nashville, Tennessee, to begin the second phase of their training as pilots in the U. S. Army Air Forces' expanding program.

These men are: Aviation Cadets Samuel B. Brown, 544 Ward st.; Gilbert C. Burns, Jr., 28 Daniel st.; Richard G. Buswell, 321 Kenrick st.; Douglas C. Graves, 162 Morton st.; William C. Hurter, 229 Austin st.; Donald L. Hyatt, 1380 Walnut st.; Lionel E. LaRochelle, 54 Oakwood rd.; Charles A. Spettel, 151 Woodcliff rd.; and John J. Trumble, 6 Lowell ave.

First Lieutenant Donald E. Bowen, son of Mr. Robert S. Bowen, 42 Parsons st., West Newton, has been assigned to the Medical Detachment of the Newark Army Air Base.

Receiving his commission in June, 1942, he attended Medical Schools at Carlisle, Pa., and Randolph Field, Texas.

Lt. Bowen was graduated from Tufts Medical College in 1939, with the B.S. and M.D. degrees. A physician in West Newton before entering the service, he is a member of the Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Aero Medical Societies.

Lt. Bowen's wife, the former Margaret E. Schrader, lives in West Newton. His brother, John, is a storekeeper 2nd class with the U. S. Coast Guard.

The promotion of George B. Walker from the rank of private, first class, to corporal has been announced by Brig. Gen. Olin H. Longino, commanding general of the Antiaircraft Training Center in Fort Sheridan, Ill. He is attached to one of the units in the AAATC. His home is at 33 Masson rd., Newton Centre, Mass.

Thomas W. Silliker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Silliker of Newton, today was wearing the stripes of a Technician 5th Grade, after his promotion at the New Orleans Army Air Base.

Corporal Silliker is a graduate of the Newton High School and attended Boston University for two years before entering the Army.

Post Headquarters announced the promotion on June 24 of Cpl. Philip E. Boudrot of 263 Pearl st., Newton, Mass., to the grade of Sergeant at Camp Stewart, Ga.

He was advanced to his new rank on the recommendation of his battery commander. His promotion was based on his attention to duty and his soldierly qualities. Prior to his induction, Dec. 23, 1942, he was an electrician. He now is a Communication Chief in an antiaircraft unit here.

Harold A. Jennings, 234 Church st., Newton, aviation radio technician second class in the Naval Reserve, has been transferred to a Navy blimp squadron after completing a three-months' course in the Naval Training School (Lighter-than-air) in Lakehurst, N. J., at the Naval Air Station, famous lighter-than-air base.

Capt. James A. Feeley, Jr., of 111 Brookline st., Newton Centre, has been promoted to the rank of Major in the U. S. Marine Corps according to an announcement made by the Navy Department.

Major Feeley is 27 years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Feeley who are at their summer home in Duxbury. He entered the service following his graduation from Dartmouth College.

Richard Paige Smith of 89 Larchmont ave., Waban, Mass., is now a Pre-Aviation Cadet at the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command's Basic Training Center (No. 5), Kearns, Utah, it is announced by Col. Converse R. Lewis, Post Commander. Pvt. Smith attended Newton High School. Prior to his enlistment for aviation cadet training Pvt. Smith was a student at the Amherst College, Amherst, Mass. Cadet Smith is the son of Mr. Harold P. Smith of the same address.

Women In Service

Miss Anna L. Coletti of 20 Murphy court and Miss Josephine A. Salvucci of 5 Clinton st., were among the 66 WAVE recruits who left the South Station Tuesday to begin indoctrination courses at Hunter College in New York.

McDONNELL—MacQUIRK

The Church of Our Lady, Newton, was decorated with white roses for the marriage of Miss Julia E. MacQuirk and Horace J. McDonnell which was performed by Rev. Daniel F. Riordan on Saturday, June 26. The ten o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the Myles Standish Hotel, Boston.

The bride's white net gown was fashioned with a basque bodice of silk lace, a sweetheart neckline, long lace sleeves and a bouffant skirt and train. Her tulle veil fell from an orange blossom tiara, backed with silk illusion and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and baby's breath. She was given in marriage by Mr. Henry W. Mueller and was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude A. MacQuirk of Newton, who wore bright blue chiffon and carried pale pink roses and larkspur. Alfred McDonnell was the best man for his brother and the ushers were Henry Mueller of Wollaston and Gayland Regan of Watertown.

The bride who attended Boston University is a former president of the Dwyer Choral Ensemble of Boston, a member of the Proprietary Club and the Xavier Guild. Mr. McDonnell, who is also active in musical circles, attended Northeastern University. After July 12, when they return from a trip to New York and Woodstock, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell will live in Newtonville.

NEWTON SCHOOL WORKERS

Newton youth recruited for local Massachusetts and Vermont farms by the High School Placement Office includes Robert Bickelstaffe, Newton, and Eugene Dunne, Chestnut Hill, Look-out Farm, South Natick. Frank Had-den, Jr., and Calvin Scovel, Jr., of West Newton, at a Newton estate; David Kidger, Newtonville, to a Pepperell, Mass., dairy farm; Robert Lindquist, Newtonville, to Greensboro, Vt.; William Hundley, West Newton, to an Eden, Vermont, dairy farm; Rodney Eaton, Jr., Newtonville, to Lexington; Robert Polley, Newton Highlands, to Dorset, Vermont.

Massachusetts Farm Volunteer badges and insignia have been awarded to the youths working on Massachusetts farms. In addition to full-time farm placements, the office has had over 200 calls for boys to work on lawn and gardening jobs in the Newtons, resulting in over 50 placements.

The Newton School Department has provided for the Employment Office to be open daily during July and August, Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 5:00, to serve employers and boys and girls from 14 years for all types of junior employment. The school is prepared to recommend boys and girls as gardeners, mothers' helpers, clerks for stores, offices, and workers for summer camps and hotels.

AUBURNDALE MISSIONARY JAP PRISONER

Official word has just been received from Washington by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Boston, stating that 5 of its Congregational missionaries in the Philippine Islands have been placed by the Japanese in the Baguio internment camp at Baguio, Luzon Island.

One of the five is Rev. Darley Downs, husband of Mrs. Lucille J. Downs of 144 Hancock st., Auburndale, Mass., and son of Mrs. A. O. Downs, Emporia, Kansas.

Mr. Downs' last address in the Philippines was at Manila. He is the father of Portia and Ray Downs who are in Auburndale with their mother, and Jerry Downs who is now in Boulder, Colorado.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

The guest speaker of the Newton Rotary Club at their regular luncheon meeting Monday, June 28, was Dr. Kendrick Grobel. Dr. Grobel is a graduate of the University of Heidelberg and is at present waiting for permission to go to Lisbon, Portugal, where he will do executive work for the Unitarian Service Committee. Dr. Grobel cited many interesting cases of aid that had been rendered to victims of war and stated that there were thousands of political refugees in Spain. "One point is clear in this turmoil," said Dr. Grobel, "and that is privilege is obligation and that America must help people who are to be helped." He praised the American Red Cross for the wonderful work they are doing with war casualties, but added that they must be assisted by such organizations as the Unitarian Service Committee. Dr. Grobel was introduced by the son of our former Rotarian Robinson—David Robinson, who is a theological student.

Among other guests in attendance were Jack Walsh from Waltham, Louis Bachrach of Boston, and Ray, Jr., and John Eusden, sons of the Rev. Ray A. Eusden, both boys leaving very soon for military duties.

NEWTON LIONS CLUB

At the Annual Meeting of the Newton Lions Club, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, David A. Buxbaum; 1st vice president, Asa D. Blakeslee; 2nd vice president, Richard M. Fennelly; 3rd vice president, Raymond E. Gorman; Secretary, Edward J. Day; Tail Twister, Philip J. McHugh; Lion Tamer, John W. Tappan; Directors for two years, John P. Cushman, J. Frank Dunleavy; Directors for one year, Hazen E. Edgar, Austin W. Flint.

The speaker of the evening was Frank Ross, well known Boston Realtor, a past president of the Massachusetts Association of Real Estate Boards and a member of the Boston Host Lions Club. Lion Ross spoke interestingly on "What the United States has done since the War," a subject of vital interest to all.

Among those guests present were Clifford Champlin and William Wragg, treasurers of the West Newton Savings Bank and the Newton Centre Savings Bank, William Payne, Cashier of Newton National Bank and the Secretary of Kiwanis, and Arnold E. Worth, Assistant Treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank. Also present was an old friend and his wife, Larry Slater of Lins Center, Chicago, and Mrs. Slater who were especially welcome as it was "Larry" who organized the Club.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

Exalted Ruler Carl L. Eschelbach presided at the meeting of Newton Lodge of Elks on Thursday evening when six new members were admitted to the lodge. They are James G. Chandler, George R. Vachon, James A. Chambers, John J. Darcey and Charles B. Burgess.

Letters were read from Joseph W. Cheverley who has returned to the Aberdeen Proving ground after spending a furlough at his home, and from Edward F. Dalton who has left the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington to return to duty at the Army Base in Maxton, N. C.

It was announced that Secretary Thomas F. Coppinger had been elected secretary-treasurer, and Past Exalted Ruler David Greer elected vice-president of the State Elks Association at the convention held in Swampscott, R. John Henderson, leading knight, is to spend his vacation at Camden, Maine.

The social and community welfare committee of which Leading Knight John J. Keefe is chairman, has turned two $1,000 bonds over to the trustees.

ROUND-TABLE DISCUSSION, 'ROUND ROUNDWOOD ROAD

Nesting just south of the Worcester Turnpike at Upper Falls are some 60 modern houses all built since 1937, fronting on Boylston st. and five other roadways, Tamarac, Hickory Cliff, White Pine, Roundwood, and Hemlock—suggestive of Robin Hood, his merry men and forest. This 20-acre development "In the Sticks" six years ago now is one of the most attractive spots in the Garden City. Last week Thursday night a group of male members of this hill of pleasant panorama, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Field of White Pine rd. to talk of future improvements, and incidentally politics, not skipping the importance of Precinct one, Ward 5, in the city elections this Fall and of course pre-election effort. There was some discussion relative to drains, and care of roadways which are now private ways, and a committee was appointed to gather data.

FAREWELL DINNER

John E. Finnegan, General Sales Manager of Gooderham & Worts Ltd., reported for active duty on June 28 as a Lieutenant (jg) in the United States Naval Reserve. Mr. Finnegan has been with the Company since 1934. A farewell dinner in his honor was held in the English room of the Statler Hotel in Detroit on Friday evening, June 18. G & W district managers and home office officials, were in attendance.

This WEEK, This WORLD

—by Ted Friend—

THE LIQUIDATION of the Comintern by the Soviets will not eradicate Communist pressure in the democratic world. For one thing, the Comintern, possibly by Stalinist design, has been ineffectual in recent years. For another, Communist activity, it has long been proved, prospers on local conditions favorable to its growth rather than on external support.

The enthusiasm with which the American Communist Party endorsed the Soviet dowsing of the Comintern, from which it had resigned its voluntarily some three years ago, emphasizes the welcome freedom-of-action which the Soviet act bestows upon its fellow ideologists. But if American Communists see in the demise of the Comintern promise of greater growth, non-Communists have reason to be pleased because the simplification of issues makes the hemming in of American Communism a certainty. Most helpful in the opposition to Communism, ironically, will be the fact that native Fascists will no longer be able to use the Communist bogey to cover up their own ulterior motives. In logical sequence Fascist growth will also be limited.

Needed in the fight against Communism, as a political and economic philosophy, is a deeper understanding of the forces which work in its behalf. There is no surer way of preventing Communist inroads, and for that matter Fascist inroads, than to eliminate the elements which contribute to its growth.

It is important to understand that Communism is an effect that springs from a basic cause. Tragically, the basic cause in the United States is un-Americanism, with its rugged individualism, its lack of regard for the common welfare, and its concessions to intolerance, repression and poverty.

On the other hand Fascism must be accepted as a political racket based on a will to money and power.

Both Communism and Fascism in the United States have each, though in varying degrees and in different forms, fed upon the effusions of the Nyes, Dies, Reynolds, Pattersons, McCormicks, Lindberghs, Coughlins, Daniels, and other old line reactionaries.

BEG IT, or borrow it... but READ IT! "United States Foreign Policy: Shield of the Republic" by Walter Lippman (Little, Brown & Co.). A searching analysis by one of the country's great thinkers and journalists. Should be in the library of every American who aspires to have a comprehensive understanding of the forces which place the United States among the forefront of the great nations of the earth.

IT CANNOT BE repeated too often that German deceit will come to the fore with increasing regularity as the certainty of defeat makes itself felt upon the official mind.

When Prime Minister Churchill, in his speech before Congress said: "The Hun is either at one's throat or at one's feet," he indicated a knowledge of German psychology which presages well for the United Nations in the peace days to come.

By every proof of history the Germans have proved themselves first bullies then cowards. In their treatment of smaller and weaker peoples they have been guilty of barbarous cruelty. In the face of their equals or superiors they have whined and cowered. It is to be expected that when hard days come again that they will endeavor to evade the wrath of justice. To this end they will appeal to the softer instincts of their enemies. They will impose every indignity upon themselves which they can devise if but it will lessen the impact of the punishment that is allotted to them.

Even more important is what may be expected to develop, behind German scenes, in the wake of the war and after memories of the Nazi terror somewhat fades. Obviously elaborate schemes will be laid, much in the manner of what followed the first World War, which will set up new ideologies, establish new prejudices, and create new secret armies. Inflation, bankruptcy and collapse will all be used to impress the outside world of their helplessness. Finally new moves to split their opponents will be contrived by playing one against the other and the splitting process will include the organizing and subsidizing of subversive agents in foreign fields. There will be new leaders, new names, new uniforms, and new catchwords, but the driving force will be emanated from the same basic feudal sources.

Not until the German Junker class, which includes the aristocracy, the great land owners and the industrialists, are wiped from the face of the earth, will the world be able to settle back to a reasonably secure peace.

CRACKPOT DEPARTMENT

In the name of our chief, Hitler we find... the first articulate syllable stuttered by primitive man, the sound "H-d," an expression signifying "protection" or "elevation." The same sound occurs in ancient German words like "hut," "Huette" and "Hild." Adolf, the Leader's first name, is composed of "ath" (divine or spiritual act) and "uolfa" (creator)"—E. Schmidt-Falk, in Voelkischer Beobachter.

STORY OF THE WEEK: "After having requisitioned all foodstuffs in a small French village, a Nazi officer addressed the assembled villagers explaining the importance of the increased working hours imposed. From out of the crowd an old peasant stepped forth and said with a deep bow: 'Monsieur, I'd consider it a great honor to work for you day and night.'

Pleased, the officer dismissed the crowd, summoned the Mayor of the town, said to him, 'Who was the sensible man?'

"Monsieur," the Mayor replied, 'that was our town grave digger!'

QUOTE OF THE MONTH CLUB: As early as 1917, Thorstein Veblen, probably the greatest American social thinker, said of Japan and Germany: "These two national establishments are very much alike. So much so that for the present purpose a single line of analysis will passably cover both cases."

Newton Graphic, June 29, 1888

Mr. W. B. Brown of Newtonville has 30 varieties of roses in bloom in his garden, presenting a very handsome display.

The closing exercises of the West Newton English and classical school culminated in a lawn party upon the estate of Mr. Nathaniel T. Allen, Cherry st., West Newton. The grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and music was rendered by an orchestra. There was a large audience of pupils and guests. During the evening a collation was served.

The stagings have all been removed from the interior of the Baptist Church, Newton Centre, giving an opportunity to admire the uniqueness of its finish.

Mason Hall, Newton Centre, was filled on Monday afternoon by the friends of the pupils, who came to see the graduating exercises of the ninth class. Thirty-seven graduated, an unusually large number, and the program was certainly the best ever given in that school.

Newton Graphic, June 30, 1893

Rev. H. C. Mayer, who was the rector of Grace Church, Newton, over 20 years ago, is expected to preach in Newton the coming Sunday morning and evening.

Mayor Fenno's speech to the graduating class on Tuesday morning was a felicitous one and all the more appreciated since it is five years since the Mayor of Newton has graced similar occasions with his presence. Evidently Mayor Fenno means to do his duty in every department of the city's interest, as far as able. After the class, a large one of 99, had received their diplomas from the Mayor's hands, the floral tributes tendered by admiring friends, made the platform a bower of beauty and fragrance, and the "spread" which followed added to the physical comfort of the fair maidens and gay youths who had borne the trying ordeal of the morning so well.

The new pastor of the Newtonville M. E. Church is the Rev. Charles Raymond Ross, Ph.D.

The week beginning today has been designated as Loyalty week. The best test of your loyalty to the principles for which our boys are fighting in France is to support them financially. Buy War Savings Stamps and pledge your "spread" which follow them each week during the war. Cut down your use of sugar, beef, pork and fats for these articles are a necessity across the water, and we can use something in their places here.

A number of causes have cumulated to make our sugar position more difficult than we could have anticipated at the beginning of the year. The supply of 1,600,000 tons necessitates a considerable reduction in our consumption. To provide three pounds of sugar per month per person for household use, to take care of our army and navy and to provide for the necessary preservation of fruit, milk, etc., will require about 1,500,000 tons of sugar for the six months.

Roosevelt Veto Overridden

The full significance of the overriding by Congress of the Presidential veto to the anti-strike bill is just beginning to dawn on many of us. It reveals, among other things, the new temper of Congress, which has been stung to the quick by the constant blasting it has received from the press, the radio commentators and plain, ordinary citizens. It reveals a falling off of Roosevelt prestige, even in his own party and even in strictly New Deal circles. Of course, the most unfortunate aspect of the entire situation is the effect which the overriding of this veto will, presumably, have on Mr. Roosevelt's influence abroad. Our President is at long last beginning to pay the price for apparently devoting nine-tenths of his time and energy toward the prosecution of the war and the time to devote to domestic matters slided or, at best, giving them only limited and superficial attention. That is bad policy and the home front is suffering markedly. If it continues, the war effort will also suffer.

As an example of what I mean, consider the current situation in Washington, where Vice-President Wallace, a rather unpopular figure, is now blasting Jesse H. Jones, secretary of commerce for stalling and obstructing the proper prosecution of the war. That makes bad reading. So did the feuds between Rubber Director Jeffers and Undersecretary of War Patterson and Patterson and Donald M. Nelson. To top it off, we now have the resignation of Chester C. Davis, due to important differences with the White House over the problem of food administration. Not a pretty picture, is it? Where lies the blame? Presumably on the doorstep of the White House, where a very busy and harassed man is devoting the bulk of his time to world-wide affairs. Is that really necessary or is it a case of the President's own preference, because he is happiest in doing big things in a big way over as wide a territory as possible? I wonder. The point now is this. We are headed for serious trouble on the home front UNLESS Mr. Roosevelt changes direction and pace and forces himself to turn his most earnest attention to straightening out some of our worst domestic messes. And I mean messes.

Timidity and the Cocoon Groove

Many of my readers must share my puzzlement over the curious happenings in Suffolk County during the past few weeks. A mistrial for the Grove defendants and a second indictment of Police Commissioner Joe Timilty by the same grand jury which turned out the original indictment, which was quashed later on. As an ordinary layman, I am frankly puzzled. I had assumed that the same grand jury could not properly stand down another indictment on substantially the same evidence. If that is true, Bob Bushnell must certainly be aware of the fact. Is the attorney general playing some very deep, mysterious game? What is the game? One thing I do know and that is this: Bob Bushnell left some bad scars within the G.O.P. when he allowed the grand jury to "invite" the Governor to appear before it many weeks ago. There are many astute observers who state frankly that the move was directed by Bushnell personally for a number of reasons, some quite innocent and proper and others neither so innocent nor proper. I have never discussed that proposition and I do not propose to discuss it now. All I do know is that it will be a long, long time before SOME of his Government's staunchest friends and supporters will forgive Bushnell for what they THINK he did to the Governor.

The Boston police are out of luck regardless of what happens next. Think what people in other big cities and towns must be thinking about us. Where there is much smoke, etc. For the sake of the community as well as the police, I hope the whole mess is cleaned up once and for all.

Before leaving this general topic, it is worth noting that our own Governor, Leverett Saltonstall, was signally honored recently by being elected chairman of the conference of United States Governors for the ensuing year. Hearty congratulations, Governor.

The Ladies Do Bob Up

That versatile and irrepressible Congresswoman, Clare Booth Luce of Connecticut, has gone and done it again. This time she is reported in a syndicated column as a candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1944 and also as a candidate for a place on the national ticket in 1948. Nothing timid about that lady. She knows what she wants and she is going after it pronto. As a matter of fact, any gentleman whose chooses to get in her glamorous way will find the going very, very rocky and tough. Of course, even Clare Booth Luce MIGHT make a bad slip somewhere along this line and fall down flat on her lovely face, but I wouldn't want to place any bets on it.

Senator Lodge

For the second time within a few days, our Junior Senator gets the spotlight. This time Bill Cunningham of the Herald gives him a whole column in the Sunday edition on account of his widely advertised address in the U. S. Senate. All I wish to say here is that I read Bill's effusion with extreme

WASHINGTON

By Ray Johnson and Walter Pierce

WASHINGTON — In its issue of March, 1943, the Nazi-controlled French language magazine "Dimanche Illustré" reports that "normal life has been resumed" in the German-occupied capital of Poland. Following is an excerpt from reliable underground report that gives a stark, factual account of life in Warsaw in May, 1943, shortly before the open armed struggle against the Nazis in that city's ghetto, which culminated in the extermination of thousands of non-Aryan and other unfortunate Polish families:

Misery, hunger, cold and complete lack of hygienic conditions in Warsaw resulted in indescribable suffering. In the houses inhabited by the poorest people the percentage of deaths was staggering.

Thus, in a certain house on X Street, where 600 persons had lived, 230 died by the end of 1941. In another house on the same street, 260 out of 570 inhabitants died. Another building on the same misery-ridden street, where 794 people, 450 of them died, 200 in the course of three months. The record was set by a certain house on T Street, which had sheltered 400 persons. In this house there were 400 deaths.

The dying out of entire families in these "special" houses of death was a frequent occurrence. Every member of the ten families which lived in house Z... on X Street died. In another house in a neighboring street, fifteen families died. In yet another house, twenty families. Many of these families had four or more members.

There have been cases where entire families froze to death. Thus, on the morning of February 4, 1942, a father put the corpse of his frozen son out on the street. Several hours later neighbors found the man dead behind a shed. He had fought desperately, had torn out the boards of the floor and had burnt them in a effort to keep his family warm for a while, but they all succumbed before long.

This, to our enemies, is "normal life." Think it over!

Three years ago this month, Italians were cheering Mussolini and his promise of an early victory. President Roosevelt, in a prepared speech to the world said that "the hand that held the dagger had struck it into the back of its neighbor." The American people then woke up to the sober realization that events beyond their control were dragging them toward war. And from then on their determination to somehow redress the wrong steadily grew.

Today retribution is knocking at Italy's door. There are crowds in Rome, but not cheering ones. They are mostly refugees who fled into the Eternal City. They are living in tents. In industrial centers, so many houses and factories have been destroyed that the men are being housed in emergency barracks. It is impossible to buy even a pane of glass in the whole of Italy. Special Commissioners for refugees have been given specific powers to prevent further mass evacuation of panic stricken areas. So many Italians are crowded areas. Soon Italians will have no where to be safe from the doom that is raining from the Italian sky. And soon Italians must grate-that the dynamic Mr. Cunningham has taken some powerful swings at the self-same Mr. Lodge in days gone by. Has the noted columnist experienced a change of heart and, if so why? Frankly, I don't know. It seemed to me that Bill "damned with faint praise." Here are two of his sentences near the end of the column: "Its strength is its appeal for some practical planning; its weakness the fact that it merely states the case and doesn't offer a motion. The Lodge speech is neither hard-hitting nor specific, but its presentation of facts is novel in its theme is sound."

CARE AND INTEREST FOR THE REASON

Well, why take up a long Sunday column on the Lodge speech if that is the most that he can say for it? Is it, perchance, the beginning of a frantic attempt to rebuild the waning Lodge prestige? I wouldn't be surprised.

PLAYGROUND SEASON OPENS

The Playground season opened in Newton on Monday following a meeting of the staff of 50 men and women who gathered in the Aldermanic Chamber at City Hall where they were addressed by Mayor Paul M. Goddard; F. Ewing Wilson, Recreation Commissioner; and Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, chairman of the Playground Commission.

There are more than a score of playgrounds in the Newtons and four beaches. Allison Beach at Nonantum, which has been closed for several years, has been reopened, as no evidence of pollution has been found this year. The analysis of the water made by both the city and state departments of health.

Each of the playgrounds now have supervisory staffs and a staff of lifeguards will be at each of the four beaches.

Despite criticism of our war effort by Washington grey beards, never until this war did Americans perform such miracles of "planning and doing." Washington is getting accustomed to requests and performances of miracles before breakfast. And what is more fascinating is the promise of things to come. For example:

Research in electronics has made unbelievable progress. To the average person, electrons are contained in radio tubes. Some day, however, electronic devices will enable you to own reasonably priced, twoway "walkie-talkie" radio set such as the armed forces now use; electrons will kill germs in your house, open your garage door at the approach of your car and turn on your radio when an important news item is being released.

And this is but one of the many devices that will make life and "the pursuit of happiness" much more pleasant when this war is over. There's never been a shortage of human gumption

NEWTON CENTRE ARTIST SERIES

Plans are in progress for a series of Major Concert Events next fall and winter, to be sponsored by the Music Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and held in the Club Auditorium, corner of Beacon and Centre sts.

There will be three evening concerts, to be selected by the Committee. This is an unusual opportunity for Music Lovers of Newton to hear the world's finest artists, and to further the cultural life of their city.

Each membership will entitle subscriber to the entire series. Owing to limited seating capacity, subscriptions over the first 500 will be placed on the waiting list. Memberships will be filled in the order of their receipt.

July 10th is the final day for subscribing!
Mrs. P. Alan Hallworth is chairman of music committee.

AWARD FOR NEWTON RED CROSS

At a meeting at the Newton Red Cross Chapter House, Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the 1943 War Fund, was presented with a certificate of commendation from the National organization in recognition of the outstanding accomplishment of himself and his committee. The certificate reads, "Awarded to the Newton Chapter for distinguished achievement in the 1943 War Fund."

In accepting the honor, Mr. Floyd said that he wanted to say a word of appreciation about the work of the men and women who helped push the fund over the top. "Without their loyal support," he added, "the task of raising $117,590.77, representing contributions from 16,000 subscribers, could never have been accomplished."

The meeting, which also marked the first year in the new Chapter House, was presided over by Charles Raymond Cabot, chairman of Newton Red Cross, and was attended by leaders of the War Fund committee and the Corps chairmen. Included in the guests were Mrs. James Dunlop, secretary of the Chapter, George S. Fuller, treasurer, Thomas E. Shirley, chairman of Special Gifts, and Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, who was on the original Board of Directors when the Newton Chapter was founded 25 years ago. Punch and cookies were served by a Canteen Unit composed of Mrs. Oswald Getzfred, Miss Mary Furlong and Mrs. Philip Beach.

JUNIOR CANTEN TO WORK DURING SUMMER

Eight members of the Junior Canteen Corps, trained by Miss Gladys Davis, have volunteered for summer work at the Newton Chapter House Cafeteria and the Buddies Club in Boston. These are: Grace Ingalls and Doris Spindle of Auburndale, Nancy Hicks and Betty Tyler of West Newton, Louise Pelton of Newton, and Marilyn Quitt, Jane Sunderland and Shirley Shapiro of Newton Centre.

BUY WAR BONDS

Figure It Out Yourself. How can you effectively join in saving all the little children of the world from human slavery, death and injury from the Nazis and Japanese? Put more money every day. Your savings will go to war in the form of war equipment and other munitions. How much more should you put into war bonds? The only answer is: as much as you can. It's up to you to decide just how much more you'll do to win the war.

If you were fighting in the Solomons or in Africa or forcing a landing in Europe you'd like to feel that the folks at home were back of you—all the way—you'd be proud of your family and your friends if you knew they were buying war bonds not at 10 per cent or 15 per cent, but with every cent beyond that which they need for necessities.

DR. W. F. WESSELHOEFT

Funeral services for Dr. William F. Wesselhoeft were held at 4:45 Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, of 240 Chestnut Hill rd., Chestnut Hill. Rev. Whitney Hale, pastor of the Church of the Advent, Boston, officiated.

Dr. Wesselhoeft, a distinguished surgeon of Boston and Jaffrey, New Hampshire, died on Sunday, June 27, at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. He was in his 82nd year.

He attended Hopkinton School and Adams Academy. He received his A.B. in 1884 from Harvard Medical College and in 1887 received his degree in medicine from Harvard. He later took post graduate courses at the Rotunda in Dublin and in Vienna. He began his hospital career in surgery at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital, where he rose to chief surgeon and later became a trustee. He was also clinical professor of surgery at the Boston University School of Medicine.

He served during World War I as commanding officer of Base Hospital 44 in France with the rank of Lieutenant-colonel. While at Harvard he became a member of the D.K.E., Hasty Pudding and A. D. Clubs. He was also a member of the Boston Surgical Society and a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Since the death of his wife, the former Emily Bradley of Brattleboro, Vermont, in 1931, he had resided at the Charlesgate Hotel, Boston, and at his summer home in Jaffrey, New Hampshire.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Margaret Bigelow, Mrs. Susan Russell, Mrs. Alice W. Saltonstall, and Mrs. Emily Barron, also by 13 grandchildren, five great grandchildren, and a cousin Dr. Conrad Wesselhoeft of Boston.

CHARLES SWAIN THOMAS

Charles Swain Thomas, prominent citizen of Newton and leader in his profession throughout the United States, died at the Newton Hospital on June 26, 1943. He is survived by his wife, Charlotte Thornton Thomas, of 283 Highland ave., West Newton. Funeral services were conducted at the Second Church in Newton on Tuesday afternoon, June 29, with Reverend Boynton Merrill and Reverend Clyde Yarbrough officiating.

Mr. Thomas was a part of the life of Newton for thirty-five years, having come here as head of the Department of English in the Newton High School in 1908. He was born in Pendleton, Indiana, on December 29, 1868. In 1891 he graduated from the University of Indiana. In 1894, having taught school in Pendleton and in Bedford, Indiana, he returned to his alma mater as Instructor in English. In 1895 he received a Master's Degree. Coming to Harvard he received a second Bachelor's Degree in 1897, and then joined the faculty of Center College, Danville, Kentucky, as Professor of English.

His primary interest was young people and their study of literature. In 1901 he joined a notable faculty as head of the Department of English in Shortridge High School, Indianapolis. Serving there until 1908 he then accepted a similar post in Newton, and for ten years taught literature and the philosophy of life which he emphasized to successive generations of Newton High School pupils. In 1918 he followed Superintendent Spaulding to Cleveland, where he served as Director of English in the Public Schools for two years. In 1920 he was called back to New England, where he has since been a leader in the region's literary and educational activities.

From 1920 to 1925 he was a member of the editorial staff of the Atlantic Monthly Press. During the same years he served as Lecturer on the Teaching of English at the Harvard Graduate School of Education—a teaching position which became his main interest and to which he devoted all his time after 1925. In 1930 he was made Associate Professor of Education at Harvard, a position which he held until retirement in 1936. As Associate Professor Emeritus, he had again been called in University service. He taught at Harvard during the past year and had planned to teach there during the present summer.

Dr. Thomas—an honorary Litt. D.—was awarded him in 1933 by the Rhode Island College of Education — was the author of leading textbooks on the teaching of literature, the editor of anthologies and literary materials widely used in the nation's schools, and of outstanding books in the field of education. He was an influential member of the New England Association of Teachers of English—its president, its secretary, and for many years the Editor of its journal, the "English Leaflet." He was founder and for six years editor of the "Harvard Teachers Record," predecessor of the "Harvard Educational Review." He was president of the National Council of Teachers of English in 1934-35 and for many years a member of its Board of Directors. He had served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Harvard Teachers Association and was, at the time of his death, its Vice President. He was a frequent contributor to educational journals and speaker at professional meetings. He was widely known as "Dean" of the teachers of English.

In the activities of his home community Charles Swain Thomas was a respected leader. He had been for many years a member of the Tuesday Club, serving for the past four years as its President. He was an active member of the Second Church in Newton, serving recently on its board of trustees and committees. From 1936 to 1941 he was Moderator of the Second Church. At the time of his death he was a member of the Pilgrim Press Committee, and active in the publishing enterprise of the Congregational Church.

In 1938 his friends established in his honor at Harvard the Charles Swain Thomas Fund for the Teaching of English. In 1940 the Harvard Press issued a volume of essays written in tribute to him, to which leading educators and writers were contributors. The volume indicates the esteem in which he was held by members of his profession, and the loss to letters and to teaching occasioned by his death. Among his Newton friends and neighbors that sense of esteem and of deep loss is shared, and is intensified by knowledge of him as a gentleman kindly in spirit, wise in counsel, and stalwart in defense of good.

DELIA A. BRYSON

Miss Delia A. Bryson of 618 Centre st., Newton, died on Saturday, June 26, in her 78th year.

Miss Bryson was born in Newton and resided here during her lifetime. She is survived by a sister, Miss Anna Bryson of Newton, and two brothers, Thomas A. Bryson of Shirley and John B. Bryson of West Newton.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning from the Doherty Funeral Chapel, 327 Watertown st. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady at nine o'clock by Rev. Russell T. Haley, Rev. Charles Bryson of the Holy Name Church, West Roxbury, was seated in the sanctuary.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, with prayers by Fr. Bryson.

Army Conserves Brass by Making Steel Cartridges

A newly developed method, which makes possible the substitution of steel for brass cases in caliber 45 ammunition, has been announced by the war department. The manufacturing process, perfected by the Evansville Ordnance plant working in conjunction with the army's Frankford arsenal, advances the army's program for conservation of critical materials another step. A changeover from brass to steel for all types of fixed and semi-fixed artillery ammunition was completed the first of this year.

The saving in brass by the new process amounts to 1,774 pounds for each 100,000 rounds of ammunition. The new cartridges with steel cases have been tested and accepted by the using services. Large-scale production is already under way. All plants making caliber 45 ammunition will adopt the steel cartridge case.

Eight months ago the Evansville plant was close to a shutdown because of the acute brass shortage. Brass, which expands with the explosion of the powder charge and then contracts, permitting the extraction of the cartridge, had been universally used. The successful substitution of steel, removing a serious limitation on ammunition production, was accomplished in six months. In the same period the Frankford arsenal perfected a steel copper plated jacket for the caliber 45 bullet which resulted in a saving of 780 pounds of gilding metal for each 100,000 rounds.

Coldframes Can Lengthen Growing Season of Plants

Coldframes, in which young plants are started or placed while it is still too cold for them in the open, can lengthen the growing season by a month to six weeks. Coldframes protect the plants from cold winds and frost and concentrate the sun's heat to provide favorable growing conditions.

Spinach, lettuce, tender crops such as tomatoes, and similar vegetables are started in coldframes, which also are used to "harden off" plants from hot beds. When the weather is suitable in the open, the plants are transplanted to their permanent locations.

A coldframe should be located on the south side of the house or garage or in a sunny corner of the garden plot. The coldframe itself consists of a framework of board from 12 to 16 inches in height at the back or north side and 6 to 10 inches at the front or south side.

Window sashes are placed on the top, or, as a substitute for glass, muslin may be stretched on frames for this purpose. Flats are placed in coldframes after the seedlings have started in a sunny window, or seedlings can be lifted from flats and transplanted into pots or into beds in the coldframes.

Maggots Foe of Beans

Seed corn maggots, or bean maggots, are an annual threat to the bean crop. The maggots attack the bean seeds as they sprout and destroy the first two leaves, leaving stems with the halves of the bean seed standing in the field, unable to grow. Two or more generations of the seed maggots are produced each spring so that the only safe time to plant beans is between generations of the small gray flies which lay the eggs that produce the bean maggots. This safe period for planting beans usually comes the second week in June, but as it is short, growers need to have a local test to determine the exact stage of the insects before they plant their beans.

Shipping Skyrockets

During the first year of our participation in the last war, approximately 1,725,000 measurement tons of army freight were shipped overseas, as compared with 10,474,923 measurement tons in the comparable month of the present war. The largest monthly total in the first mentioned period was 450,446 tons, while in one month of 1942 the tonnage figure reached 1,554,127. These tonnages relate solely to United States army freight, and do not include any of the military supplies which have been furnished to our Allies.

Start of Walnut Vogue

Restoration was the period following the Cromwellian era—dated by the restoration of Charles II in 1660 and ending with the Bloodless Revolution in 1688. It includes the beginning of the vogue for walnut and marked a throwing off of all the Puritanical ideas introduced by Cromwell. Furniture during this period still retained its straight rectangular structure, but it was softened by carving, ornamental stretchers, spiral turning, curves and scrolls, crowns and crests, French and Flemish influences.

Novelist's Life Uneventful

Novelist Jane Austen (1775-1817) was born in Hampshire, England, the youngest of seven children in a clergyman's family. Her life was singularly uneventful. She was assiduous about her household duties and never permitted even her writing to interfere with her domestic chores. She never married. Her best known book are "Sense and Sensibility," "Pride and Prejudice," "Emma" and "Northanger Abbey."

Wonders Whether Free Enterprise System Is Not Undermined

Norman McDonald, Exec. Secretary Of Taxpayers Assoc., Speaking Before Kiwanis Club Paints Drab Picture

Mr. McDonald, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Association, was a speaker at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held at the Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday. In speaking of the Massachusetts situation in regard to taxes Mr. McDonald paid high tribute to the session of the general court which has just been concluded. He said that the state tax in Massachusetts is now lower than in many years, our financial situation is excellent and we will be practically out of debt by the end of the present fiscal year. We will be one of only two or three states in the entire country to be out of debt. He said that this had been due to the sincere and honest cooperation of those responsible for government in Massachusetts.

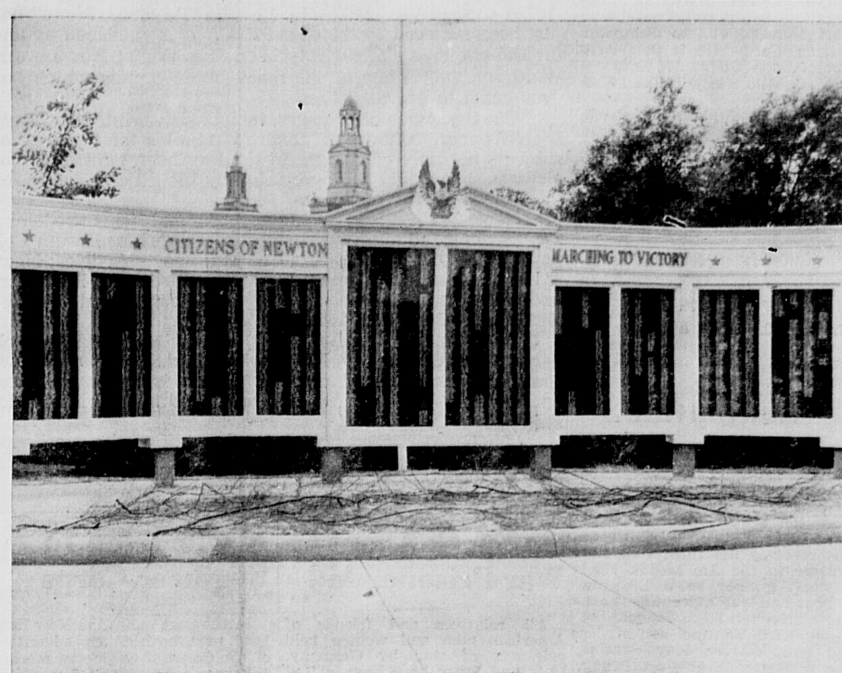

In speaking of the federal situation Mr. McDonald did not paint such a rosy picture. In fact, from his talk, he seemed to wonder whether the free enterprise system responsible for the development and success of the United States had not already been more seriously undermined than the people realized. Mr. McDonald advised that the Massachusetts Associations of Taxpayers was now working as a unit in a federal organization of taxpayers associations consisting of organizations from 33 different states. This federal association is to direct its efforts toward the elimination and control of increased federal waste. He referred to the Citizens' National Committee of 100 with members from every state in the Union. This Committee was devoting its efforts entirely to getting facts on the operation of our Government, facts which every citizen is entitled to have. An active permanent committee of 11 has been set up by the Citizens' National Committee of which Mr. McDonald is chairman. They have an enormous job. Mr. McDonald said that it is a great opportunity for Americans to get together and to really influence our government at Washington and to keep it a representative government. He said that some Americans seem to forget that government in America is by the consent of the Government and that Washington officials are the employees and servants of the American people.

In speaking of some of the regrettable situations in Washington today, Mr. McDonald referred to the large number of government corporations. He said that only eight of these government corporations have ever been authorized by Act of Congress and as representatives of the people. Seventy-two are in operation with no Act of Congress. These seventy-two government corporations are doing millions of dollars worth of business a year and to not have their books audited. In fact no single agency in Washington even had a complete list of all of these corporations, the money available, or what they do with it. The system has been for these government corporations to get local state charters in order to avoid having to go to Congress. As an example of some of these immense government corporations doing business in competition with the independent American business man, he stated that one corporation went into North Dakota and bought 72 independent grain elevators. They then leased these grain elevators to cooperatives, but inasmuch as the government retained title their operation was of course subject to government control and approval. Obviously independents could not compete with these government owned grain elevators which had no real estate taxes to pay, no income taxes and practically no overhead. The same thing is being done in regard to cotton gins and railroad sidings. Mr. McDonald said that no definite plan was worked out for the disposal or return of the billions of dollars worth of plants which the government now owned or were taking over in New England, and apparently it was going to be a grand mess when the war was over.

In regard to some of the food distribution problems Mr. McDonald said that at the time that rationing in Massachusetts on canned food was put into effect and the householder was being threatened with fines or jail if he obtained food over rationing coupons, there were 6,600,000 pounds of canned food in storage in the Massachusetts area as excess food supplies. At the time it was impossible for the average householder to purchase potatoes in the Boston area, the Surplus Products Corporation, one of these government corporations, offered to send 50 cars of the surplus stock of surplus potatoes into the Boston market. This was with the stipulation, however, that they must be given free of charge to those people on permanent welfare lists.

Mr. McDonald also stated that since the war started, the United States Government has taken over either by eminent domain, condemnation or other means, an area greater than all of New England and all of New York State. Mr. McDonald was questioned as to the OPA regulation just announced whereby gasoline rations will not be given to victory garden owners to visit their victory gardens after about the middle of July. The reason given in the Second World War Roll of Honor bearing the names of nearly 4500 men and women who are serving in the armed forces all over the world. More names will be added as they are reported to the committee.

To Be Granted Salary Increase

Announcement has been made by the Newton School Department that teachers and other employees who are serving for the duration are to be granted increases in salary in accordance with the schedule adopted for regular members of the department.

This ruling will affect a large number of teachers who have been engaged as military substitutes or are replacing teachers who have been given a leave of absence for the duration. Some of these teachers have been serving since 1940.

The schedule awards teachers by giving them salary increases for added degrees and specialized training, also for length of service. Married men teachers are paid a higher salary than single men teachers or women teachers. By extending the same privileges to those who are employed for the duration of the war it is expected that it will make it easier to replace teachers who may go into military service or other war work for the duration.

'Indoor Carnival' Friday Night

The Open Door of St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, will hold an "Open House" or "Indoor Carnival" on Friday evening, July 9th, at eight o'clock. There will be dancing, games, fortune telling, refreshments and a number of novel and entertaining ideas for the pleasure and amusement of old and young. There will be a nominal charge at the door and the public is cordially invited to come and spend a pleasurable evening.

Building Permits Show Decline

The monthly bulletin of the Public Buildings Department shows the number of building permits issued in Newton for the first half of this year to be 183 with an estimated cost of $82,192 as compared with 244 permits with a cost of $360,755 in the corresponding period in 1942, and 450 permits and a total cost of $1,252,350 in the same period in 1941.

During the past month a total of 41 permits were issued with an estimated cost of $10,600, most of which were for alterations. In the same month last year 51 permits were issued with a cost of $56,982.

Newton Firemen Sponsor Send-off

The Newton Firemen's Welfare Association sponsored the send-off this morning for nearly 100 inductees of Selective Service Board 112 who left the Newton City Hall at 8 a. m.

A platoon of firemen in uniform served as a guard of honor and the color guard was composed of members of Chaplain Farrell Chapter D. A. V.

Rev. John A. Sheridan, pastor of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, was the principal speaker. Other speakers were Mayor Paul M. Goddard, John L. Keating, Chief of the Newton Fire Department, and Judge Thomas Weston, representing Board 112.

Rev. S. Edwards, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Service Men of Newton, who was master of ceremonies, was assisted in distributing traveling kits to the men by Guy B. Litchfield, president of the Firemen's Welfare Association. The kits were engraved as gifts of the association.

OPA NOTICE

The requirement in the General Maximum Price Regulation that retailers of cost-of-living items file monthly supplementary reports on their maximum prices for those items with their local price and rationing boards was eliminated today by the OPA.

Accordingly the cost-of-living price report for June which would have been due on July 10th is not required.

Free the Seas

Before we win the final battle with Hitler's Nazis all navy men are agreed we must win the battle of the Atlantic; that is to free the sea lanes of the German U-boats.

A year ago we were building 54 cruisers and nearly 200 destroyers or just about enough for a two ocean navy.

Now we have come to realize that this war is to the finish, "winner take all," and our Government is building a five ocean navy.

That is why we are being asked to increase our subscriptions for War Bonds. That is why we must do it.

A NEWSPAPER IS BORN

A copy of Volume I—No. 1 of the "Raytheon News" has just been received by the GRAPHIC. It is published by and for the employees of the Raytheon Mfg. Co., at Newton and Waltham, and is one of the finest house organs which has ever come to our attention.

The first issue of 12 pages, tabloid size, printed on heavy coated paper, contains a generous number of pictures of subjects not only of interest to the Raytheon personnel, but pictures that would be appreciated by the general public for their news-worthy qualities.

News of Raytheon events and personal items predominate. Among the many features are—Editorials; Forum Column; Questions and Answers Column; Sports Articles; News of Service Men and Women; Weddings; Births and Marriages and Classified Advertisements. Other items and features will be added in future issues.

Riley Hampton is the Editor, and assisting him are Colver Gordon, Cy Kenney, Fred G. Link, Ed. Weiner and Martha Walsh, associate editors. Art Ballou is in charge of the sports news, Arthur Lurvey is staff artist and Lewis Marble, staff photographer.

The GRAPHIC congratulates the staff on the excellence of appearance and the news and feature content of the News, and wishes for it a glorious future.

To Speak About War Prisoner Aid

All relatives and friends of American men and women held prisoners of war by Germany, Italy and Japan have been invited to attend a meeting July 13 at the Boston Y. M. C. A., 316 Huntington ave., to hear Dr. D. A. Davis of Geneva, Switzerland, International secretary of War Prisoners Aid.

Dr. Davis, who arrived back in this country only a few weeks ago, has personally inspected prison camps in Germany and Italy and is in close touch with the situation in Japan.

Residents of Newton who are listed by the War Department as prisoners of war, and their next-of-kin include:

John A. Jozdzinski, sister, Miss Mary Jagodzinski, 25 Larch rd., Hugh L. Robinson, wife, Mrs. Olga O. Robinson, Grove st., Lt. Patrick H. Rafferty, mother, Mrs. Catherine Rafferty, 428 Ward st.

Dr. Davis, E. Cannon, parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Cannon, 28 Jefferson st.

There may be others whose relatives have been notified but whose names have not yet been released for publication.

The meeting is entirely free and is a service extended to "next-of-kin" of the prisoners by the Boston Y and War Prisoners Aid, both agencies of the Greater Boston United War Fund. Those who wish to attend are asked to communicate with William E. Adams, general secretary, Boston Y. M. C. A., 316 Huntington ave.

The work of War Prisoners Aid is carried on by the World's Committee of the Y. M. C. A. and under the terms of the 1929 Geneva Conference their representatives would visit prisoners in both enemy and United Nations camps. All nations, except Russia and Japan, subscribed to the rules laid down at the Conference regarding treatment of prisoners of war.

About six months ago, however, Japanese officials indicated that they would conform to the rules formulated by the other nations.

Swedish and Swiss neutrals represent War Prisoners Aid in Japan but because of delay in communications it has been difficult for officials in this country to keep abreast of the situation. However, it is known that the Japanese government has allowed War Prisoners Aid workers to visit inmates of seven prison camps in Japan, Korea and Formosa. Dr. Davis will bring the very latest reports on conditions in these camps.

Robert T. P. Storer, president of the Boston Y, who will preside at the meeting, stated, "We are pleased that we are able to bring Dr. Davis to Boston. He is one of the best informed men in the world on conditions in Axis prison camps and we know he will give us a true and complete picture of exactly how Americans are treated and what we at home may do to help them."

"We wish to emphasize that this meeting is free to all who desire to hear Dr. Davis. Greater Boston residents have been generous in their support of War Prisoners Aid and other United War Fund activities and we are happy that we may to some extent return that generosity by being of service to parents, wives, sweethearts and others who are so concerned for their loved ones captured by the enemy."

Sponsors for the July 13 meeting include military and civic officials, heads of veterans organizations and religious leaders of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

To Participate In Beauty Contest

One hundred and fifty girls, employees of the Raytheon Production Corporation, 55 Chapel st., Newton, will participate in a bathing beauty contest on the stage of the RKO Boston theatre on Thursday evening, July 15th. "Miss Raytheon" will be selected and six cash prizes amounting to $110.00 will be given. The winners will then compete in the finals on July 21st when $450.00 in cash prizes will be awarded and "Miss Victory" selected. Audience applause will decide the winners and a large group of Raytheon employees will be in the audience to applaud for their favorites.

Future attractions at this nearby Summer Theatre, accessible from all points in Greater Boston by trolley or bus, include Ilka Chase, famed actress, authoress, wit and fashion expert in S. N. Behrman's "Biography".

Newton Men In Engineer Corps

In the past week, 153 New England men have taken advantage of the Corps of Engineers recruiting program by volunteering for induction into the Engineers as construction specialists.

The following men from Newton signed up and have been inducted into the Engineers:

Edgar Burkhardt Jr., 81 Church st., Tractor driver.
Samuel L. Caruso, 50 Oak ave., West Newton, Arc welder.
Alfred Colletti, 304 Adams st., Civil Engineer.
Ronald E. Hiltz, 26 Jefferson st., Construction Carpenter.
Joseph Leone, 208 Adams St., Construction carpenter.
Joseph M. Pagano, 378 Boylston St., Newton Centre, Tractor driver.
Salvatore F. Medaglia, 65 Oak Ave., West Newton, Shop maintenance mechanic.

Colonel George W. Gillette, New England Division Engineer, in announcing the results of the recruiting program for this week, stated that more and more construction workers are seeing the benefit of this program which enables men to carry on their civilian trades while in the Army.

Men skilled in 75 specialties, such as carpentry, bricklaying, mechanical and electrical work and many other construction trades, can qualify under this plan. Additional information can be had at the Division Engineer's Office at 75 Federal Street, Boston.

'The Front Page' At Cambridge

"The Front Page", a riotous comedy-drama of the Press in the Roaring Twenties in Chicago, will be the next offering at the Cambridge Summer Theatre, Brattle Hall, Harvard Square. William Harrigan, well-known on both stage and screen will be starred in this epic of newspaper life written by those two master playwrights, Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht. "The Front Page" enormously successful when first produced some five years ago, has been twice made into a movie, the latest version being called, "His Girl Friday" in which Cary Grant and Rosalind Russell were starred. Featured with Mr. Harrigan will be Jeanne Cagney, sister to Hollywood's Jimmy, and other prominent roles will be taken by William Mendrek, Richard Hart, Louise Valery, Allen Tower, Lester Lonergan and William Weyse.

Vacation School To Start Monday

The Community Church Vacation School, conducted annually through the cooperation of several Newton Centre churches and the Andover Newton Theological School, will begin its sessions on the Andover Newton campus with registration in Colby Hall on Monday, July 12, at 9 o'clock. Mr. Walter Robert Van Hoek, a theological student and assistant to the minister of the Needham Baptist Church, will be the director.

The curriculum includes nature study, worship in the chapel, games out of doors, arts and crafts, cabinet work, dramatics and music.

The teaching staff consists of Miss Christine Adams, Superintendent of the Junior Department; Mrs. Foster Cousins, Superintendent of the Primary Department; Mrs. Roger Wood, Superintendent of the Kindergarten Department; and Miss Grace Ver Planck, Superintendent of the Nursery Department. Miss Lorna MacGray will supervise worship, and Mr. Avard Craig will instruct arts and crafts. Mrs. W. E. Brown will be in charge of music.

The nursery department will include children two and one-half to four and one-half years of age. The kindergarten will include children over four and one-half years of age and up to six. It is designed for those who have had one year of kindergarten already or who are entering kindergarten this fall. The primary department will include children who have finished the first, second, or third grades. The junior department will include those who have finished the fourth, fifth, or sixth grades of public school.

The school this year will feature some especially interesting programs for the boys and girls. The director will contribute appropriate studies in the field of visual education. Professor James Berkeley of the Andover Newton faculty will offer illustrated lectures on the geography of Palestine, and Dr. John W. Brush also of the Andover Newton faculty will climax the school with a special program in music. The closing sessions will be open to parents, friends and interested visitors.

The school will run five days a week, from 9 to 12 in the morning, Monday through Friday, for four weeks beginning July 12 and concluding August 7. A small tuition fee will be charged. In view of the difficulties some parents will have in arranging for transportation of children to and from the school, the local Church and Vacation School Committee plans to assist wherever possible in making transportation arrangements and to cooperate in meeting the children from buses and trains.

Further information about the school may be obtained by calling Mr. Walter R. Van Hoek at Bigelow 8116.

Fire Department Has Busy Day

The fire department answered a call on Friday afternoon from Box 15 for a fire in an automobile near the bus stop at Newton Corner. The alarm was sounded at 3:49 and the all-out at 4:26. The car was owned by Sidney Wish of 21 Westchester rd., Newton.

A fire in a truck at the Pine st. dump in West Newton on Friday morning spread to the dump and gave the firemen from Engine 2, West Newton, nearly a two-hour battle before it was under control.

On the same day calls were answered for three brush fires, one in Newton Upper Falls and two in Waban.

The name of Michael Tiberio, formerly of 33 Floral st., Newton Highlands, husband of Mrs. Elizabeth (D'Innocenzo) Tiberio, has appeared on a list of United States soldiers announced by the War Department this week as being held prisoners of war by the enemy.

Pvt. Tiberio, who is 30 years of age, was born in Italy. He was married in October 1940 and was inducted into the Army in June, 1942.

Mrs. Tiberio, who is residing with relatives at 19 Gasbarri ave., Newton Centre, received word that her husband was missing three weeks after he arrived overseas in February. She was later notified that he was held a prisoner by the Italians and since then has heard that he was sent to a prison camp in Germany.

HOME-CANNED BERRIES
TAKE LITTLE SUGAR

Home canned berries play leading roles in the pantry because they contribute vitamins and minerals for health, can be used in many ways, and are easy and inexpensive to can. Blackberries, blueberries, boysenberries, raspberries, elderberries—can them all and others, too, with little or no sugar. Sugar gives them better flavor and more calories, but has nothing to do with keeping qualities.

Berries are too precious to waste and none will be wasted if you will see to it that every step taken is the right one. First of all, wash, rinse and examine your jars. Be sure to inspect the top edges of those to be sealed with glass top seal or two-piece vacuum seal closures because top seals refuse to work unless tops of the jars are perfect. Cover jars, glass lids, and zinc caps with lukewarm water, heat to boiling and keep hot until needed. Wash and rinse rubbers and vacuum seal lids and drop them in boiling water—they don't need boiling unless you plan to do old-fashioned open kettle canning when they must be boiled a few minutes to sterilize.

Every berry must be fresh, sound, ripe, and firm. Wash them carefully and then take your choice of canning methods.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, prefers to hot-pack berries. This is how it is done. Place berries in a wide, shallow pan; add one-half cup sugar, or less, for each quart of berries; set the pan over low heat and simmer until the berries heat through and the sugar dissolves (remember you don't have to use any sugar); pour the hot berries into clean, hot jars and process five minutes in hot water-bath canner.

If you prefer cold packing, fill a jar about half full with raw berries, then tap it gently on a folded cloth to shake the berries down. When the jar is filled to within a half-inch of the top, add enough hot syrup to cover the berries. Process 20 minutes in a water-bath canner.

Syrup for four quarts of berries may be made by boiling two cups sugar and three cups water or berry juice together until the sugar dissolves. If you are a little short on sugar—and who isn't these days?—try making the syrup of one measure sugar, one measure corn syrup, and one-half measure water or berry juice. This syrup seems rather thick and sweet, but it will become thinner and less sweet after it has been with the berries a few weeks. And if you have no sugar at all, cover the berries with hot berry juice or boiling water; seal or partly seal the jars (follow the manufacturer's instructions) and process 20 minutes in a water-bath canner.

If you want your berries to really star, can them without sugar. Then they can be used as if they were fresh from the patch. The juice can be drained off and used for making jelly. The berries can go into a pie or into jam—a jam turnover tucked in a lunch box will make the noon hour much more pleasant for somebody and surely you need nobody to tell you that jelly and jam are far more delicious when freshly made than at any other time.

LOHMAN-MCKINNEY

The Union Church of Waban was decorated with white stock and larkspur for the marriage of Miss Louise McKinney and Capt. Ira Henry Lohman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Henry Lohman of Jefferson City, Mo., on Friday, July 2. The four o'clock candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald and a reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Guy B. McKinney of 9 Crofton rd.

The bride's gown of ivory tulle taffeta was styled with a yoke of sheer marquisette, a long train trimmed with Chantilly lace, and she wore a veil of ivory tulle from a Juliet cap of matching Chantilly lace. Her bouquet was of white orchids, gardenias and stephanotis. Mrs. E. Colman Beebe (Janet McKinney) of Nashua, N. H., was the matron of honor. Her gown was of petal pink lace and net, made with a sweetheart neckline and bouffant skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of rubrum lilies and blue delphinium. Mrs. Arthur W. Robbins (Barbara Cutting) of Amherst and sister of the bridegroom of Jefferson City, Mo., were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns fashioned like that of Mrs. Beebe's and carried rubrum lilies, roses and larkspur. James Gillis of Rutherford, N. J., was the best man for Capt. Lohman and the ushers were E. Colman Beebe of Nashua, Richard Muther of Newton Centre, Albert O. Wilson of Lexington and Archibald Price of Newton Lower Falls.

Capt. and Mrs. Lohman will live at Camp Davis, N. C., where he is stationed.

About 200 Newton young men who are to leave for active duty within a few days were assigned places of honor on the stands during the exercises.

Among guests seated on the speakers' stand were former Mayor Edwin O. Childs and State Representative George E. Rawson.

Preceding the dedication exercises there was a short parade

cepted the Honor Roll on behalf of the city paying tribute to those who have gone to defend their country. He also paid his respect to those who have lost loved ones in the service saying "We stand reverently before the parents of those who have already given their lives."

Former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, a veteran of World War I, who went war, was also a speaker.

from the War Memorial Building to the site of the Honor Roll led by Arthur A. Hunt, past commander of Newton Post, American Legion, as chief of staff, in which all veterans' organizations were represented. Music was by the American Legion Band which also furnished music throughout the program.

The program ended with the singing of the National Anthem.

Private George Picciarello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Picciarello of 269 Adams st., Newton, who was formerly reported missing in action in the Philippines, is alive and a prisoner of the Japs, according to word received by his mother from the War Department.

Private Picciarello enlisted in the Army soon after his graduation from the Newton High School where he had been on the honor roll during his entire course, was prominent in baseball, football and basketball, and a member of the high school orchestra. He had planned to enter Northeastern University.

He arrived in the Philippines shortly before Pearl Harbor and since he left for overseas his parents had not heard from him directly. His mother, who had never lost hope that he was alive, had prayed daily for him before the altar of Our Lady's Church in Newton, and says she will continue to pray for his safe return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Picciarello are both employed in war plants and are raising two Victory gardens. They have four other children, all younger than the son George.

papers was that OPA said that gardens planted after the middle of July would not have time to mature. However, obviously the discontinuance of gasoline rations after the middle of July will mean that the victory garden owners will be unable to visit the victory gardens to pick and harvest the vegetables which they have already planted. This will mean thousands of tons of vegetables will spoil without being harvested. Mr. McDonald was unable to explain the reason for permitting such a condition to come about.

Mr. McDonald especially emphasized the importance of having an active taxpayers association in the City of Newton. He said that while it is undoubtedly true that we have an honest and conscientious local government in the City of Newton, that nevertheless the function of a taxpayers association is so important and its influence spreads into state and into federal policies to such an extent, that the lack of an organization in any city like Newton might become very serious. As an example he outlined some of the serious financial problems coming into Boston which would definitely affect the situation of Newton in the near future. He also emphasized that one of the great services rendered by local taxpayers associations was to obtain data, both local state and national, and see that those in the area which they serve have this data made available to them. He said that it was his hope that active steps might be taken before Fall to again start an active taxpayers association in Newton.

NEWTON VICTORY GARDENS

(By Mrs. D. Allen Smith, Chairman, Nutrition, Gardening, Preservation)

It was my original intention to inspect all of the Victory Gardens of Newton as soon as they began to grow up and begin production. However, with gasoline rationing, that thought has had to be discarded. Nevertheless, it has been possible to observe the many plots of land that are being used for the purpose of gardens as I travel from my home to this office during the week.

I would like to tell you something of a garden that I was invited to inspect. The request came from Mr. Tony Colabufalo of Walnut Hill rd. Right here I would like to say that his garden is not a new one, nor can he be called a "beginner," but it should give encouragement to those who have started gardens this year for the first time. First of all, there is not one bit of waste space in his entire place. The front yard is devoted to plants of Broccoli and Peppers. These plants are backed by large Rhododendron and it is not difficult to picture this planting. A part of the side yard is planted with potatoes that are all in blossom at the moment. The next patch in that garden is filled with even rows of corn that are neatly mulched with leaves. This procedure answers two purposes one to retain the moisture in the soil, and the other to be used as a fertilizer when it is turned into the ground.

Waban

Miss Audrey Cynthia Train, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Train of Chestnut st., has graduated from Endicott Junior College at Prides Crossing, where she took an active part during Open House.

Dr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Morse (Evelyn Morse) announce the birth of a son, Lewis R. Morse, Jr., at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, on June 19. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Morse of Lawrenceville, N. S., and Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Morse of Waban. The great-grandmother is Mrs. E. W. King of Waban.

On my way home from this call I stopped to see Miss Eliza Philbrick's garden, by special request, and there I found Currant bushes, Madonna Lilies, corn (the dwarf variety), tomato plants tall and sturdy that she had raised from seed, and many other thriving crops, all tucked into her very small but very attractive back yard. Miss Philbrick has more than "green fingers"; she could grow grass in the desert.

To complete my round, I wandered into what used to be an open field in Oak Hill Village. At present there are a number of Victory gardens planted and thriving in this field. The group of neighbors were just leaving, having finished their evening chores, but I hovered over the gardens until the mosquitoes got the better of me and I felt I had better call it a day. However, I want to say that I did see such things as melons, peas, corn and the regular crops growing, and all of these gardens are being worked by people who have never undertaken this work before.

I am hoping that I will be able to get around to visit some gardens on the other side of town before very long. It is very pleasing and encouraging to see the crops flourishing in spite of a rather tough growing year, to say nothing of the unusual number of garden pests that have visited the gardens. It is very obvious that all who can intend to preserve just as much of the surplus supply as possible. At this point I would like to remind all of the villages of Newton that the Summer Schedule for Canning Demonstrations will begin July 13th. Call your Garden Chairman for further dates.

Concert Given At Peabody Home

Under the auspices of the Officers and Employees of the Boston Navy Yard, twenty-eight members of the Navy Yard Civilian Employees Band gave a concert Thursday evening, July 1st, at the Peabody Home for the Crippled Children. Transportation in both directions was handled by The Motor Corps Division of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross.

The Band, with vocal soloist, left the Boston Navy Yard in Charlestown at about 4:15 p. m. and proceeded to the Home in Newton Center.

Upon arrival, they played marches, military airs, and requests of the children for an hour and a half. Three quarters of an hour of this was given below the windows of the girls' ward, with a loud speaker arrangement under the windows of the boys' ward. The second half of this concert was held under the windows of the boys' ward with the speaker below the girls' windows.

The children enjoyed the concert immensely. The day was a double celebration because it happened to be the birthday of one child, which was celebrated with a cake contributed by Hall Baking Company and ice-cream contributed by Hood's.

Real Estate News

An attractive custom-built Colonial located at 15 Walden st., Newtonville, has recently been sold by Golden S. Mossman of Stevensville, Maryland, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Newey of Newtonville. The house was originally built for the personal occupancy of a well known Newton builder. The exterior walls are covered with stained cedar shingles and the interior contains 7 spacious rooms and two tile baths, with heated garage in the basement. The total assessment value is $8,500 of which $1,700 is on the land. Howe Associates, Newton Centre Realtors represented both parties in this transaction.

Alvord Bros., Realtors, report having consummated the sale of the property at 1623 Centre st., Newton Highlands. This substantial stucco building is composed of two six-room suites, each having a fireplace in the living room, a bath, and open porch, and separate steam boilers fired by coal. The lot of about 7500 square feet is level, with lovely shade trees. Charles M. Soule and Beatrice L. Sawyer, both of Newton, gave title to Mr. Edward Nahabedian, also of Newton. The property is assessed as a whole at $8300.

Alvord Bros. further report having sold a comfortable, older type, frame home, situated in Newton Centre, at 75 Summer st. The grounds have been nicely cared for, measuring about 11,377 square feet, and there is an abundance of shade trees. Mrs. Cora G. Huntress, of Newton, gave title to Mr. and Mrs. Willard G. Fitton, of Newton. The assessment on the property is $7700.

Ask Half-Pay For City Pensions

A committee representing city foremen and inspectors has presented a petition to Mayor Paul M. Goddard and the Newton Board of Aldermen, calling for pensions of half pay for foremen, instead of the maximum of $500 now provided by the state law.

The committee consists of John L. Foley and Michael J. Herlihy. The state law, which provides for pensions of half pay for city laborers, sets a maximum limit of $500 on pensions for foremen, and therefore many of the retired laborers received larger pensions than the retired foremen.

City employees who are members of the Contributory Retirement System receive pensions determined by the number of years of their service, but those who were in the service at the time the Contributory Retirement System was adopted and who did not choose to become members of it are retired under the law, providing for half-pay pensions.

The committee asks that the city accept Chapter 290 of the Acts of 1936, which provides for the payment of pensions to foremen and inspectors equal to half of the pay received during the last year of service.

Congratulates Raytheon Corp.

Navy congratulations for excellence in attendance were extended to the employees of the Raytheon Production Corporation, 55 Chapel st., Newton, by Com. Neil R. Collier and Lt. Com. James Morgan, of the Public Relations Office, 1st Naval District, at a ceremony held at the plant on Friday afternoon.

"Excellence in attendance in defense plants is both good and bad news," said Com. Collier. "Any news of increased production is good news to the U. S. and her allies and bad news to the Axis."

Lt. Com. Morgan concluded his address by stressing the urgent need for teamwork in production. "You are all part of an industrial team manning our battle stations on the home front."

Dr. Paul Weeks, Plant Manager, praised the winners in the contest for the best attendance and presented the banners to Department Heads. Movies of the employees' original show, "Rays of Fun" were shown.

Three Hurt, One Fatally, By Truck

Robert Sennott, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sennott of 352 Watertown st., was fatally injured and two of his companions, John Farrell, 7, of 289 Watertown st., and Charles Moreau, 9, of 41 Capital st., were injured when they were knocked down by a truck Monday forenoon at Nonantum.

The truck, a moving van, was driven by Armand D. Auger, 29, of 58 Valley st., Everett, who, in his report to the police, stated that he was proceeding along Watertown st. in the direction of Watertown, when a car bearing Pennsylvania plates stopped in front of him and at the same time another car coming out of Faxon st. stopped at Watertown st. In order to avoid hitting the car in front of him, he jammed on his brakes and swerved to the left. The truck mounted the sidewalk near the LaCroix Drug Store and then crashed through the hedge in front of the Farrell home at 289 Watertown st.

The three boys and a fourth companion, who was uninjured, were reported standing on the sidewalk as the truck approached them, and when it came to a stop the Sennott boy was under the right rear wheel. Rev. Joseph E. Robichaud, pastor of St. John the Evangelist Church, administered the last rites to the Sennott boy, as he lay under the truck. He was taken to the Newton Hospital by Patrolmen Thomas L. McEnaney and Patrick J. Burke, where he was pronounced dead at 12:30 p. m. The Farrell boy suffered a fractured jaw, broken left ankle and injuries to his head. The Moreau boy received minor injuries.

The boys, who were pupils of the St. John the Evangelist School, were about to leave for Watertown, where they were planning on going for a swim at the Watertown bathing beach.

The driver of the truck was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and released on $1000 bail. In the Newton District Court on Tuesday morning he pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until July 27 under the same bail.

Just previous to the accident a letter had been received by the mother of the Sennott boy, from another son who had been wounded in the Guadalcanal, telling her that he had fully recovered and was able to be up and about.

Funeral services for Robert Sennott are being held this morning from his home and a high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. John the Evangelist Church at 9 o'clock.

This was the first fatal auto accident of the year in Newton and it takes Newton out of the select group of cities and towns listed in the last report of the Massachusetts Safety Council as having passed long periods without any auto fatality.

Newton Chamber Against All Subsidies

The Board of Directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce have gone on record as against subsidies by passing the following resolution, copy of which has been forwarded to our representatives in Congress:

Resolution
"This country faces a most critical situation through food shortages unless the production of food is greatly increased. Food shortages lead to the establishment of black markets, with inevitable uncontrolled higher prices, and consequent inequalities in the availability of food supplies in different areas.

The proposed subsidies of food prices through subsidies will not solve the food problem as they will in no way induce the producer of milk, butter, meat, or other food products to expand his production. The justification advanced for the rollbacks is the promise of lower prices to consumers and as a step necessary to offset the demands for further wage increases. The fact is overlooked that the consumer is also a taxpayer and must ultimately pay for the rollbacks and cost of the bureaucracy to run them. It also will have a tendency to increase wages as the employees will realize that their bosses are receiving subsidies from the government which usually represents a clear gain.

"We need a program that will really encourage maximum production of food, insure equitable distribution and fair and effective control. A more comprehensive plan of simplification in the operation of price controls through a single hand with ample authority to make practically effective the producing and marketing of food products. Unless and until an effective program is put into operation we may expect growing scarcities and increasing danger of a complete demoralization of our food supplies."

Injured As Scooter Hits Laundry Car

Lynne Tewksbury, 10, of 197 Mt. Vernon st., West Newton, was injured in a collision between her scooter and a laundry truck on Wednesday of last week.

She was removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance, where it was found she had suffered a fracture of her right leg and lacerations about her head.

Mary L. Brine of Woburn, driver of the truck, stated in her report to the police that she was proceeding west on Austin st. and saw the child in a driveway but did not expect she would ride out into the street on the scooter.

Celebrates 91st Birthday

Mr. George Allen Salmon, who has lived for nearly 50 years at 999 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, is celebrating his 91st birthday on July 19th. George Allen Salmon was born in 1852 and spent the years of his boyhood and during the Civil War in the house at number 29 Boylston st., Boston, now the headquarters of the Edison Electric Company. He attended the old Brimmer Grammar School on Common st., the old Boston Latin School on Bedford st., and the Harvard Dental School. He early became a fine musician, and can still sit down at the piano and play from memory and improvise skilfully. He often sits by the radio and sings with the program in a pleasant baritone that is still full and rich.

Mr. Salmon carries himself very erect which fact he lays to military drill at Latin School. He walks a block every pleasant day, often sports a flower in his buttonhole, and is more likely to twirl a cane than to use it. His memory of events of history and dramatic changes in appearance of city of Boston is very clear, as he lived many years in the midst of her greatest activities. Mr. Salmon has made many scrapbooks of pictures and clippings about early Boston, including pages of typed reminiscences which add much value to these interesting volumes. He can vividly describe the Boston of nearly a hundred years ago in vivid fashion, street by street, and can even name the famous persons who once lived in the houses now replaced by business blocks.

He saw the filling-in of the Back Bay, on which he used to skate. He heard the newsboys cry the Assassination of Lincoln. He remembers the Laying of the Atlantic Cable, participated in the World's Peace Jubilee of 1887, and got soaked to his skin, while helping to evacuate the valuables from a burning Bank, during the Great Boston Fire of 1872.

George Allen Salmon, born July 19, 1852, was named after his father, Dr. Ira Allen Salmon, namesake of the Ira Allen, who founded University of Vermont, whose brother was famous Revolutionary leader, Ethan Allen. The name "Allen" has been carried down from grandfather.

Dr. Ira Allen Salmon to George Allen Salmon, 1st, to Allen Pope Salmon, of 19 Arden rd., Newtonville, to his son, George Allen Salmon, 2nd, on his 19th birthday, who recently enlisted in the armed forces.

The father of Mr. George Salmon, of Newton Highlands, was Dr. Ira Allen Salmon, the principal dentist of his day in Boston. Dr. Salmon was offered the chance to be Court Dentist in France. He was the first University of America, Dental Surgery at Harvard Medical School. He helped organize, and was the first President of the Massachusetts Dental Society, and also helped organize and was the first President of the National Dental Society of America. He was an inventor as well as a dentist, and experimented in the same machine-shop with Graham Bell on Court st., Boston. Dr. Ira Allen Salmon spent his life trying to improve the status of Dentistry in America. His skill was recognized in other countries as well as our own.

NEWTON CENTER SOLDIER PROMOTED

The promotion of Staff Sergeant Leroy C. Coleman, 29 years old, 55 Prentice st., Newton, Mass., to the grade of master sergeant was announced this week by his commanding officer at Headquarters, European Theater of operations.

The husband of Mrs. Florence Coleman, the sergeant was inducted into the service in April, 1942, at Fort Devens, Mass., where he received his basic training.

Since his arrival in England, Sgt. Coleman has taken special courses in bridging and general engineering. He was a private chauffeur in civilian life.

Complete Novena This Sunday

The St. Mary of Carmel Society of Newton will complete a Novena for Peace and Victory which has been conducted this week at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, by Rev. James E. Fahey, when they will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7:30 mass on Sunday morning.

At 2 p. m. on Sunday there will be a procession which will start at the Church of Our Lady and proceed up Washington st. to Adams st., thence to Watertown rd., Cook st., Green st., to Lincoln rd., Hawthorne st. to Watertown st., and will return via Adams st. to the church.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard will lead the procession which will be participated in by members of the St. Mary of Carmel Society, the Monte Carmelo Society, Women's Society of St. Mary of Carmel, St. Mary of Peace Society of Watertown, the Newton Post American Legion Band and the Newton Auxiliary Band and Bugle Corps.

The committee in charge of arrangements are:
Frank Finelli, chairman; Nicola Zeola, vice-chairman; Dominico Zarilli, treasurer; Pasquale Marrocca, financial secretary; Antonio Bibbo, recording secretary; Dominico Venditti, marshal; Pasquale Leone, Dominico Battista, Loreto Bianchi, Pasquale Marucci, Lucio Marini, Joseph Magrilli, Donato Gentile, Gerardo Gentile, Luigi Tedeschi, Giovanni Vignogno, Luigi Bianchi, Anino Gentile, Louis Pagnano and Carmen A. Vitt, president of the society.

TIN CAN COLLECTION

The Newton Salvage Committee announced that the Street Department will collect processed tin cans the week of July 19th-23rd. The collection days by wards are as follows: Wards 3 and 4 on Monday, July 19th, Ward 5 on Tuesday, July 20th, Ward 6 on Wednesday, July 21st, Wards 1 and 7 on Thursday, July 22nd, and Ward 2 on Friday, July 23rd.

The Salvage Committee wishes to remind you that the cans should be processed as follows: wash the cans, remove the label, cut out both ends, place them within the can, and flatten the can out.

The cans should be set out by 7:00 a. m. on the day they are to be collected and to facilitate collection you should place them in an open container (not in a paper bag) and set out where they are easily seen by the men on the collection truck.

In case your cans are missed the Committee requests you to take them in again and save them for the August collection. Your cooperation in this request will be greatly appreciated by the Committee and the Street Department. It is necessitated by the drastic curtailment in gasoline rations so that all special collections have been cut to a minimum.

The Committee reports that in the June collection 16,600 tons of processed cans were picked up and shipped to Pittsburgh from Newton. This is a drop of about nine tons over the May collection and is no doubt due to the arrival of fresh fruits and vegetables on the table from the local victory gardens and markets.

Only 83 Out Of 17,117 Water Bills Are Unpaid Here

The semi-annual system of sending out Water bills used this year by the City of Newton has proved at the end of the first six months to be almost 100 per cent successful, as out of a total of 17,117 bills sent out all but 83 have been paid.

Under the new system more stringent rules are in effect than in the past, but of the total number of bills sent out 79 per cent of them were paid without any steps being necessary to collect and in only a small number of cases was it necessary to send warnings that unless the bill was paid on the following day the water would be shut off and most of these responded immediately.

Record Crowd At Crystal Lake

The extreme weather this week taxed the facilities and lifeguard supervision of Crystal Lake in the hundreds of persons who availed themselves of a "dip in the lake."

Because of the cooperation of the bathers and the bathhouse personnel, all who visited to bathe were accommodated with complete satisfaction. The hour-period plan in practice at the lake gives all an ample amount of time in the water and tends to prevent crowding.

The Recreation Department at City Hall will supply the necessary identification card to all residents of Newton, and advises immediate registration so that there will be no unnecessary delay in using the excellent facilities of Crystal Lake.

The personnel of the supervisory and lifeguard force this season is as follows:
Nicholas P. Tedesco, Gilbert Champagne, Mrs. McKenzie, Barbara McDonald, Alice P. Graham, Oliver Cavanaugh, Eleanor Young and Eleanor Leahy.

Several Claims Filed Against City

Several claims have been filed against the City of Newton for damages caused by the recent explosion at the plant formerly occupied by the Masten & Wells Fireworks Co., which was taken over by the city by foreclosure.

George W. Cashman has presented a claim for damage alleged to have been caused to four houses on Mechanic st., one on Elliot st., one on Cottage st., and one on Needham st. Cashman claims that about 75 windows were broken in the houses mentioned as well as the window frames. He estimated the total damage as $350.

James B. Gamble, 4 Saco st.; Mrs. J. J. Stevenson, 46 Linden st., and Mary A. O'Leary, 23 Wetherell st., also have submitted claims.

Gamble claims that the explosion shattered the window of his car about a quarter of a mile away. Mrs. Stevenson claims that a ceiling in her home was damaged by the blast.

Citizens Committee In Successful Drive

Some 400,000 Cigarettes Purchased To Send To Service Men On All Fronts—Money Publicly Subscribed

The Citizen's Committee for Service to Newton Service Men have just completed a most successful drive to obtain funds with which to supply Newton Service Men on the far-flung battle fronts with a good supply of cigarettes.

Pacific, North Africa and India that their fellow citizens are ever thinking of them and doing everything that is possible to let them know that the home front is behind them steadily.

CAMBRIDGE SUMMER THEATRE

Ilka Chase, appearing next week in person at Brattle Hall, Harvard Square, is a star of stage, screen, radio, the lecture platform and a writer who has made a career out of being something every woman would like to be. Her radio programs "Luncheon at the Waldorf" and "A Date with Ilka Chase" have been heard by millions; her best seller "Past Imperfect" has reached the 200,000 mark in sales and a new novel is to be published in the Fall; three times she has been chosen one of the ten best dressed women in the world; and added to all these, she has been a featured player in many a stage production and most recently in the movies. The play in which this versatile and capable young lady will appear is S. N. Behrman's delightful comedy hit, "Biography" which ran well into its second season when originally produced on Broadway and later became an even bigger success in the film version.

Ilka Chase's professional stage debut occurred in Baltimore in a play called "The Proud Princess" and since that time she has been seen in many highly successful plays. Once on the road to stardom, Ilka was seen in such important theatrical hits as "Shall We Join The Ladies?" "Embers," "The Swan," "Antonia," "The Animal Kingdom" and "The Night of the Iguana." Her notable-forgetful portrayal of the feline Sylvia Fowler in Claire Booth's famed "The Women." Last season Hollywood beckoned again and she completed two films, Warner's "Now Voyager" with Bette Davis has already made film history, and Paramount's "No Time For Love" with Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray. This film is scheduled for release shortly.

Featured with Miss Chase on the Brattle Hall stage will be John Ireland, Allan Tower, Ann Dere, William Mendrek, Richard Hart and other members of the Cambridge company. The direction of "Biography" will be in the hands of Allan Tower who, incidentally, was a member of the original company which played in Boston with Ina Claire starred. Andrew Mack has contributed his usual graceful and fitting setting for this modern comedy of wit and sophistication.

There will be two matinees of "Biography" next week, an extra afternoon performance scheduled for Wednesday in addition to the regular Saturday matinee.

But three more performances remain of the great newspaper comedy, "The Front Page," now current on the Brattle Hall stage, with William Harrigan, celebrated stage and screen actor, starred. Ann Dere, Jeanne Cagney, Richard Hart, William Mendrek and a large group of Cambridge regulars make up the remainder of the cast.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE

(By Mrs. D. Allen Smith, Chairman, Nutrition, Gardening, Preservation)

In the past week I have had the opportunity of seeing a few more Victory Gardens—not just in passing, but at close range. One that I want to talk about has been used in past years as a "cutting" garden for annual flowers. Today it is more than that—it is a flourishing "V" garden. The space it occupies is relatively small for the abundance of crops that it will produce. It has about 50 husky tomato plants, all neatly pruned and staked, several rows of carrots and beets, bush lima and string beans and several poles of Kentucky Wonder beans. Running lengthwise against a high stone wall covered with Bittersweet vines are such crops as Broccoli, Summer Squash, Swiss Chard, Celery, an experiment in onions, pepper plants, and all of these are bordered with lettuce. A tiny spot at the end of this garden is devoted to herbs—Tarragon, Chives, Mint and such. Continuing up the hill and through an iron gate, one comes upon a delightful garden with pool and the same high wall, covered with Bittersweet. At this time of year the Delphinium and Lilies are at their best. What a spot for the weary gardener (and busy housewife) to settle down and see the results of long hard hours spent getting these results.

Another garden that will always be a pleasure to me is one that is in my own neighborhood. I can remember when the present garden site was absolutely nothing but trees and underbrush. My neighbor, who is by no means an amateur, has done a real job on the place. Because of the topography of the land, she has found it necessary to work in small gardens here and there. The result is fascinating and I might also say the crops prolific. She has the art of planting to get the most out of all crops. In other words, there is not a wasted inch in the many little plots. She is raising potatoes; corn; all varieties of beans, string, Lima, wax and pole peas, broccoli, Swiss chard, beets, carrots, lettuce, onions and raspberries. As for canning, I can truthfully say she is a "past master" and has been doing this sort of thing for many years. Her flower garden is also a thing of beauty. It is a mass of color from the earliest daffodils to the winter Aconite. And why wouldn't these plants thrive with the care and devotion they receive?

This is by no means a threat, but do not be surprised at my neighbor if I should show up in your neighborhood or backyard garden.

Now Preparing For Christmas Packages Overseas

While New England swelters in a torrid heat wave, the department stores, in cooperation with the Post Office Department, are already preparing for Christmas. To the displays of candies, nuts, soaps, fountain pens and pencils, and sundry other articles being prepared for Christmas purchases for the men overseas, there will be displayed many articles so keenly desired by the members of the feminine sex who are serving with the armed forces on the various battlefronts of the world. The nurses, WACS, WAVES and other women's organizations will come in for their full share of attention this year.

"With our fighting men now stationed in all parts of the world," says Postmaster Connelly, "the task confronting the post office department and military authorities is greater than ever before. These parcels for the army will start overseas within a short time and closings are from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 for assured Christmas delivery."

The parcels for the men of the Navy or Coast Guard overseas can be mailed up to but not later than Nov. 15. The limit of weight for all branches of the service overseas is 5 pounds or 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined.

Manufacturers of various types of commodities suitable for overseas shipments are preparing special containers that will conform to the regulations.

Even though we are sweltering at home and desire not to think of cold and Christmas, remember it will still be very hot in many places where these parcels will be delivered. Every boy or girl overseas must be remembered this Christmas. Make plans immediately to see that every one of them is reminded of home by the receipt of a package.

Mr. Allan J. Wilson, of A. Towle Company, who resides at Newton, has been selected as a member of the Committee of the Motor Truck Club of Massachusetts, Inc., in arranging for a testimonial dinner to be given in honor of the Hon. Joseph B. Eastman, Director, Office of Defense Transportation, at the Hotel Kenmore on Thursday, July 15th, at 6:00 p. m.

Accompanying Mr. Eastman will be Ted V. Rodgers, President of the American Trucking Association, Inc., of Washington.

Because of the many problems now confronting the highway transportation system of this country, Motor Carriers of Massachusetts are fortunate in being afforded the opportunity of hearing the two top transportation men discuss motor truck problems.

Ted Rodgers has recently returned from a tour of the United States, and has made a close study of highway transportation requirements in order to speed the industry's war contributions.

The presence of the two national transportation experts will no doubt result in an overflow attendance, but the committee will make every endeavor to find a place for everyone having an interest in highway transportation.

Lt. Ralph J. Meyers, Regional Public Relations Officer of the United States Maritime Service was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club last Tuesday.

He explained that the United States Maritime Service is a branch of the Navy, and has authority over all ships of 500 tons or over. It is the job of the merchant marine to carry supplies and equipment to our fighting forces and allies all over the world. He told how for each man in the armed services leaving this country, 10½ tons of supplies are required, and for each month he is away it takes one ton per month to sustain him.

This Department offers great opportunities for men between 17½ to 35. For example, right here in Boston they maintain the largest radio school in America, and the enlisted personnel in this Department are given a 26 weeks' training course, which actually costs the Government $3,000.

Lt. Meyers stressed the value of manpower in this war and told how every man in this service is given a four months' course in seamanship and self-preservation. He also went on to say that after 14 months of sea-time men in this branch of the Navy are eligible for an Officer's Training School. While in this course they are given a rating of Chief Petty Officer, with a base pay of $126 per month. Upon their graduation after 4 months at this school they receive commissions as Ensigns in the United States Merchant Marine.

There is another opportunity for young men between the ages of 17½ to 23 to become United States Maritime Service Cadets. These chaps are given an 18 months' study training, and 8 months' training aboard ship. These graduates will be the future skippers and officers of our Merchant Marine, and as such they will play a very important part in keeping our Merchant Marine in the forefront of the competition for future world commerce.

Farewell Party Given C. V. Hicks

Clyde Vinton Hicks of 17 Ware rd., Auburndale, left on Friday, July 9, for Fort Devens, Mass., to enter the Army with the Corps of Engineers.

On Saturday, July 3, he was tendered a farewell party by a group of 20 of his intimate friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Hagaman of Newtonville. During the evening he was presented with a substantial sum of money. He has also been entertained by many of his friends.

He is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hicks of 187 Austin st., Newtonville, to enter the service. One brother, Capt. Arthur M. Hicks, is stationed at Fort Devens. The other brother, Pvt. First Class Richard H. Hicks, is stationed at Amarillo, Texas.

Mr. Hicks was formerly employed by the War Department.

Four Scholarships Are Established

Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., president of Boston College, has announced that four competitive co-educational scholarships in memory of Rev. William J. McGarry, S.J., former president of the college, have been established by the Boston College evening division.

Examinations for these scholarships which are open to school graduates, will be held at Boston College, in town, 128 Newbury st., Boston, at 7:30 p. m. on August 30 and 31.

On Visit Here From Honolulu

Lt. Thomas A. Lombardi, U. S. N. R., and Mrs. Lombardi (nee Martha F. Wing) have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wing, 15 Magnolia ave., during the past week. They have recently returned from Honolulu where Lt. Lombardi was attached to one of the ships of the Pearl Harbor fleet.

Before her marriage last August, Mrs. Lombardi was chief therapist in the Occupational Therapy Department at Queen's Hospital, Honolulu.

Police Notes

Reports have been received by the police of thefts from Victory gardens.

John Lane of Park Lane who had a garden patch at the Newton Centre playground reported that some of his vegetables had been stolen between the hours of 4:15 and 6:30 p. m.

Another complainant was C. S. Collins of 728 Beacon Street, a lieutenant in the auxiliary police. He reported that vegetables had been stolen from his garden on Thursday evening.

A burglary was discovered on Monday at the home of Arthur Ross, 259 Ward Street, Newton Centre. A rear window had been broken by the thief to gain entrance and the interior of the house was ransacked.

As the Rossen family was away at their summer home it was not learned if anything was missing.

When you buy an Oriental Rug

—do you ask yourself, "Is it a good Rug?" "Is it going to wear well?" "Is the rug free from harmful acids?" There are hundreds of similar questions that may come to your mind, but who is going to answer them all?

Our background and actual business experience of selling, cleaning, reweaving of Oriental Rugs puts us in an enviable position to guide you intelligently.

The rugs we sell are "different." They have the unspooled charms of Persia, the natural colors, the traditional designs and untreated wool that make rugs a delight to own and cherish. They are the heirloom rugs to be appreciated more and more with the coming of every generation.

You might say to yourself I can not afford such rugs. They must cost more than I can pay. The beauty of it all is that you can own a better rug from our selection at no more money. Every good rug like a good painting has a charm and beauty that gives it its rating.

If your Persian Rug is going to be a genuine one, telephone us today your needs. BIGelow 2553.

Plan to can every extra vegetable from your Victory garden and don't worry if your dealer hasn't jars with the kinds of caps you have been accustomed to using. Gladys E. Jones, Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, tells us that very few of the all-time favorite zinc caps are left on the home front because zinc is needed on the battle front, but all Mason jars (any brand) with smooth, even top edges can be sealed with glass top seal or two-piece metal vacuum seal closure. Glass top seals consist of glass lid, rubber ring, and metal screw band. The rubber is placed around the projection on the bottom of the lid, then the lid with rubber is placed so that the rubber rests on top of the jar. The bands are screwed down tight, then loosened slightly before the jars are put into a canner for processing and screwed tight immediately after the jars are removed from the canner. After the jars have stood twelve or fifteen hours, the bands are removed and used to seal more jars with glass top seal or two-piece metal caps. That's one reason Government officials smile upon home canners who use glass top seals.

Another good top seal for Mason jars is the two-piece metal cap, called vacuum seal. The lid is slightly dome shaped, lined with white enamel and has a rubber sealing compound around the outer edge to the jars are placed in a regular jar ring—(don't let anybody fool you—no sealing compounds contain rubber). If one is using old-fashioned open kettle (never use this method for canning vegetables), the lids are boiled a few minutes to sterilize, but need only to be dropped into boiling water and kept hot if the jars of food are to be placed in a canner for processing. After the lid is placed on the jar, the metal band is screwed tight once for all. Retightening the band after the jars are taken out of the canner is likely to prevent sealing. The bands are removed from the jars twelve or fifteen hours after the canning is done and used to seal more lids on other jars. Jars sealed with two-piece metal caps are suitable for all types of canning except oven—a tightly sealed jar is likely to break when subjected to the dry heat of an oven.

Bands for glass top seal and vacuum seal caps are not interchangeable because a deeper band is needed for the glass lids, but these have one thing in common. Neither is rust-proof. That's because of the zinc shortage, but a quick wiping after each use with a cloth moistened with paraffin will prevent serious rusting. It will save time and trouble too if a cloth is prepared ahead of time and kept in a pan of warm water until the paraffin softens.

The "lightning" jar (so called because it is quickest to seal) requires very little metal and not too much rubber for sealing. Several manufacturers make this type jar. It seals with a glass lid and rubber held in place with wire balls. The wires used on one nationally known brand are of heat-treated, high-tension, stretch-proof, spring steel. This is the ideal jar for home canning any year because it is so easy to seal. The rubber is placed on the sealing surface on shoulder, the lid comes next, then the upper ball wire is pushed up until it rests in the groove in the top of the lid. Pay no attention to the lower wire, it takes care of itself until after the jars are removed from the canner—then it is pushed down against the side of the jar and that's all there is to sealing it.

When buying jars, choose pints for peas, corn, and shell beans and quarts for all other vegetables. Half-pint sizes aren't being made, and half-gallons are unsuitable for canning vegetables because it takes too long for heat to reach the center of the jar.

can make a big change

The nickels, dimes and pennies that slip through your fingers . . . they don't make enough difference in a week to be worth writing down. Just small change.

But that small change you don't count can count for a lot. It can give you something to look forward to, something to plan on, something that will give you real peace of mind.

You just cannot realize what a big job a little bit of money saved regularly can do for you until you see it worked out on paper down to the last dollar. That is just what we want to do for you.

But first we have to know two simple facts. If you will just write them on the coupon below together with your name and address we will send you some interesting information. Do it today.

Urge Historian For Civilian Defense

Civilian contributions to the war effort will be recorded permanently by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety.

In making this announcement, J. W. Farley, executive director of the committee, said: "We, who are living through this present war, do not realize the extraordinary patriotic activities of civilians. The contributions made by Massachusetts communities are outstanding. Our life today is the history of tomorrow, and will be read by succeeding generations who deserve to know how we answered the call to duty on the home front in a war that has had no parallel."

Every community in the state is urged by Farley to appoint a local historian or history committee to gather all significant contributions made by civilians, whether the civilians were a part of the civilian defense program or not.

Many states have already taken steps to make a permanent record of civilian activities, Farley said, and Massachusetts, which has an unsurpassed record of patriotic civilian accomplishment, should not neglect to make it an integral part of the history of the state.

NEWTON ARCHERS

Another very successful tournament was held by the Newton Archers on Sunday afternoon, July 11th, at the range in the Newton Center Playground. The club was particularly honored to have Mr. Henry S. C. Cummings, a member of the National Archery Association Board of Governors, and a long-time member of the local club, serve as Field Captain for the shoot.

Mrs. Blanche Simonds captured first honors in the Senior American Round with her score of 87 hits, 543 points. Mr. Adrian Matthews led in the men's division with 88-536.

Mrs. Dorothy de Bruyn Kops received the cup for the high handicap of the field. In the men's division Ted Engle, Jr., was awarded the men's handicap trophy; Mrs. Dorothy Matthews receiving the handicap award for the women.

In the Junior division Dan Murphy took high straight score award with 46 hits, 134. The high handicap cup went to Johnny de Bruyn Kops.

Real Estate News

The office of Brodick Bros. report the following sales: The Chestnut Hill residence of Mrs. Seth Albani, at 25 Mt. Alvernia rd., Newton, has been sold to Edward King of Boston. This English type brick home is situated near Mt. Alvernia Academy, overlooking the grounds of Boston College. The house has 8 rooms and 3 baths and a basement playroom. It is assessed for $20,000.

The home of Frank Montgomery at 255 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, has been sold to Dr. Edward J. O'Donoghue. The house is a Salem type frame Colonial with brick ends, containing 8 rooms and 2 baths with 8560 feet of land in the lot. The property is assessed for $11,200.

Papers have been passed in the sale of the brick residence at 111 Cedar st., Newton Centre. Dr. Louis Mungson was the seller of the property and Brodick Bros. negotiated the sale to an out-of-town buyer. There are 11,671 feet of land with the house, and the property is assessed for $17,500.

Alvord Bros. report increased interest in the purchase of the larger homes in various parts of Newton and Wellesley. A recent sale of considerable interest is a property located at 109 Sargent st., Newton, owned by William T. and Bessie R. Foster, who have until recently occupied the premises as their home. There is an excellent corner lot facing on Sargent st. and Sargent Park, containing about 13,765 sq. ft., finely landscaped with gardens and magnificent specimens of New England foliage. The residence is of solid construction, stucco exterior with slate roof, and contains 11 rooms, 3 baths and extra lavatory, and an excellent screened porch at the rear. The entire house is heated by vapor steam heat fired by oil. There is a two-car garage.

The premises have been purchased by Dr. George K. Zipt, of Duxbury, and will be occupied in the near future by his family. The City of Newton assessment on the premises is $11,000 on the dwelling, $400 on the garage and $3000 on the land, a total of $14,400.

Alvord Bros. further report having consummated the sale of the modern frame and stone residence at 63 Old Field rd., Newton Centre. There are 6 good-sized rooms, a tiled bath with shower, lavatory, screened porch, and a nicely equipped darkroom in the basement. The lot of about 10,000 sq. ft. is fenced in, and the charming grounds with fountain run back to a brook in the rear. Ida L. Denzer, of Newton, has conveyed title. The premises are assessed $7300 on the dwelling, and $1400 on the land, a total of $8700.

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that final papers have been recorded at the sale of the property located at 330 Waverley ave., Newton, for the estate of Lena C. Hutchins. The house is a frame Colonial type containing 9 rooms, 3 baths and has a beautifully landscaped lot of 17,246 square feet, the total assessment being $14,000. Jesse Stam, the purchaser, will occupy.

29 Arrested in
Two Dice Games

A total of 29 arrests were made Sunday in two raids conducted by the Newton police in a drive against Sunday dice games.

At 12:45 Sunday morning Sgt.
Charles E. Walker accompanied by six patrolmen arrested 11 men in the cellar of the house at 182 River st., West Newton, seized two tables and some dice; also six pairs of phoney dice from the car of one of the men.

At 11:15 Sunday morning Chief Michael T. Hughes accompanied by Sergeants Walker, Meehan and Purcell, Inspector Lyons and a dice game in an alley off West st., Nonantum, where 18 men were arrested.

In the Newton District Court on Tuesday morning one of the defendants in the River st. case was fined $15, another was fined $25 and 8 others were fined $5 each.
Another one of the defendants, a resident of Boston, who did not appear in court, was defaulted.

Of the 18 arrested in the West st. raid, 16 were charged with gaming on the Lord's Day, and two with being present at a game on the Lord's Day, one of these being a juvenile. They were all fined $5 each except the juvenile and his case was continued until

John E. Wilson Named Chairman

Colonel Richard F. Stretton,
Chief Executive of The Salvation Army in Massachusetts, announces from his Boston Headquarters, that John E. Wilson, President of Batchelder & Snyder Company, in Boston, and immediate past president of Boston
Rotary, has accepted the General
Chairmanship of the 1943-1944
Greater Boston Annual Maintenance Appeal.

Already Mr. Wilson has started planning for the selection of the top-leaders of the campaign, which will get into action with a TAKE-OFF program, shortly after Labor Day.

In accepting the post, Mr. Wilson said:
"As Chairman of the Greater Boston Advisory Board of The Salvation Army, I know of the greatly enlarged program to make Uncle Sam's fighting forces happier as they serve in this territory or come to the Boston area on leave. Additional Red Shield Clubs for Service Men are being opened. The Mobile Canteen fleet, that goes out to give cheer to men on isolated posts, is being enlarged. This also includes passing out of gallons upon gallons of hot coffee, luscious doughnuts and many additional items."

"In the zero weather of last winter, this service included woolen garments that aided Uncle Sam's guards of bridges, wharves, war plants and the men who protect our coast line, no matter what the weather."

"I have come to the conclusion that this war will be won on the Home Front. Thus I am happy to give of my time to gather sinew of service for the war program and to ask an increased participation to assure continuance of Christ-like and humanitarian services, that aid the hardhit men, women and children of Greater Boston cities. While our committee has not set an objective for the fall campaign, it will of necessity be larger than we sought in 1942."

Mr. Wilson has long been associated with the annual appeals of The Salvation Army in Boston.
Last year he headed the special gifts division and for three previous years led a victorious Industry and Finance Division.
V-Gardening is Mr. Wilson's 1943 hobby. He loves to grow vegetables and flowers in any year.

The Wilsons live at 45 Sears ave., Melrose, Mass.

ban was discovered early Sunday morning, by his mother, Mrs. Martha Dakin, who awakened the other members of the family. Engines 2 of West Newton, Engine
6 of Newton Lower Falls and Ladder 2 of Newton Highlands responded to a telephone call received at headquarters at 1:20 a.m.
The blaze which started in the cellar destroyed a couch and spread to the pine paneling on the wall.

On Monday afternoon at 2:30 Engine 1 responded to a call for a fire at the home of Rev. Newton A. Merritt, 83 Fairmont ave., Newton. The blaze was quickly extinguished. The Merritt family were at their summer home.

A car was destroyed and the garage at 32 Ware Road, Auburn-dale badly damaged in an early morning blaze on Monday, which also threatened the two family house nearby. The property was owned by Elsie Massicot who resides on the second floor of the house.

Send-Off Given Selectees

The Newton Centre Improvement Association sponsored the send-off for the men of Selective Service Board 114 who left the Newton City Hall on Monday morning to join the armed forces.

Rev. M. Russell Boynton, D.D., of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, was the principal speaker. Sidney S. Van Loesecke, president of the Improvement Association, presented a check on behalf of the association, to Roy D. Edwards, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Service Men, to cover the expenses of the travelling kits presented to the men. Mr.
Edwards was master of ceremonies.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard addressed the group and A. Leslie Harwood, chairman of Board 114, spoke for the board.

Members of Chaplain Farrell
Chapman, D. A. V., seated as Color Guard. The Newton Boy Scout public address system was used for recorded music.

Why I ask you not to call war centers

RIGHT NOW the lines leading outside New England — especially those to war centers — are carrying a tremendous load. I know because I'm a Long Distance Operator.

Something needs to be done because war messages must go through promptly any hour of the day or night.

The answer, I'm certain, is to ask you to reduce all non-vital calls. In particular, unless yours is war business, avoid calling points outside New England unless absolutely necessary.

At times — of course — even the busiest circuits have intervals of light traffic. Perhaps you have had a call to a war center go right through, but that doesn't always happen, we assure you.

You can help by canceling any unessential long distance call when you're told the circuit is busy
... it enables us to give prompt service to the really urgent messages, even to the busy places.

ONLY WAR CALLS TO THESE CENTERS, PLEASE!

Camp Day

Parents of Frank A. Day campers will have an opportunity to visit their boys at camp on July 31st, it was announced today by Camp Director Samuel H. Johnson. The parents will leave Newtonville station at 10:36 a. m. and on returning, will leave West Brookfield at 9:46 p. m. The "bottleneck" is getting parents from the train to camp. Director Johnson makes no promises as to the mode of travel except that the parents will get there. Full details will be available next week.
July 31st is "Circus Day." The boys are planning an extra special show for the parents. The Newton Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary will be the hostesses on the trip and will be at the station that morning. Mrs. George R. Strandberg, President of the Auxiliary, is appointing a hostess committee.

Camp Notes

Athletic tournaments and games are the order of the day this week.
The season's first track meet was held last Saturday under the direction of Ross Humphrey. Kenneth Dunne was high scorer in the senior division. In the junior division the Yankees were victorious with Bob Evans being the high scorer. Richard Thompson was the top scorer in the midjet division.

Nature activation under the direction of Professor Fred L.
"Proff" Daye are coming in for a lot of attention. Hikes to Lake Quabog, to the bridge, and to the Indian Village have been very popular—as popular as the scenery have been the ripe blueberries and raspberries available to the campers along the trails.

Waterfront activities, under the direction of Reginald Smith, continue to be the most popular. Several "sink easies" are now making their first strokes while a great group of the campers have passed their rowboat and canoe tests. The nine sailboats are in action on every available day. In the craft shop, model aviation under the direction of Donald Rawlings, is very popular. The plane builders have set up a club room in the upstairs room of the assembly hall.

seniors are entertaining the campers in a twilight baseball league which is developing into quite a battle. Robert Venne, Don Evans,
Al Evans, Don Keith, and Bill Hanse are showing the way in the number of hits and runs.

This weekend Frederick Sayford
Bacon, President of the Newton
Y. M. C. A., Henry T. Dunker,

Chairman of the Camp Committee, and Thomas E. Shirley, a member of the Camp Committee plan to visit camp. Clarence R.
Mease, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., will be the speaker at the Chapel on Sunday morning.

Citizens Urged To Destroy Ragweed

Newton has been "ragweed conscious" for a number of years and progress has been made. Newton was one of the pioneers in recognizing the menace of ragweed and many of her citizens have made every effort to eliminate this pest. Since the appeal is statewide, let us continue the good work and make Newton a "Ragweedless" community. We appeal especially to our golf and country clubs to join the fight, and those who own idle land.

Newton Man Dies In Jap Prison

Atty. and Mrs. James S. Cannon of 28 Jefferson st., Newton, were notified by the War Department on July 14 that their son, William E. Cannon, 23, had died while a prisoner of the Japanese.

In May 1942 he had been officially reported as "missing in action" and about two months ago his parents were notified that he had been taken as a prisoner of war. He enlisted in 1940 and after studying aeronautics at the University of Chicago was sent to the West Coast and then to the Philippines arriving there a few days before Pearl Harbor was later sunk by a mine. It is believed he had taken part in the battle of Bataan and Corregidor. He is survived by his parents, one sister, Miss Helen T. Cannon, U. S. Navy flier stationed at Peru, Indiana; Paul V. Cannon, of the U. S. Maritime Service; Seaman 1st Class Robert T. Cannon, U. S. Coast Guard, James S. Jr., and John K. Cannon.

His fiancée, Miss Eleanor Spawny of Brighton, joined the SPARS several months ago.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

There are openings for new members in the Framingham Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, in which a number of persons from Framingham, Waltham and Newton are already enrolled, according to an announcement by Capt. Stanley E. Hall of Wellesley, Squadron Commander.

Capt. Hall's announcement stated: "If you are interested in aviation and have been discouraged by war-time regulations, Civil Air Patrol offers you pre-flight training. As a member of the Civil Air Patrol, you are allowed to receive actual flight training, at your own expense. Civilian flight training is now limited to Civil Air Patrol members and plane owners."

Hospital Aid Coffee Shop To Open Next Week

The Newton Hospital Aid Coffee Shop, so long anticipated, is at last on the verge of completion and is expected to open the last week in July.

Conceived last March by members of the Executive Committee of the Hospital Aid Association, its realization has been precariously threatened on more than one occasion by innovations of the W. P. B., restricting all such projects to what at least once appeared to be the vanishing point; and then revising its regulations to the point of hope revived.

The shop is now a reality, with a soda fountain, tables for light lunches, a gift shop for basic needs, a well-equipped kitchen, and an office.

In charge of the entire project is Mrs. Walter McGill, with Mrs. Charles Floyd and Mrs. D. Morley Lodge as her assistants. Mrs. Floyd as chairman of volunteers, and Mrs. Lodge as treasurer. Mrs. Stuart Gibson is manager in charge of food, with Mrs. Edward Abbott and Mrs. John Floyd as her assistants.

A large staff of volunteers is to serve on three-hour shifts, from nine to nine daily (Sundays 2:30 to 7:30), each group in charge of a village chairman. These chairmen, who will gladly welcome new recruits (all to be either present or newly initiated Hospital Aid Association members), are as follows: Newton: Mrs. Horace Cole, Newtonville: Mrs. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant, Newton Centre: Miss Marguerite Flanders and Mrs. Walter Marston, Auburndale: Mrs. Chas. Floyd, West Newton: Mrs. John Eaton and Charles Spencer, Newton Highlands: Mrs. Theron B. Walker, Waban: Mrs. Dana Dutcher, Wellesley: Mrs. Robert Lyman and Mrs. Edward F. Stevens.

Those women who would be interested to give a few hours a week (day or evening), to this entertaining work should call their village chairman at once. Each worker may take a lesson in soda fountain technique at the ice cream division of H. P. Hood Co. in Somerville under the averted and expert instruction of Mr. Clarence King. These lessons are conducted in groups at their Roland st. plant every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and provide a stimulating entertainment as a vaudeville show. Recruit a group and have fun!

THE NEWTON HOSPITAL AID BENEFIT SHOP
It is regrettable that mistakes are constantly arising by confusing the Newton Hospital Aid Benefit Shop with the Thetford Center and donations intended for one are sent to the other. The Benefit Shop at 795 Washington st., Newtonville, is a project established over seventeen years ago to earn money for the Newton Hospital and is maintained by the Newton Hospital Aid Association.

The staff of workers are volunteers from all of the Newtons and Wellesley and every dollar earned by the shop goes directly to buying improved equipment, maintaining nurses' fellowships and the general betterment of the hospital.

Donations for the Benefit Shop may be collected on Wednesday mornings by notifying the Director, Mrs. Francis Williams, LAS 1426 or the chairman for transportation, Mrs. Raymond Perkins, BIG 8123.

The Shop will be closed during August, opening again September 8, special appointments may be made during August by calling Mrs. Ernest Drew, BIG 0924.

Medal Awarded Lieut. Schwimmer

The award of an Air Medal to 1st Lieut. Daniel B. Schwimmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew B. Schwimmer of 420 Ward st., Newton Centre, has been announced by the War Department. The medal was earned in anti-submarine flights over the Atlantic. Lt. Schwimmer flew more than 200 hours as a bombardier in an army plane in the war on submarines. He is a brother of Lt. Charles Schwimmer, one of the "Fighting Four," who won fame for knocking many Jap planes from the skies. He was later reported as missing in action. An airport in New Guinea has been named in his honor.

Local Council Holds Meeting

A meeting of the Committee on Welfare of the Newton Community Council was held on Tuesday, July 20, at 5 p. m., at the council office to consider "Intake Policies for Servicemen's Dependents." F. W. Andres, Chairman of the Committee, stated: "This a community matter of vital importance and demands the careful and co-operative planning of all public and private social service agencies in Newton." To this end a subcommittee will be appointed to study and submit recommendations of policy to a subsequent meeting of the group.

The meeting was attended by: Catholic Welfare Committee, Rev. John A. Sheridan; Family Service Bureau, Miss Harriet L. Parsons; Newton Hospital Social Service, Miss Elizabeth Wheeler; Public Welfare, James P. Reynolds; Red Cross, Miss Christine Tarpinian; Mesdames John A. Chase, Nancy Webbling and George Young, Messrs. C. R. Cahot and William Rice; Soldiers' Relief, Edmund T. Dungan, Norman Mitchell, Charles E. Hughes, Charles P. Slocumb; Members of the Committee on Welfare, F. W. Andres, Chairman; Charles C. Dasey and Mrs. Alden H. Spence; Esther C. Walther, Executive Secretary.

WACS ENJOY SWIM

The cool waters of Crystal Lake gave relief to more than 200 WACS and soldiers from the Boston Corp Area Wednesday evening, July 14, when the bathhouse facilities and beach were taken over by them. A request from the Boston Headquarters for permission to use the facilities of the lake was readily approved by F. Ewing Wilson, Commissioner of Recreation. There are few places in the metropolitan area which could handle such a large number in a bathhouse and at the same time have a private beach for their enjoyment.

The girls, in charge of a first Lieutenant, enjoyed the dip right up to the last minute of closing time and with their escorts, provided by the Boston Buddies' Club, were loud in their praise of the lake's facilities, and gave a beautiful thanks for the privileges accorded them.

Lifeguards Nicholas Tedesco, Gilbert Champagne and Claire McCarthy did little worrying while the WACS were in the water, for our female soldiers are excellent swimmers and taunted the guards to show them something new in water stunts.

The young ladies and soldier escorts were invited to arrange again for the use of the lake's facilities for the Newton Recreation Commission is anxious to serve our military units to the limit of the city's capacity.

—Rev. Roger W. Bennett, Rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, is occupying the pulpit in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, for the month of July.

Newtonville Man Wins Promotion

Lieut. Charles J. Doherty, formerly of 15 Broadway, Newtonville, who was one of the first three selectees in New England to become commissioned officers, has been promoted to Captain. Captain Doherty has been assigned to the staff of General Frank Camm at Fort Bragg, N. C., as his assistant. Captain Doherty is the son of Ex-Alderman and Mrs. W. J. Doherty of 97 Glen ave., Newton Centre.

Captain Doherty was inducted in March, 1941 and was commissioned Second Lieut. at Fort Sill, Okla., and later was transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C., where he was further advanced to First Lieut. and on June 28th, 1943 was commissioned Captain.

Captain Doherty was graduated from Harvard in 1936.

Patrolman Whelan Retires From Dept.

The retirement of Patrolman Thomas F. Whelan from the Newton police force after 21 years of service was authorized by the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening under the Veterans' Retirement Act.

The compulsory retirement age is 65 years but under the Veterans' Retirement Act, a veteran of World War I may be retired on a pension after 20 years of service. Patrolman Whelan, who is 47, was appointed to the police force on Feb. 7, 1922.

The sum of $495 was appropriated by the board for his pension for the balance of the year.

Is Host To Capt. Howard Sessler

President Carl S. Ell of Northeastern University was host at a luncheon in the University Club, Boston, on Thursday, July 22, for Capt. Howard A. Sessler of Arlington, hero of Tokio and African bombing missions.

Sessler has become one of the outstanding air aces and is the winner of many awards, including the Distinguished Flying Cross, as the result of 50 bombing missions. His outstanding bombing probably was the one with Jimmie Doolittle over Tokio.

Capt. Sessler was graduated from Arlington High School and is an alumnus of Northeastern University.

Weenie Roast Is Very Successful

Instructors and children of the Upper Falls Playground on Saturday evening combined their talents in collecting a sufficient number of the coveted red ration points to conduct one of the most successful and enjoyable weenie roasts of the year.

There was no shortage of the popular weenies, as they were stacked ready for the fire. Waiting for the cool of the evening and plenty of appetite, the fire was started in the outdoor fireplace on the banks of the river. All the "fixins" were ready—rolls, butter and mustard—and in a jiffy the fragrance of the cor'ing weenies filled the air. Weenie after weenie was enjoyed as awed parents watched the same children, who had to be coaxed to eat supper only two hours before, eat the weenies with a smack after every bite.

The instructors, Miss Margaret Cotter, Miss Jennie Chesaron and Mr. Carl Penny, plan a weekly weenie roast and have picked Thursday evening of each week as the time for the "Big Eats". There won't be many weenies left for the general public in Upper Falls on Thursday.

Topic, July 25: "THE LITTLE MORE"

(Conventional Morality—Plus)

Services at 10:50 A.M.

About this time of year disciples of Isaac Walton begin to tell yarns about the big fish they catch but Newton fly casters have to go some to beat little Jackie Mullen, 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mullen of 256 Tremont street, Newton, who caught a 2½ pound wide-mouthed bass on a recent vacation trip to New Hampshire. Jackie had no fancy tackle, just a hook, line, and stick for a pole. He trailed that bass for an hour until he finally landed him and nearly slipped off a rock in the excitement. And no wonder, for it was the largest fish caught at Lake Onway for some time. Jackie and his five year old brother brought the catch down and had it mounted although "there was a question for a while whether it would be eaten or preserved."

To Hold Model Yacht Regatta

The second model yacht regatta for boys and girls of Metropolitan Boston will be held on Saturday morning, July 24th, on the Charles River Basin Lagoon at the foot of Exeter st., at 10 o'clock, under auspices of Community Recreation Service of Boston and the Boston Model Yacht Club.

There will be a third regatta in August and a final one in September. Prizes will be awarded to each class for first, second and third places at each regatta, and the points scored will be recorded toward a total for a cup to be awarded in each class at the end of the season to the contestant accumulating the most points.

Any boy or girl under 21 years of age may enter a sailboat in one or more of the following classes: 18 in., 24 in., 30 in., and 40 in. No restrictions as to size of rig, sail area, displacement or control. Contestants may enter by reporting with their boats at the Lagoon on the morning of the race, even though they do not have applications.

Plan New Class In Life Saving

Mrs. Robert E. Dickerman, Chairman of Water Safety of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, announces a new class for boys and girls in Junior and Senior Life-Saving beginning July 26 at 11 a. m. at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre. All those interested report to Miss Claire McCarthy, Red Cross Instructor, at Crystal Lake.

Petition For Change Of Bus Route Denied

Opposition of Residents Given As Reason For Denying Road's Request

At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night the petition of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway for change of a bus route in Newtonville was denied after careful study had been given the matter by a sub-committee of the Franchises and Licenses committee.

Chairman Schofield of the sub-committee reported that another route had also been considered but was found to be about a half a mile longer than the proposed route or the present route which he said are about the same length. In view of the opposition of residents along the proposed route it was decided he stated to recommend that the petition for the change be denied.

The following appropriations requested by Mayor Paul M. Goddard were unanimously granted by the Board:

Street Department

For the construction of new sidewalks, one half cost to be paid by the city, $2500.

Reconstruction of Beacon st., Waban, from Gordon rd. to Windsor rd., $37,500.

Reconstruction of Hall st., Newton, from Washington st. to Centre st., $2,500.

Reconstruction of Commonwealth ave. near Norumberga pk., from Phillips st. southerly 800 feet, $7,500.

The sum of $646.56 was appropriated for additional salaries for four firemen of the Water Department employed at the pumping station for extra hourly work on account of the shortage of help.

The sum of $210 was appropriated for the placing of a guard at the plant of the Masten & Wells Fireworks Manufacturing Co. to prevent vandalism. The land and buildings on this property have been acquired by the city but the contents remain the property of the fireworks company. Efforts are being made by city officials to have the contents removed.

For expenses of the soldier's relief commissioner and investigator in attending the Massachusetts Soldiers' Relief Officers Convention at North Adams the sum of $80 was voted.

A permit was granted Lulu F. Sharpe to establish a day nursery for not more than 10 children at the residence, 337 Winchester st., which is in a single residence "C" district. At a previous hearing Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cutler of Carl st. had appeared in opposition. The hearing was continued on Monday night when the petitioner was accompanied by several other residents of the section all of whom spoke in favor of the petition. Alderman John Temperley was the only member of the board who voted in opposition to granting the permit.

A petition of Dr. Edward J. Levenson for a waiver of the setback line from 25 feet to 14 feet on Irving st. to permit the erection of a doctor's office as an addition to the dwelling at 17 Gardner st. was unanimously granted. There was no opposition.

The petition filed by Catherine M. Clancy to use the first floor of the single dwelling at 398 Waltham st., West Newton for a day nursery was granted, most of the abutters being in favor of it.

A hearing was held on the petition of Thomas P. Joyce for a waiver of the 5 foot distance requirement from the lot line to permit the erection of a two-car fireproof garage on the lot lines at 42 Southgate Park, West Newton. The petition was granted.

An offer of $400 for city-owned land on Beacon st., Waban, was rejected by the board.

Five claims for damages were denied by the board as recommended by the Claims and Rules Committee.

Vice-president Joseph B. Jamieson presided at the meeting in the absence of President Charles B.

Floyd. The next meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held on August 16.

Complaints Of Thefts From Victory Gardens

Several complaints of thefts from Victory Gardens and of garden equipment have been reported to the Newton police within the past week.

A garden hose and sprinkler disappeared from the rear porch of the home of Henry J. M. Nichols, 31 Burnham rd., according to a report received on Thursday from Peter Carvelli of West Newton, gardener of the Nichols estate.

William K. Wells of 31 Homer st., Newton Centre, reported on Friday that 50 feet of garden hose had been stolen from his property. On the same day Dr. Louis Lewis of 127 Blake st., Newtonville, reported that his garage had been entered and a lawn mower, two metal rakes, two wooden rakes, an edging tool and two lengths of hose were taken.

On Friday Mrs. Edith P. Wilcox of 59 Prince st., West Newton, reported that vegetables had been uprooted and stolen from her garden on the previous night. Mrs. Abbott Lane of 22 Caroline Park, Waban reported that tomato and pepper plants had been pulled up in her garden and thrown around.

On Monday Frank D'Andrea of 274 Langley rd., Newton Centre, reported that lye had been poured on his tomato and lettuce plants.

Only Four Out Of 109 Eating Places Not Up To Par

A report by the Newton Health Department on their recent inspection of eating establishments in the city, shows that of the total of 109 establishments visited only four were rated as "Unsatisfactory." The report on the others rated 81 as "Good" and 24 as "Fair."

These ratings are determined by the bacteriological analysis of specimens taken periodically from drinking utensils by inspectors from the Health Department. Since this procedure was first started there has been a marked increase in the higher ratings of establishments, the improvement being largely due to more efficient systems of washing and sterilizing utensils.

Man Narrowly Escapes Death

Charles R. Miller, 70, of 619 Washington st., Newton, narrowly escaped serious injury on Wednesday evening of last week when he fell on the car tracks on Park st., Newton, as a trolley car was approaching. The motorman on seeing the form of the man lying on the track was able to apply the brakes just in time to avoid hitting him.

Merrill was removed to the hospital in the police ambulance where he was found to have suffered severe head injuries. He remained unidentified for several hours before regaining consciousness.

CAMBRIDGE SUMMER THEATRE

Next week at Brattle Hall, the Cambridge Summer Theatre, through co-producers John Huntington and Louise Falk, will present the star of stage, screen and radio Erin O'Brien-Moore in "Ladies in Retirement," a psychological melodrama by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham. Miss O'Brien-Moore will be supported by the resident company at Cambridge. Erin O'Brien-Moore, whom you have doubtless heard often on the air in the famed radio serial "John's Other Wife," first conceived an interest in the theatre when she saw Nazimova play "War Brides" in her home town Milwaukee. Although the young Miss O'Brien-Moore had been studying ballet until that time, the drama immediately claimed her undivided attention. A season with the Provincetown Players prepared her for her Broadway debut which was the part of a maid in "The Makropulos Secret." London was the next stop on the way to success for she played the ingenue in "The Music Master" for more than a year. Back in this country, she was seen in the ingenue lead in a play called "Skidding," the play from which the idea for the Andy Hardy series was derived. She scored her first big smash success as the rebellious romantic daughter in Elmer Rice's great "Street Scene," a part which she played for three seasons on Broadway, in London and on the road. After another Broadway appearance in "Riddle Me This" she went to Hollywood. Her first film was "His Greatest Gamble" with Richard Dix. Then followed "The Life of Emil Zola" with Paul Muni, "The Ex-Mrs. Bradford" with William Powell, "Black Legion" with Humphrey Bogart, "Green Light" with Errol Flynn. A three-year radio contract as the leading woman in the serial "John's Other Wife" has kept her quite busy lately although she did find time to put out a new play on Broadway called "The Romantic Mr. Dickens" with Diana Barrymore. Her most recent appearance was in "Apology" with Elissa Landi.

The play at Cambridge next week is a murder mystery of the eerie type, full of impacts and tense psychological situations. "Ladies in Retirement" served originally as the vehicle to introduce Flora Robson, noted English actress, to this country, and was written by the same authors who wrote "Suspect" in which the same Flora Robson scored so heavily last summer at Brattle Hall. Jeanne Cagney, Louise Valery, William Mendrick, Allan Tower, Joan Griess and other members of the resident company will be seen in prominent parts. There will be a matinee on Saturday of this exciting mystery drama.

For the remainder of this week, Rita Chase will be seen in "Biography," S. N. Behrman's brilliant comedy of a famous woman painter. Miss Chase, famed stage, screen and radio personality is supported by John Ireland, Jeanne Cagney and Allan Tower.

NEWTON VICTORY GARDENS

Canning demonstrations were held in schools throughout the city during the week of July 12, and in spite of the wilting heat many residents took advantage of the opportunity to see such produce as tomatoes, greens, string and wax beans, plums, apple sauce, blueberries and peaches go through the stages of canning. There will be other canning demonstrations held Aug. 3, 4 and 5.

On Monday of this week Miss Dorothea Harrison, of the Middlesex Extension Service, made a visit to the Newton Victory Gardens. She was particularly interested in seeing the community plots. Although the countryside is very dry, for the most part the gardens looked well cared for. In the gardens on the old Altemarble golf course it was good to see the old rain barrel out to catch every last drop of rain and the last drip from a faucet. The garden was rigged up in the middle of the field. It was very obvious that the most of the gardeners had obeyed the rules on spraying, as most of the crops looked very healthy and flourishing. The few gardens that had been abandoned, for one reason or another, were negligible. For the most part all the Victory Gardeners planted the same sort of crops but there was one garden growing okra. It has a very beautiful blossom, one that resembles the hollyhock.

After looking over the group gardens, visits were made to individual gardens in the city. One in Newton Centre was the garden and Mrs. Irving W. House of 72 Taft avenue, West Newton, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Margaret Ellen House to Malcolm S. Crum, chief petty officer, USN of Melrose.

Only immediate families were present at the ceremony performed in the Navy Chapel at Portsmouth, N. H., on Sunday, July 4.

LANDREY-RYAN

White gladioli decorated the altar of St. Bernard's Church on Saturday morning, July 17, for the marriage of Miss Mary Josephine Ryan and Leo Raymond Landrey of Chevy Chase, Maryland. The ten o'clock nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Bartholemew Skelly of Hartford, Conn., assisted by the Rev. Lawrence Skelly of Waterbury, Conn., both cousins of the bride. A reception followed at the Brae Burn Country Club. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ryan of 33 Chesterfield rd., West Newton, and Mr. Landrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Landrey of West Roxbury.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pale ivory satin styled with a fitted bodice trimmed with Carrickmacross lace at the neck and sleeves, a bouffant skirt and long train. She carried a cascade of gardenias, Stephanotis and baby's breath and wore a long tulle veil caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. Miss Ellen W. Dalton of Marlboro was the maid of honor. She wore aqua mauve chiffon and carried a bouquet of lavender sweet peas, yellow roses and snapdragons. The bridesmaids wore similar gowns of yellow chiffon with matching hats and carried pale blue delphinium, snapdragon and yellow roses. They were Miss Mary Bradley of Ridgewood, N. J.; Miss Margaret Donaher of Detroit, Michigan; Miss Elizabeth Moorehead of New London, Conn.; and Miss Kathleen Stokely of Atlanta, Georgia. Miss Ryan wore a long gown of flamingo crepe and a corsage of orchids while Mrs. Landrey wore a dusty pink gown with an orchid corsage.

James E. McDonald of Watertown was the best man and the ushers were John Ryan, U.S.N.R., brother of the bride, Russell Martin of Brighton, George Cunniff of Brookline and Rand McNally of Dedham.

The bride graduated in 1940 from Radcliffe College and the groom received a bachelor of arts degree from Boston College in 1939 and a master of science degree in 1941. Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Landrey will live in Washington, D. C.

COOKSON-DAVIS

A recent wedding of Newton interest which was performed on Sunday afternoon, July 11, in the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Duxbury was that of Miss Olive Davis, of Duxbury and Lt. (j.g.) William Cookson, U.S.N.R. of West Newton. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Woodman and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Davis.

With her white georgette gown, the bride wore a fingertip veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Grace Lacey, of Plymouth, who wore a blue crepe gown, a pink hat, and carried delphinium and pink roses. Lt. Robert Noane was the best man and the ushers were Frank A. Davis of Duxbury and George A. Davis.

Mrs. Cookson is a graduate of the Duxbury High School and Westbrook Junior College. At present she is a student nurse at the Newton Hospital. Lt. Cookson, who is the son of Mrs. Georgina Cookson of West Newton, is a graduate of the Newton High School and the Massachusetts Nautical Schoolship.

GEE-PECK

Thursday evening, July 15, in the Baptist Church, Needham, Miss Peggy Gee became the bride of Staff Sergeant Bernard C. Peck, U. S. Army. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Lomas and a reception followed in the church parlors. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Gee of 219 Chestnut street, West Newton, and Sergeant Peck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman B. Peck of Needham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of white organza and carried a white colonial bouquet. She was attended by Mrs. John Reeves who wore yellow georgette and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers. Mr. Caldwell was the best man and Paul Robson was the usher.

Mrs. Peck is a graduate of Cushing Academy and Sergeant Peck is a graduate of Needham High School.

DE NAPOLI-HOWE

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Howe, daughter of Mrs. Elwood A. Howe of 30 Playstead rd., Newton, was married on Saturday, July 10, to Ensign Gerard Ralph DeNapoli, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo DeNapoli of 34 Manet rd., Chestnut Hill. The three o'clock ceremony was performed in the Boston College Chapel by Rev. Francis Herlihy and a reception followed in the garden at the bridegroom's home.

Gowned in white chiffon, the bride wore a tulle veil from a Juliet cap of lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her sister, Miss Dorothy B. Howe, wore turquoise and carried tall palm roses. Mrs. Howe chose a light blue print dress and coat ensemble while Mrs. DeNapoli wore a dark blue sheer. James Cullen, of Allston, was the best man.

The bride graduated from the Newton High School in 1937 and from the Newton Hospital School of Nursing in 1941. She is a member of Kappa Phi sorority. Ensign DeNapoli graduated in 1936 from the Newton High School and in 1941 from Northeastern University. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Sigma fraternity. Ensign and Mrs. DeNapoli left on a wedding trip to Lake Morey, Fairlee, VT.

RILEY-KEARNEY

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. James Ahern of 171 Melrose street, Auburndale, of the marriage of Miss Mildred E. Kearney to Ensign William S. Riley, USN. The wedding was performed in St. Edward's Chapel of the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville, Florida, on Saturday, July 10. Mrs. Ahern was the bride's attendant and Ensign Joseph Berry, USN., was the best man.

MOTHERS' REST ASSOCIATION

As has been the custom since 1903, the Mothers' Rest Association has again opened its doors to welcome another group of mothers and children from Greater Boston. From June 16 to September 3, the long, comfortable white rest home in the Oak Hill section of Newton will accommodate the mothers who seek a rest from the rigors of the past winter and their children who need the sunshine and good food so amply provided.

The present group of guests has just arrived and is composed of 20 mothers and 23 children, ranging in age from a few weeks to 5 years. The others will enjoy relaxation in the cool pine grove while their children will be supervised at play in the wading pool, in the sandboxes or on the swings, by a trained kindergarten. They all will be cared for by a resident matron in charge of the house-keeping, a nurse who looks out for the health of the children, a kindergarten, cook, laundress and maid. Members of the board provide religious services and an evening's entertainment for each group. In the selection of the guests no distinction is made as to race, creed or color. It is a unique organization carrying out under difficult circumstances, a unique plan, and any contribution to help maintain this haven for tired mothers and children will be gratefully received. Mrs. Ellis Gates of Waban is president and Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, of Newton Centre, treasurer.

FOLK FESTIVAL OF THE ALLIED NATIONS

On Saturday, July 24th, at 3:00 p.m., the American Institute of Normal Methods will host its eleventh annual folk festival on the campus of Lassell Junior College. The production this year is taking its theme from the Four Freedoms, and is called a Festival of the Allied Nations.

Each year the festival is an outgrowth of the work carried on by the American Institute of Normal Methods Folk Festival Production class under the direction of Miss Beatrice Hunt, and combines the activities of that group with the rhythmic classes at the American Institute of Normal Methods and at the Williams Training School, conducted by Mrs. Edna Doll. Boys and girls from grades 1 to 9 in the Williams School under the direction of Mr. James Remley, Director of Music in the Newton Schools, and adult students from the American Institute of Normal Methods, will bring the number of festival participants to 200.

Colorful costumes, traditional folk tunes, choré speech work, and gay folk dances make this annual folk festival an outstanding event of the American Institute of Normal Methods season.

The program follows:
 Episode I—America. Answers the Challenge of the United Nations.
 Episode II—Entrance of Liberty the Challenge of the United Nations.
 III—Freedom from Fear.
 IV—Freedom of Religion.
 V—Freedom from Want.
 VI—Freedom of Speech.
 VII—Finale.

WAR INCREASES MUSIC APPRECIATION

The last few years has seen an increasing interest in the American public in good music and fine performances. Contrary to the common saying that "Musicians have to be silent in war" this war proved the extremely important role the arts are entitled to, and are able to play, in keeping up morale and thus helping the war effort. Said Julian Huxley, the famous English Professor of Natural History at a meeting which was held last spring in the "Architects League of New York City" on behalf of the arts in Wartime England. "Never before did the masses crowd concert halls and open spaces to listen to fine classical music, to the greatest and most sacred work as they do now—never were they so interested in good paintings, museums; why, even to the houses whose windows were bombed out, painters came rushing along and painted panels with lovely pictures to cover the open holes, and the masses crowded around and cheered." "It is morale as well as bombers which will win the war and the peace," the great scholar went on, "therefore, cherish art and good music, attend fine performances, teach your children to understand, appreciate and enjoy the finer things in life, which make life worthwhile—most of all the art which goes deepest to the heart, stirs the most sacred feelings, stresses our love, patriotism, and all your fine sentiments most—good music."

Residents of Newton are proud of the fact that in recent years this culture of art and music has improved in our Grade and High Schools, in Women's Clubs, Churches, Choirs, Glee Clubs, etc., not only with professional musicians, but among families, the average man and woman and their youngsters. Anticipating a new season of cultural events in our community, we also remember past events, such as the presentation of the Newtonville Woman's Club, Inc., in the High School Auditorium on June 11, 1943. Under the experienced leadership of Mrs. George I. Whitehead, General Chairman, and Mrs. Henry W. W. man, author and director, a colorful series of Prologues, Episodes, Dance Interludes, Songs, etc., was presented. The song "United We Serve" which was successfully repeated three times, was especially for this occasion by the gifted composer Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, a resident of Newton.

Miss Nana Krieger who accompanied the Dance Interludes exhibited musicianship at its best. Nana Krieger (Mrs. Paul Geiringer) who has been living in Newtonville since the spring of 1942 with her husband a consulting engineer, and her two children, was famous in Europe for her successes in concert-halls and over European radio-networks and for her technical abilities. Having been a member of the Royal Academy of Music in Budapest as a pupil of the world-famous composer and pianist, Ernest von Dohnanyi, she graduated with the highest honors from the Master's class of the Vienna Academy of Music where she was a favorite pupil of the world-renowned pianist, Paul Wittgenstein.

In Vienna where she resided with her husband, she won great success as a concert-pianist. Among the many pupils she successfully educated there, were children, adults, and prospective artists who received the best of training, and won success through her teaching. The renowned pianist Bronislaw Gilewsky, is one of her best pupils. Another, Frida Aichbaum, won the "Golden Prize of the City of Vienna" in a worldwide competition which Vienna, the music centre of Europe, had established under the leadership of Professor Emil von Sauer, the greatest pianist of his day—before Hitler's Hordes destroyed art and culture in Vienna.

We have been pleased to learn that the Newtonville Woman's Club has invited Miss Krieger to give a recital in November and we are sure that the many admirers of Miss Krieger's art are looking forward to this event.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth." These words from I John 5:6 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 25, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "Truth." Including in the Scriptures' selections will be: "Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and in righteousness" (Zechariah 8:7, 8).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "We can, and ultimately shall, so rise as to avail ourselves in every direction of the supremacy of Truth over error, Life or death, and good over evil, and this growth will go on until we arrive at the fullness of God's idea, and no more fear that we shall be sick and die" (p. 406).

Kiwanis Activities

Mr. James P. Gallagher, International Trustee of Kiwanis, addressed the Newton Club at their regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A. in Newton last Tuesday. Mr. Gallagher was introduced by Mr. James P. Riggs, President of the Club. He took for his subject the Kiwanis Wartime Conference.

Mr. Gallagher described how Kiwanis in many ways was cooperating with the U. S. Government in the furtherance of the war effort. He said that the National Board felt that in order to conserve gasoline and travelling facilities that the regular International Conference of Kiwanis should be dispensed with this year. This was finally decided upon and as a result only a small wartime conference consisting largely of the international officers and the district governors was finally held at Chicago.

Mr. Gallagher described the many problems which faced this wartime conference. Officials for the coming year were finally selected with only a very small change in personnel. This was due to the fact that the Kiwanians who under the stress of the war period were still willing and able to give of their time and effort through Kiwanis to preserving the America which we love.

Mr. Gallagher, who is chairman of the International Laws and Regulations Committee, stated that his committee was even now working on the problems which would face Kiwanis during 1944. It was his hope, he said, that by the coming year America would be so well organized that conditions might be considerably better than they are today. He outlined a few of the things which the 2,200 Kiwanis Clubs of the United States and of Canada were doing in forwarding the war effort and in helping to preserve the American way of living. 2,031 clubs submitted achievement reports. 42,821 Kiwanians are engaged in civilian defense work. Kiwanians have purchased over $49,000,000 in war bonds through Kiwanis Clubs. This is in addition to bonds which have been purchased through other arrangements. Kiwanians have donated $2,685,000 to the American Red Cross. They have helped 92,267 children through vocational guidance clubs to prepare themselves for a useful future. Kiwanians were instrumental in collecting 288,632 tons of scrap during the Scrap Drive. They have donated $859,000 for the health of underprivileged children.

Mr. Gallagher said that he gloried in the achievements of his fellow Kiwanians. He was proud of the thing that they were doing both in the war effort, in civilian defense, and in keeping up the morale of America. He felt that the aims of Kiwanis as incorporated in the constitution and by laws would go a long way in their influence in finally working out a permanent peace among the different nations of the world.

Mr. George VanBuskirk announced that bond sales for the day amounted to $66.00, with a total of more than $10,900.

Mr. Benjamin Lewis had as his guest Mr. Buswell, Treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank. Mr. Joseph O'Neil of the Waltham Club, was also a visitor.

Home at Norumbega Park on August 24th

Announcement was made that Bob Heath, member of the local club, was to be the speaker at the Kiwanis Club in Biddeford, Me., next week.

Handwork Popular

Supervisors of Handwork, Nicholas P. Tedesco and Gladys Forbush of the Newton Recreation Department, report an unusual desire this summer of the younger children attending playgrounds to make something with their hands. It may be a toy made of wood or a stuffed doll made of discarded materials. The little girls want to improve their sewing technique and the boys their ability in use of a jig-saw.

City of Newton Recreation Department

The "Story-Telling" hour on the Newton playgrounds has become one of the most popular periods of the week. As the teacher, Mrs. Juliet Ward, expresses it, "The increasingly large number of children listening to the stories at the different playgrounds gives me a thrill and encourages me in believing that our American boys and girls more than ever are looking for a really wholesome recreation which one gets from reading good books and listening to good stories."

At one playground this week 93 boys and girls squatted on the ground under a tree and listened for nearly an hour to stories.

The schedule of Mrs. Ward's visits to the different playgrounds is as follows:

Monday—A. M., Boyd, Hawthorn, P. M., Stearns, Victory.
 Tuesday—A. M., Wellington, Eden Ave. P. M., Carr, H. Mann.
 Wednesday—A. M., Williams, Auburndale. P. M., N. Centre, Thompsonville.
 Thursday—A. M., Lower Falls, Waban. P. M., Cold Spring, Highlands.
 Friday—A. M., Emerson, Upper Falls. P. M., Burr, Cabot.

Scrap Books for Our Soldiers

The compilation of scrap books for the entertainment of our men in the armed services is the purpose of a project being attempted on all the playgrounds in the city. Some have already had a good start, and many "quips and quarks" which will give a soldier or sailor a good laugh have been pasted in these books. The children in some way ferret out from magazines, newspapers and what not examples of the most wholesome humor. Some fine cartoons have been found, and they will add to the value of the book as a tonic to some wounded hero as he lies in a hospital.

The personnel of the entire Recreation Department has wholeheartedly endorsed this project, and some excellent scrap books are sure to be made available shortly.

Carr Playground Active

The Carr Playground Safety Patrol has for its members Mary Franchi, Tony Franchi, Daniel Barbo, Barbara Marini, Russell Cadman, and Carmen Anastasia. Their duties, up to the date, have been to patrol the swings, keep the playground clean, and take care of the equipment.

Carr Playground's Junior Baseball Team defeated the Stearns team at Carr Playground Wednesday afternoon. The game became a slug-fest for Carr when 9 runs in the 6th inning were scored to clinch the game, 18-11. Dick Crosby, Jim Halloran, George Palmer, Bob Todd, Tom Riley, Frankie Gentile, Anthony Marini, Nickie Lupo, and Normie Semer-tell played for Carr; while Joe Bianchi, Edward Hall, Larry Cedrone, Johnnie Paulino, Lolly Argini, Freddie Amendola, Danny Leone, Locis Terenzio, Ralph Mollo, and Paul Di Pasquale held up Hawthorn's end of the game.

The exceptional heat of the first few weeks tended to keep the children quiet, and the teachers urged them to use handwork as a medium of recreation in some secluded, shady spot on a playground.

Transforming newspapers into utility bags for use at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children also is a project undertaken at many playgrounds.

The compilation of scrap books by the youngsters for the use of our wounded soldiers is interesting many children, as splendid books are the result. Although Supervisor Tedesco bought every sheet of plywood available, the demand has been so heavy that many children may not have sufficient wood. Mr. Tedesco feels that there must be many small pieces of plywood in the homes of Newton, and not usable in the home, which could be well used by some youngster on a playground. It would be appreciated if the Recreation Department were notified where it could pick up such pieces. Remnants of cloth, yarn and leather are also desired, for in these days of priorities it has been impossible to purchase many materials.

DUANE-O'CONNOR

In St. Aidan's Church, Brookline, on Saturday, July 10, Miss Virginia Marie O'Connor of Brookline and New York became the bride of Lt. Francis K. Duane, U. S. Army, son of Mrs. Ella Duane of 216 River st., West Newton. The four o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Craig and a reception for the immediate family followed at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Boston.

Given in marriage by her brother, Lt. Daniel J. O'Connor, U. S. Marine Corps, the bride wore a princess gown of white silk jersey and a corsage of white orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Reita V. O'Connor who will soon be on overseas duty with the Red Cross. She wore a blue silk jersey gown with a corsage of gladioli. Lt. William Duane, U. S. Navy, was the best man for his brother.

The bride is a graduate of St. Aidan's School in Brookline and the Academie Moderne in Boston. Lt. Duane was graduated from Holy Cross College. Lt. and Mrs. Duane left on a trip to Concomasset Beach.

UNION SERVICES AT NEWTON CENTRE

Union church services at Newton Centre Sunday, July 25th, will be in the Methodist Church at 11 o'clock with Rev. H. D. Hawver, pastor of the church, preaching. Mrs. Marjorie Green Briggs of Providence, R.I., will preside at the organ, with Florence Owen Lucas, contralto, soloist. The subject of Mr. Hawver's sermon will be "A Word of Encouragement to the Faithful."

Lions Club Hears Ration Talk By OPA Officials

The Office of Price Administration does not control the supply of any commodity although it is responsible for rationing many commodities fairly. John W. Tarbell, regional food rationing officer, told the Newton Lions Club last night in the Y.M.C.A. building.

Tarbell introduced a panel of rationing and price specialists who answered many questions on the OPA program.

When the supply of butter is reduced by seasonal causes and increased demands by Lend Lease and military authorities, Tarbell explained, OPA is obliged to raise the point value of butter to reduce civilian demand for it in relation to other fats and meats for which red stamps are issued.

"All we can do, and all the effort of the rationing division of OPA," Tarbell said, "is to spread these shortages commodities fairly. As soon as the shortage is relieved, we are glad to get rid of one ration program. We expect to be able to remove the restrictions on coffee shortly."

The OPA group is part of a consumer question panel of officials who volunteer extra time to attend meetings of consumer groups and explain the complexities of rationing and the fight against inflation.

Included were E. Graham Bates, regional oil rationing officer; Edward A. Stiller, food rationing officer; Andrew Quale, meat price officer; and Frederick A. McDermott, assistant regional rationing attorney.

Bob Wells Winner Of Tournament

The Paddle Tennis Tournament conducted by the directors of the Waban Playground, Mrs. Barbara Anders and Miss Anne M. Mackin, during this week resulted in a grand triumph for Bob Wells. The competition was very close, but far as Bob was concerned, for he went through the tournament with only one game to the credit of any of his opponents. Dick Butt was runner-up and played an excellent game. Dick Becker made Dick extend himself to win 6-4. Gordon Rhodes was defeated by Brooks Parker in the opening set after a see-saw battle. Trudy Beaulac played a nice game in defeating Charlie Butt in the opening round of 1. Bill McCarthy was the only player who was able to take a game from Bob Wells, but the sets were all closely contested.

Another tournament is planned for the week of August 9. The boys and girls of the Waban Playground are indebted to the Waban Improvement Association for the beautiful prizes given the tournament winners.

Union Services At Congregational Church in August

The Union Services of the six churches in West Newton and Newtonville which have been held at the Second Church West Newton during July, will be held next Sunday and Sundays through Sept. 5 at the Central Congregational Church, Walnut st., Newtonville. The churches participating are: The Central Congregational Church, Newtonville; The Church of the New Jerusalem; The First Unitarian Society in Newton; The Lincoln Park Baptist Church; The Newtonville Methodist Church; and the Second Church in Newton. The services are being conducted by the Rev. McIlroy Hamilton Liehlter, D.D. former pastor of the Central Church, who was chosen by the committee as summer minister.

Next Sunday, August 1st, the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Albert Buckner Coe, D.D. of Chicago in place of Dr. Liehlter.

Dr. Coe is minister of The First Congregational Church, Oak Park, (Chicago) which pastorate he has held since 1930. His church has a membership of 2200 and is considered the leading Congregational Church in the Middle West.

Dr. Coe graduated from Yale Divinity School in 1922 and that year came to the Broadway Winter Hill Congregational Church, Somerville, remaining there until 1925 when he became pastor of the Second Church in Waterbury, Connecticut.

Dr. Coe is trustee of Berea College, Ky., and the Chicago Congregational Union. He is a member of the Committee on Direction of the Federal Council Commission to study the Bases of a Just and Durable Peace. Dr. Coe is author of "Born for Victory" (Harper's). His brother, Dr. Robert Wood Coe is minister at the Leyden Congregational Church, Brookline.

On Sunday August 8th, Dr. Liehlter will resume preaching at the Union Services for the remainder of the summer season.

Work Started On St. Construction

On Monday work was started on the construction of Tennyson rd., West Newton. This is the first street construction work done by the city in more than a year and is the first private way to be constructed as a public street by the city under the newly adopted city ordinance which provides that the city pay 50 per cent of the cost, the balance to be assessed on the property owners. However, there is a provision that the property owner shall not be required to pay more than $3 a foot frontage. Tennyson rd., which is a semi-circular street includes a steep grade which makes the project a difficult one.

A $50,000 street and sidewalk construction project has been authorized by the city government including the expenditure of $37,500 for reconstruction of Beacon st., in Waban from Gordon rd. to Windsor rd.; $2,500 for the construction of a concrete rd. on Hall st., Newton; $7,500 for the construction of Commonwealth ave., near Norumbega Park and $2,500 for the construction of sidewalks, the cost to be divided equally by the city and property owners.

Servicemen's Committee Send Petition To Mayor Paul M. Goddard Requesting Establishment of War Memorial Park

The Servicemen's Committee of the Thompsonville section of Newton has sent to Mayor Paul M. Goddard and the Newton Board of Aldermen a petition signed by 44 residents of the district requesting that the city establish a War Memorial park on the triangular reservation at Langley rd., and Jackson sts., Newton Centre.

Accompanying the petition was an offer of a contribution of a large part of the cost which would be involved.

John J. DeMonte, chairman of the Servicemen's Committee outlined the plan desired for the park and City Engineer Ernest H. Harvey has drawn up a plan of the project which calls for the retention of a large boulder now on the land, also a large oak tree, the

Women's Clubs Drive Against Ragweed Opens

Below is a letter sent to the Mayors and chairmen of Selectmen by the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs:

We wish to call your attention to the following legislation which has been recently enacted:

Section 1—Any city or town may appropriate money to acquire information regarding the growth of ragweed within its limits and to do such things as are considered necessary to suppress, eradicate and destroy ragweed. Appropriations voted for this purpose shall be expended under the direction of such committee or department as may be designated by the town meeting in a town or the city council in a city.

Section 2—Duly authorized officials or their agents, representatives or employees may enter upon land within the limits of any city or town to carry out the purpose for which an appropriation is voted under the authority of this act.

The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs seeks your co-operation in the campaign to eliminate ragweed, the principal cause of hay fever and asthma in your community. Statistics show that Massachusetts is a state in which the menace is great. It is estimated that about 300,000 of the inhabitants of our state are afflicted annually with hay fever and asthma, often a direct result of ragweed pollen.

A definite program includes cutting or mowing ragweed before it blossoms, not later than July 15. Often a second cutting is necessary. Roadsides and vacant lots are our greatest problem. Since many people do not recognize ragweed, an educational campaign is important.

ADA W. SWAIN, Recording Secretary.
EMMA E. BRIGHAM, Chairman of Legislation.

Army Moves In At Boston College

On Monday morning more than 400 Army men moved in at Boston College, Chestnut Hill, where they will occupy St. Mary's Hall, former Jesuit Faculty House, and where courses in Engineering and language will be conducted under the Army's specialized training program.

The men will be housed and trained under the direction of Rev. Stephen A. Mulcahy, S.J., dean of Boston College and will be instructed in their academic work by the regular faculty at Boston College. Their military training will be supervised by the Army. Other quarters have been provided for the faculty of the college.

Jottings From The Police Calendar

Mr. S. M. Powell of 25 Quindic rd., Waban reported to the police on Sunday that a wallet containing $7.00 in railroad tickets and an army registration had disappeared from his locker at the Brae Burn Country Club.

On Sunday evening Stuart Johnson of 95 Warwick rd., West Newton reported that his bicycle had been stolen from the terrace in front of the Court House and Police Headquarters where many bicycles are left while their owners are attending the moving picture theatre nearby.

Richard Yarrard of 149 Prince st., West Newton also reported that his bicycle was stolen Sunday evening from Norumbega Park, and Nicholas Colella of 101 Chapel st., reported his bicycle stolen from the Newton Y.M.C.A.

The police have also received during the past week reports of two thefts of used tax stamps from automobiles. One was taken from the car of Edward A. Cauldwell of 303 Austin st., West Newton while his car was parked near 1357 Washington st., and the other was taken from the car of Nathan Segal, an auto dealer, of 298 Valtham st., West Newton.

Grafton Fay Home From No. Africa

Grafton Fay, 29, of 70 Suffolk rd., Chestnut Hill, who returned about five weeks ago from Africa where he had served for more than a year as a volunteer ambulance driver for the American Field Service, volunteered and was sworn into the U. S. Army on July 21.

On his first attempt to reach Africa the tanker on which he was a passenger was torpedoed and with 33 others he was rescued after spending 16 hours in a lifeboat. The captain of the ship and five members of the crew went down with the ship. He then returned home and after a short rest reached Africa in June 1942. He and four other ambulance drivers were the first Americans to enter Tripoli with the British in January.

Fay is the son of Mrs. Edward H. Fay of Milton. He attended Milton Academy and Lenox School. He was married in 1940 to Mary A. Eliot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eliot of Chestnut Hill. They have a two year old son, Grafton Abbott Fay.

("Charlie") DiMuzio, who recently arrived home from the European and North African theatres of operation and is spending a 30-day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cesidio DiMuzio of 123 Cypress st., Newton Centre, is to be tendered a banquet on Friday evening by the Thompsonville Service Mens' Committee. Mayor Paul M. Goddard and other officials have been invited to attend the banquet which is to be held at the Phillip Corsi Club, Jackson st., Newton Centre.

Sergt. DiMuzio has received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Airmen's Medal, the Purple Heart and eight Oak Leaf Clusters. He joined the Army on January 3, 1942 and was sent overseas in June of the same year. He had trained as an airplane mechanic for the ground crew but was assigned to duty as flight engineer and gunner soon after he reached England.

His citation signed by Brigadier General E. P. Curtis, chief of staff; Lieut. General Spaatz and Col. William E. Dick reads as follows:

"For extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial combat in the European and North African Theatres of Operation as engineer and top turret gunner in a B17 Flying Fortress Aircraft. Technical Sergeant DiMuzio displayed a highly commendable resourcefulness and courage on May 25, 1943, on a mission over Messina, Sicily, when his formation was intercepted by more than 40 fighters.

"His plane was badly damaged in an early attack and as one of the engines caught fire, the airplane rapidly lost altitude and formation.

"Although the pilot advised the crew to abandon ship, and one member did so, Technical Sergeant DiMuzio, though twice wounded remained at his post, and through grim determination continued to load and co-ordinate the defense of his aircraft, destroying two enemy fighters and damaging two others.

"As the pilot regained control after enemy fighters had been dispersed and the flaming engine had dropped off, Sergeant DiMuzio threw out excess weight and enabled the pilot to crash land safely at Tunis.

"Sergeant DiMuzio's skill and gallantry in this and many other combat missions have reflected great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Sergt. DiMuzio was officially credited with shooting down a Focke-Wulf 190 on an earlier mission, in addition to the two Messerschmitts in the bombing flight over Messina.

The fate of the man who bailed out from the Fortress, and who was the only member of the crew lost, has not been learned. DiMuzio was the only member wounded and after recovering from his wounds returned to duty for three more flights to make it an even 50 before being sent home for a rest.

Sergt. DiMuzio has two brothers, Sergt. Aurelio DiMuzio who is stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., and Ernest DiMuzio, also a sister, Miss Adelaide DiMuzio.

His arrival home was a complete surprise to his family.

Elks Give $100 For Traveling Kits

At the meeting of Newton Lodge of Elks last Thursday evening it was voted to donate the sum of $100 to the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen to be used for traveling kits.

Esteemed Leading Knight John Keefe was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Exalted Ruler Carl Eschelbach.

A diploma was received by the lodge from the Grand Lodge for a paid up membership of $1,000 in the National Foundation.

Letters were read from Cpl. Paul Leahy and Lt. V. A. Scicchitania members of the lodge who are serving in the army. A circular was received from the Elks National War Board requesting lodge aid in the recruiting of young men for the Seabees and Army Engineers, and stating that the Elks have already assisted in recruiting thousands of men for the Army Air Forces.

Ralph H. Lindsey and Harry W. Harvey were admitted to membership in the lodge at this meeting.

$5,000 Presented To St. Raphael's

The will of the late Louis Kirstein, prominent Boston merchant and philanthropist contained a provision for a gift of $5,000 to a Catholic organization to be named by Cardinal O'Connell.

In response to a letter from Mrs. Kirstein informing him of the bequest, Cardinal O'Connell suggested that the fund be given to St. Raphael's Home for the Blind in Newton.

Morrison Home Hit By Lightning

During the heavy thunder shower last Thursday morning the home of Dr. Gordon M. Morrison at 36 Bonnybrook rd., Waban, was struck by a lightning bolt which tore up shingles along the ridgepole and ripped a hole in the roof.

The fire department was summoned at 8:58 a.m. by a neighbor as the Morrison family was at their summer home on the Cape. No fire was found but members of Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 2 under the direction of Deputy Chief Francis Linnahan covered the damaged portions of the roof in order to prevent the rain from causing further damage. The damage caused by the lightning bolt was estimated at about $500.

Soldiers, Sailors, Entertained By Neighborhood Club

At the West Newton Neighborhood Club on Sunday afternoon 20 sailors and soldiers sent out by the USO were entertained by a group of post-debutantes at a party sponsored by local women. Mrs. Edward W. Pride served as chairman. Mrs. Harold Keller was in charge of entertainment. Mrs. Frederick Fowle in charge of food and Mrs. Kenneth Eldridge, the junior hostesses.

The program which included dancing, bowling, ping pong and the reading of fortunes by Mrs. Keller, was followed by a supper. This was the second party held by the West Newton group this summer.

Men In Service

Nicholas J. Cedrone, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Cedrone, 288 Nevada st., Newtonville, Mass., graduated this week from a course in the overhaul of aircraft engines conducted by the Army Air Forces Training Command at Stewart Technical School, New York, N. Y. Cedrone, who graduated from an airplane mechanics school in the AAF Training Command before undertaking the advanced course here, was promoted to private first class in recognition of his aptitude for specialized work. Only men who receive marks well above average in general alertness and mechanical aptitude tests are selected for technical training.

A graduate of Newton High School, Cedrone was a draftsman for the Zenith Associates, prior to his induction into the Army last January.

Francis A. Duane, 216 River st., West Newton has completed his officer candidate course at the Fort Benning, Ga., Infantry School and has been commissioned a second lieutenant. Lt. Duane was graduated from Holy Cross College.

Ralph Joyal and Joseph Fahey, who were graduated last month from the Newton High School, have passed their examinations for enlistment in the U. S. Navy. Joyal was captain of the high school hockey team last year. After taking the Navy oath and being given 7 days leave they will be assigned to a training station.

Naval Aviation Cadet Arthur O. Wellman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Wellman of 75 Royce rd., Newton Centre, Mass., has successfully completed the intensive 11-week course at the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School at Chapel Hill, N. C. He has been promoted to primary flight training at the Naval Air Station at Peru, Indiana.

Cadet Wellman attended Governor Dummer Academy, class of '42. The extra curricular activities in which he took part included the Red Cross Committee.

William F. Herlihy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Herlihy of 724 Watertown st., Newtonville, has been commissioned a second lieutenant at the Medical Administrative Corps Officer Candidate School at the Medical Replacement Center, Camp Barkeley, Texas.

Pvt. Leslie M. St. George of 185 Nevada st., Newtonville, has been assigned to Washington and Jefferson College, Pa., for specialized training.

Leo F. Costa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Costa of 10 Maguire st., Newtonville, has been promoted to the rank of corporal at the Army Air Base, Blythe, California, where he is serving as first cook.

Sgt. John Keefe, son of Timothy Keefe of 11 Carter st., Newtonville has been promoted to Staff Sergeant at Fort Screven, Georgia.

Cpl. Peter Saltonstall, son of Governor and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall of 240 Chestnut Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant in the Marines. Sgt. Saltonstall who fought at Guadalcanal is still in the Pacific war zone.

Ralph E. Washburn Jr., of 15 Newell rd., who was recently appointed a naval aviation cadet, has been ordered to Naval Air Training Center at Pensacola, Fla., for immediate flight training.

Aux. Ora Clara Lupien, daughter of Wilfred Lupien, 211 Webster st., West Newton, has completed her basic training at Fort Devens, Mass., 4th WAC Training Center. She has been assigned to Sioux Falls Army Technical School, Sioux Falls, So. Dakota for duty.

—The residents in the vicinity of Wolcott st. are being awakened early these mornings by the not too musical note of the common crow. The crows have descended on the neighborhood in flocks, or droves, or however crows descend, and have done a good job of disturbing the peace of the community. The Fish and Wildlife Service has suggested that they are not welcome, is to hang up a deceased one where it will do the most good. Hence the advertisement for a dead crow on the classified page.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jonte E. Bauman of 90 Allen ave. announce the birth of a 8 pound boy on July 24. Mrs. Bauman is the former Annetta Couchman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Couchman. Her father is New England manager of American Aniline Dye-stuffs, Inc.

—The sewing workroom of the Waban Red Cross will be closed during August and will reopen Wednesday, Sept. 8.

COMMUNITY PLANNING FOR PEACE EFFORT

The post-war future of America will flourish only if it is rooted now in the vital source of our life as a people—the community and the home, Northeastern Homes Foundation declares, in urging that plans be now undertaken for the return of our fighting men.

"Our soldiers and sailors, in both Europe and the Pacific islands," says Norman P. Mason, Vice-Chairman of the Foundation, "are looking homeward through the battle smoke, and that far vision is their greatest inspiration to fight on. We must start now to fill the vision with substantial promise."

"In most communities, some ten per cent of the people have gone to war. Yet in most towns, there is lack of complete information on these young men in readily available form. Filling that lack is a primary need. It is on the basis of such facts that practicable planning for community life after victory must be done. A second need is a survey of the places of local employment left by the men in uniform and the present prospects of post-victory restoration of jobs. Third, the prospects of new business and new industry after the war should be surveyed."

"These needs can be met by simple action in the traditional way of American democracy, which grew from the town meetings in the town halls of the colonies."

"This is the kind of news the boys at the front need to hear. It is first of all a promise to them that they will not be dumped hit-or-miss into civilian life as they were after the last war, that the economic rights of the veteran will not again be neglected, that 'bonus marches' on Washington will not be repeated."

"And it is the natural course for democratic post-war planning—a course by which the popular will may rise from the roots and feed and form the body of national policy and of world planning."

Camp Frank A. Day

Last Tuesday evening there was a baseball game between the two council teams from the Brookfield town. The Brookfield team took on the Newton team. May the best team win.

Last week the first issue of the camp paper, "The Daylight" was distributed. This year Richard Miller is acting as editor-in-chief. Russell Bowden is chief news reporter. George Schweitzer as editorial writer, Robert Keith and Ross Humphrey as sports reporters.

Wednesday night the whole camp was out for the "Circus Day at Camp" event. The campers and their families were expected to be on hand to witness the extravaganza.

Parents are leaving by train Saturday morning and will return the same day. Mrs. Arnold C. Barker is chairman of a group of hostesses from the Women's Auxiliary of the "X" who are arranging the details. Others on her committee include Mrs. Milton A. Mott, Mrs. J. Beldon Sly, Mrs. Russell S. Broad, Mrs. C. R. Mease, Mrs. Samuel Johnson, and Mrs. Reginald Smith.

At Camp the regular routine is filled with plans, rehearsals and projects for circus day. Each camper and each leader has been assigned a job and everybody will be at their post on Saturday at 3:00 p. m. when the Grand March starts for the "greatest show on earth."

Committees and committee chairmen at Camp for this great event include: Band, Vincent Marattio; Finance, Bob Seward; Animals, Professor Day; Side Shows, Norman Millard; Chamber of Horrors, Ross Humphrey; Clowns, William Hanson; Pyramids, William Stewart Evans; Pageant, George Riley; Store, Bob Harris; and Concession, Eddie Walton.

Parents and visitors will arrive about noon and will enjoy their box lunch picnic in the grove overlooking the lake. Ample time is being provided for parents and campers to visit together both before and after the circus.

Following the circus, camp will serve a salad supper for both parents and campers. The parents' train will arrive back in Newtonville at 11:22 p. m.

Postmaster Patrick J. Connelly today advised the public not to send gifts of money to members of the armed forces outside the continental United States.

At many places where such forces are stationed, there is a local prohibition against the importation of United States money, and it could not be used if received. However, domestic postal money orders, which are issued at all postoffices in the Boston Postal District, can be cashed at Army Post Offices wherever they are located and they are paid in local foreign currency at the rate of exchange in effect on the date the orders are presented.

The term "OVERSEAS" is regarded as covering the personnel of our armed forces who receive their mail through an A.P.O. or Fleet Post Office in care of the postmaster at New York, N. Y., San Francisco, Calif., New Orleans, La., Miami, Fla., Presque Isle, Maine, or Seattle, Washington, or through a naval installation or station in care of the postmaster of Seattle.

SUFFOLK DOWNS

MINNIE E. CRESSEY

Miss Minnie E. Cressey, a retired Army nurse, died Thursday, July 22, at the home of her brother, Maxwell C. Hutchins, 346 Auburndale ave., Auburndale.

Miss Cressey, who was in her 74th year, was born in Ellensburg, New York, the daughter of William and Maria (French) Cressey. She had been a nurse for more than 50 years and was stationed at Army camps in the West during World War I.

Funeral services were held on Saturday morning, July 24, in the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, for Sgt. Francis P. Cronin, who died on June 29, in a Japanese prison camp according to word received by his relatives from the War Department.

SGT. FRANCIS P. CRONIN

A pro burial mass was celebrated Saturday morning, July 17, in the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, for Sgt. Francis P. Cronin, who died on June 29, in a Japanese prison camp according to word received by his relatives from the War Department.

Sgt. Cronin was the son of Mr. Richard H. Cronin of 238 Elliott st., Newton Upper Falls. He was in his 30th year. He enlisted on October 9, 1940 and in January of 1941 was sent to the Philippines. More than a year ago following a Japanese invasion he was reported as "missing in action."

He is survived by his father, a brother, Richard J. Cronin, a sister, Miss Agnes Cronin and his aunt, Miss Josephine Cronin, who resides with the Cronin family at 238 Elliott st.

ROBERT C. SENNETT

Funeral services for Robert C. Sennett, 11-year-old son of Andrew and Rose M. Sennett of 352 Watertown st., Newton, who was accidentally killed on Monday of last week, were held on Thursday, July 15. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. John the Evangelist church by the Rev. Joseph Robichaud.

Eight classmates of the boy served as an escort and other classmates attended in a body, also a delegation of the Children of Mary headed by Sister Mary Joseph.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Robichaud.

Surviving him besides his parents are three older brothers, Andrew, Sennett, Jr., Harold Sennett and Pfc. Kenneth Sennett, and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Carnes of San Antonio, Texas.

Corn—Home-Canned To Keep!

"Corn, a favorite food of man, beast, and bacteria, is the victim of defense propaganda and I am not talking about war." Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, made the above statement and went on to explain, "Persons who refuse to take the time and trouble to understand corn, defend their canning failures by claiming that it refuses to keep. The truth is, corn is more than willing to be canned, but is doomed to spoilage unless right tactics are used, because it has no acid to protect it against the invasion of bacteria. Tactics? Why," says Miss Kimbrough, "they can be summed up in one sentence: i. e., learn what to do, when to begin, at the right time, keep things moving, and turn on the heat."

There were many famous films in the long and honorable career of Anna May Wong. There was the original "Thief of Baghdad" with the late Douglas Fairbanks. Then came "Limehouse Blues," "Shanghai Express," "Madame Butterfly" and many others too numerous to mention.

It was in London that first saw Anna May Wong on the legitimate stage. She played over a season there in a drama called "A Circle of Chalk." Being a talented singer and dancer she next went to Vienna where she starred in a completely new opera, "Springtime," dancing and singing her way into the heart of pre-war Vienna, the home of the greatest in musicals.

Supporting Miss Wong in her Cambridge debut will be the thoroughly competent Cambridge company headed by lovely Louise Valery, Richard Hart, Allen Tower, Ernest Woodward, Thayer, William Weyse, Elsie Goodell and William Jeffrey. William Mendrek has staged the production while an immensely fitting setting has been designed by Andrew Mack.

"Ladies in Retirement," an English chiller-diller with Erin O'Brien-Moore but a few more performances to go before being up its week at Brattle Hall. A matinee of this fine drama will be held this very Saturday. The week following "The Willow Tree" and Miss Wong will see Rex Ingram in the famed "Emperor Jones."

THE CAMBRIDGE SUMMER THEATRE

Anna May Wong, the celebrated Chinese actress, will be the next great star brought by the Cambridge Summer Theatre to grace the Brattle Hall stage. She will appear in a touching love story of modern China, a love story with overtones of the great struggle now being waged by our gallant ally. Originally the play was set in an earlier time, but the message, the courage and the beautiful love story seemed to fit so closely with present day events that Miss Wong decided to bring the up-to-date version to Cambridge for her debut before the audiences of Greater Boston. You will agree after you have seen this charming and great play, that she could not have made a better selection.

Anna May Wong got into films quite accidentally and almost by what could be called the back-door method. When a young girl, almost 12, and school began, her mother could not resist the temptation to play hockey in the true American fashion and go to the movies in her native city of Los Angeles. Hiding amid the crowd attending the show that afternoon she was noticed not by the true officer but by the famous Russian actress Nazimova, who was attending the show as a relief from a hard morning at the studio trying to cast for a picture that was being delayed in its production. The film was called "The Thief of Baghdad" and it was the director of the studio casting department to find a suitable young girl to play the part of a young Chinese lady. Nazimova, spying on the girl, was so impressed by her that she immediately called Miss Wong and summoned her to meet the great actress and told her to report to the studio the first thing in the morning. She did and see what has happened.

There were many famous films in the long and honorable career of Anna May Wong. There was the original "Thief of Baghdad" with the late Douglas Fairbanks. Then came "Limehouse Blues," "Shanghai Express," "Madame Butterfly" and many others too numerous to mention.

MASSACHUSETTS GUARD DETACHMENT IN GETTYSBURG PROGRAM

A detachment from Company C, 23rd Inf. Mass. S. G., under the command of Captain Thomas J. Hennessey, took part in a musical dramatization of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address at Winslow Hall, Auburndale, Mass., on Monday evening, July 26. This was the patriotic finale of the choral and orchestral festival which concludes the summer session of the American Institute of Normal Methods held annually at Lasell Junior College for the training of school music teachers. A feature of the session has been special training for leaders of community music activities in wartime.

Other numbers on the program included choral selections conducted by Dr. Osbourne McConathy, nationally known musician and educator, Mr. Francis Findlay, head of the public school music department of the New England Conservatory of Music. The program was under the direction of Mr. C. Paul Herfurth, director of instrumental music, East Orange, New Jersey. The modern dance program was directed by Mrs. Edwin Doll of East Orange, N. J., and Miss Beatrice Hunt, director of music, Plymouth, Mass.

Mr. Geoffrey O'Hara, well known composer and now working with the USO program throughout the United States, led some of the community singing. He was the principal speaker on the Commencement program. Tuesday night, July 27, in Winslow Hall, when chorus and audience will also participate in general singing under his direction.

er mortality experienced by the Savings Bank Life Insurance system, which operates only in this state.

In addition to employers, labor unions and associations of state, county or municipal employees may also purchase group insurance if not less than 50 members nor less than 75 per cent of the eligible members are to be insured.

Group insurance is not intended to take the place of individual insurance purchased directly by the worker himself. It is term insurance with no cash or loan values and provides protection only so long as the worker remains with the employer and the policy is kept in force. It supplements individual policies and its low cost enables workers to carry additional insurance at little increase in their expense budgets.

NEWTON CHILDREN AT CAMP

"You know, we had ice cream and SUCH good food I gained four pounds in two weeks," said Robert, age 9, when the worker from the Family Service Bureau of Newton brought him home from camp last week. "Gee, I can't wait to see my mother. See, I made this key case for my mother. Can I go next year? You know, I

Washington. It seems evident that one of the chief Allied aims in the battle of Italy is to force the Luftwaffe to fight. For it is only by getting it into the air that we can destroy it.

The German High Command is confronted with an extremely difficult problem. It is whether to split its air force in order to defend Italy or leave the hapless Mussolini to his fate. The Luftwaffe has already been divided by the situation in this war it would appear that unless the Germans decide to help, the battle for Italy will be lost by the Italians. Not that the Luftwaffe would guarantee success, but its failure to help Italy will guarantee its defeat.

If the Allies can coax or force the Luftwaffe over Italy it can be destroyed. We can even afford to apply our air strength on a basis of attrition. Germany and Italy can't.

Should the Nazis decide to defend Italy, it may mean harder fighting for the Allies temporarily. If their decision is to abandon Italy it will be easier for our boys now but we will still have to knock out the Luftwaffe at a later date.

Gen. Henri Honore's visit to Washington, presumably for the purpose of discussing military matters and particularly to request American equipment to arm 300,000 French soldiers, has met with success.

Not only will the Free French fight for the liberation of France, said the General, but they will help to take the war to Japan after the boches and Italians are beaten. France is eager to regain her colonial empire in the South Pacific now under "Japan's protection." The President is said to be greatly impressed with the French General's sincerity.

Mr. Roosevelt in trying to avoid French politics, wanted to leave political decisions to the French people once they are free to voice their own views. That, however, was only one reason. Another was the matter of approximately $1,500,000,000 of French funds that are frozen in the United States. Should the Committee of National Liberation, now headed jointly by Giraud and De Gaulle, receive recognition as the present French Government, Mr. Roosevelt would have to release the money, or that portion of it which belongs to the French nation, to the Committee. And should that faction become disowned later on by the French people, new complications would arise that would prove very embarrassing to the President.

Meanwhile, anti-DeGaulle propaganda continues in the Washington press. The latest being that De Gaulle is trying desperately to play America against Britain in his own purpose. Nevertheless, reports from French colonies, North Africa and even France itself indicate that De Gaulle's hold upon the French people is tighter than ever. To them he, De Gaulle, symbolizes the real spirit of France—the spirit of Liberty, Equality, Fraternity. You just can't destroy that—not even with a vicious propaganda campaign.

The reversal on the Russian front after ten days of struggle which threw back a bid by the Wehrmacht for a breakthrough in South Central Russia, lends point to the theory now held by many military observers that the German attack had been designed primarily as a defensive move to smash and use up Russian reserves gathered for an offensive. After the failure of their attack the German generals must have arrived at the conclusion that their war can no longer be won by military means. The length of time it will take before the German people also reach the same conclusion will depend on the effectiveness of Hitler's propaganda organization in attempting to split the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition.

In the course of the past year the fighting of Great Britain and the USSR formed the object of numerous attacks of Hitlerite propaganda and diplomacy. In the past few months this found its expression in the first place, in the fact that in the Fascist camp they began to speak with increasing frequency about peace. To judge by the reports of the foreign press, the Germans would like to obtain peace with Britain and the United States on the condition that they draw away from the USSR, or else to obtain peace with the USSR—on condition that it draw away from Great Britain and the U. S. A.

However, this time, too, the machinations of the perfidious German imperialists will meet with utter collapse. The members of the Anglo-Soviet-American coalition are filled with determination to jointly bring their cause to conclusion to the utter defeat of Hitlerite Germany and her associates in Europe, which constitutes the only way toward a true and stable peace.

WALTER PIERCE REPORTS: The same source of information who some months ago predicted that Vice President Wallace, then F. D. R.'s closest adviser, would be dropped from the fourth-term ticket and that Chester Davis would be the President's choice, is now saying that Davis resigned when he realized that he had made no progress in that direction. Other Washington "insiders" are now predicting that James Byrnes will be second man on the Presidential ticket. "We don't like to say 'We told you so' but criticism of our prediction some weeks back that the President would settle the Wallace-Jones feud before Congress acted, compels us to do so."

A cabinet officer recently sought a draft deferment for an 18-year-old employee of his office, claiming that the boy was "indispensable." The youth was drafted. . . . Women In Service

Auxiliary Mary L. Newman of 145 Ashburton ave., West Newton, Mass., who has been stationed here at the 4th WAC Training Center, has been transferred to Ft. Hamilton, Brooklyn, N. Y., for duty.

Howard C. Borden, Jr., 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Borden, 68 Stearns st., Newton Center, Mass., has completed his first step towards becoming a radio specialist in the U. S. Navy. He has finished a month's radio school at the Naval Air Station, Chicago, Ill. He now will be transferred to a primary radio material school for further training.

Selecting and training the school series of aptitude tests taken during recruit training, he has received instruction in mathematics, fundamental electricity and general Naval indoctrination.

Leonard W. Rowley, son of Mrs. L. W. Rowley, Sr., 18 Loring st., Newton Centre, has been promoted to corporal in the Seventh Army Air Force with which he is serving in the Hawaiian area. Before he entered the army in July, 1942, Corporal Rowley was statistician and salesman for the E. T. Ward & Sons company at Boston. He attended Newton high school and was graduated from Tufts college and the Harvard Graduate School of Business. Rowley now is serving as a clerk in an operations office at an army air base.

William B. Graham, Jr., formerly of 53 Waban park, Newton, who was recently taken into the service, has been sent to the Ordnance Replacement Training Center, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., where he will receive his basic training as an Ordnance soldier.

PRESENTED NAVY CROSS

A presentation of the Navy Cross to Commander James A. Hirschfeld of Newton was recently made by Vice-Admiral Russell B. Waeche. Commander Hirschfeld who was commander of the Coast Guard Cutter Campbell when she rammed and sank a German submarine last winter previously received the Purple Heart for injuries received at that time.

He is now stationed at Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington, but with Mrs. Hirschfeld and their two children, maintains his home at 33 Wesley Street, Newton.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

TWO IMPORTANT BOOKS have made their appearance recently which should receive the attention of every American who is concerned with the well-being of his country.

One is "U. S. Foreign Policy," by the eminent Walter Lippmann. The other is "What America Thinks," a symposium of opinion, editorial matters and cartoons, reflecting the progress of American political thought in the several years preceding the war.

Walter Lippmann's book must be acknowledged as an epoch-making work which will influence official and lay thinking for years to come. More than any other contribution to the international literature of world politics, since Mahan first jarred power politics loose from its moorings with his monumental work on the influence of sea power—Lippmann's "Foreign Policy" will result in a re-orientation of thought and action which is certain to be of unparalleled scope.

Lippmann's thesis is simple and he proves it with a clarity and incisiveness which is all the more spectacular because of its lack of melodramatics. Briefly, Lippmann asserts, "a foreign policy consists in bringing into balance, with a comfortable surplus of power in reserve, the nation's commitments and the nation's power."

Step by step, with a brilliant array of evidence, Lippmann shows the recent American failure to establish a national foreign policy. "For nearly fifty years," he says, "the nation has not had a settled and generally accepted foreign policy. This is the danger to the United States. For when a people is divided within itself about the conduct of its foreign relations, it is unable to agree on the determination of its true interest. It is unable to prepare adequately for war or to safeguard successfully its peace."

Lippmann poses the question as to whether it may not be necessary, in American political development, for much of foreign affairs to be removed from the give-and-take and interplay of party politics. The power of the problem once considered the introduction of electric motors as a means of furnishing power for their business. The power is to be obtained from the Newtonville & Watertown street railway company, it having recently been decided to build a power house in West Newton. The power house is said to be one of the finest in the state.

Bicycle accidents here are becoming numerous and wheelmen who persist in riding on the sidewalks have become a good deal of a nuisance.

The Newton Fuel Committee requests that the attention of the residents of Newton be called to the fact that there are plenty of cars and trucks standing throughout the city, and that if the owners are not willing to take the trouble of cutting them down for firewood, they should let others do it in order that the fuel supply for next winter may be as large as possible.

The Out Patient Department of the Newton Hospital was opened in January 1918 to serve residents of Newton who cannot afford to pay the private doctor. The plan is to make this a Health Center for Newton, where patients can come for treatment long before their complaints become chronic. Medical, surgical and orthopedic clinics will care for men, women and children.

Germany's transportation system is all shot to pieces! The relentless bombing of Germany's railroads has given Hitler his Number One problem. If the impact of bombs continues to disrupt the German transport system, the end of the war may be hastened by many months.

Depending on quick "blitz" victory Hitler's intuition failed to prepare his transportation front for the full burden of war. At the beginning of the war Germany had 45,000 miles of railroad under her control; today she has some 225,000 miles of railroad system. But Nazidom has only two and a half times the number of locomotives! The result is a transportation system so "rail poor" as to be unequal to the job of keeping Germany's sprawling armies properly provided with the necessities of combat.

IT IS DOUBTFUL if any of the radio columnists, excepting possibly Boake Carter, tub-thumpers reaction so ardently as Fulton Lewis, Jr. Lewis's most recent backsliding on liberalism relates to his attempted liquidation of two of the Four Freedoms and the substitution of a Fifth Freedom, no less, which he snidely dubs "Free Enterprise."

That "Free Enterprise" socialists, one of those non-existent quixotic issues which no sane thinking person objects to, is of no importance to Lewis because Lewis is not really so much concerned about "Free Enterprise" as he is about the restrictions which liberals have placed upon wanton capital in its effort to destroy the rights and privileges of the little man.

It becomes increasingly plain that American Liberals will eventually have to concern themselves with the problem of demanding legislation which will remove plain, fancy or subsidized propagandists from the nation's meant-to-be-free radio waves. There is a legitimate place for news broadcasters and analysts, but the vendors of venal opinion, at so many dollars per broadcast, paid for by one moneyed interest or another, is a menace to the people.

"Give the people light and they will find their own way," is still the best rule, be it via the airwaves or the press.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

The Wallace Speech

Ordinarily, it is much easier for me to disagree than to agree with our idealistic Vice-President, Henry A. Wallace. For that reason, I feel constrained to concede that Mr. Wallace made some rather good points in last Sunday's address in Detroit. Incidentally, he again showed himself to be a mighty good sport by making no reference whatsoever to the public spanking the President gave him recently. As a matter of fact, he came to bat for his Commander-in-Chief and defended all his actions warmly and without equivocation. One of the most striking things he said had to do with the tremendous list of assets which will be available when this war is over. He cited the vast manpower, the huge industrial resources, the greatest reserve of accumulated savings and the fact that any nation has ever known, the thousands of new inventions waiting to be converted to peacetime use and the tremendous backlog of requirements for housing, transportation, communications and living comforts. Then he queried, "Who says this nation is now bankrupt?" "If industrial management," said Mr. Wallace, "can bring the same wisdom in producing for peace that it has shown on many production fronts in the supply program for war, the horizons we face are bright."

Of course, what Mr. Wallace entirely overlooks is the fact that our war production has been marred by inefficiency and inactivity. He overlooks the fact that the social and economic conditions which big business, so-called, has been obliged to endure ever since Mr. Roosevelt came to power. If Mr. Roosevelt was as good an administrator as he is Commander-in-Chief, the sky would be the limit on the production front. Mr. Wallace, however, like all New Dealers, has one blind eye and chooses to refer to all critics of the administration as either "reactionaries" or "Fascists." That is really a very silly statement. How does he classify Wilkie and Stassen? Locally, how does he classify Sinclair Weeks or Governor Saltonstall?

Finally, I would like to suggest to our Vice-President that, just as fair and reasonable to accuse the New Dealers of trying to change over our entire social, economic and political set-up in the confusion of war-time as it is to accuse "powerful interests" in America of trying to undo the social and economic reforms which the new Deal has brought about prior to the war.

Anti-Wilkie Strategy
I am increasingly amused over the rather obvious strategy of the bitter anti-Wilkie forces. They leave the real dirty work to men like Col. McCormick of Chicago, who wouldn't even give Wendell Wilkie the right of reply and spend their own time frantically trying to build up one candidate after another, hoping against hope that one of their fair-haired boys will ring the bell. They started off with genial but colorless Gov. John W. Aldrich of Ohio and gave a tremendous plug in this neck of the woods. No sale. Then they got busy on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whom relatively few people considered to be of presidential calibre three short years ago. It is substantially the same Dewey today, ripened a bit by a few months in the gubernatorial chair. Quite a few of the Dewey boosters of today were busy ridiculing him in 1940.

Right now, we are in the soldier-candidate phase of the anti-Wilkie campaign. There is a lot of carefully-planned talk about General MacArthur all over the country, although some of the MacArthur pluggers admit that the General will very likely knock his boom into a cocked hat just as soon as he gets into the White House. Let's not forget that MacArthur has consecrated himself to the task of winning back the Philippines and avenging Bataan and Corregidor. In case this boom fails to materialize, the pluggers are throwing up a trial balloon for my old friend and schoolmate, General Harford MacNider of Iowa, a former national commander of the American Legion, Minister to Canada and holder of other important offices. As a matter of fact, MacNider may prove to be a very good dark-horse.

Whom do the plain people want as their candidate? My guess would be Wendell L. Wilkie. It is unfortunate that the average voter does not seem to be consulted about the nominations have been made and the party leaders come around, hat in hand, to raise the necessary funds. Here's hoping that the day will come when the great rank and file will really have a voice in the management of party politics. Then we will have fewer Hardings and Landons.

The Bushnell Mystery

Where is Robert T. Bushnell? If our Attorney General were a run-of-the-mill politician, his long period of silence would not be surprising. It would merely indicate that he had folded up his tent, taken his family and moved away. However, this particular public servant has all the good qualities of a bull-dog, who never quits under fire. I am confident that something very important is going to happen in the not too distant future. There may be another bomb-shell in the offing. It may dwarf the original Coconut Grove investigation and the original Timilty indictment. Hang on to your hat and sit tight.

Child-Labor

I have just received another intensely interesting letter from Chaplain John Shade Franklin

Letters To The Editor

144 Hancock St.,
Auburndale, Mass.,
July 26, 1943.

Newton Graphic,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Sirs:

In April, I think it was, I received a package, a Service Man's "Kit" which the accompanying card said was an "appreciation to Newton's men in Service from the Citizens of Newton."

I forwarded the "kit" to my husband (Major Sherwood F. Moran), who has been serving in the South Pacific with the Marines, since last August. Sometime ago I received a letter from him saying he had received the "kit" and would I please convey his thanks and appreciation to the right people. I have been in doubt as to the right method of doing so, but have decided that it can be done through your News Sheet.

He wrote: "The kit you mentioned you were forwarding to me has finally arrived. It is certainly heartening to know that even folks whom you don't know sometimes give a thought to those of us in the far, 'hot' places of this Global war. The kit contains many useful things, but I am especially glad to have the metal mirror. I shall carry it with me when we start on our next 'push.' It is much lighter than other mirrors; more durable; less perishable to 'shrapnel.' Will you please convey my thanks to the proper people."

Since the crucial battles of last summer and fall, in the area in which Mr. Moran is, he with other Marines of the 1st Division have been "resting." In his last letter he said the news of J. L. Lewis was just reaching them. His comment was, "All the Marines say, 'Give him to us. We'd know what to do with him.' You may be sure the boys out here find it hard to reconcile such actions with patriotism."

I am sure he would feel that the citizens of Newton could not be a part of those who in any way block the effort being made to end the War and end it speedily.

Sincerely yours,
URSEL R. MORAN.

Now that someone has mentioned ragweed in the GRAPHIC, I feel I would like to add my bit. I believe eighty per cent of the ragweed in Newton is on city property. The largest area under cultivation that I have seen is at the corner of Crafts and Albee roads, Newtonville. There is well over an acre, and it is doing wonderfully.

I recommend my fever sufferer to go see it now for in a few weeks you won't want to be within ten miles of it.

Sincerely yours,
CAMERON A. RAE.

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

I am one of those that feels that a lasting peace and a continuing prosperity hinges on how the United Nations pool its gold resources, and how it harnesses the use of money to its resources. I have wanted to see the United Nations pool "their gold resources," possessed or controlled by them, upon the termination of war, as the first step in re-establishing economic security for all peoples throughout the world.

Definitely linked to this common gold pool should be established control over the quantity of money used, as this blending of economic factors determines the quality or value of any currency. It seems to me that it is the responsibility of government to guarantee the stability of money. If there is no machinery to keep in balance the relationship of the activity of money to that which backs it up, then it necessarily varies in value from day-to-day, which cumulatively leads to inflation and demoralization of currency with its unfortunate consequences.

The spirit of "One World" can be achieved simply by restoring economic security for the people. This security means keeping the quality of currency constant, not only in one country but all. Whenever wide variations in these currency relationships have developed in the past we have seen unemployment, depression and strife.

The United Nations, if we could see to it, have an unusual opportunity to prevent such recurrences by pooling their gold resources, without otherwise becoming involved in world politics.

NEWTON MAN WILL DIRECT POST-WAR BOARD

Gov. Saltonstall today appointed James W. Culliton, 26 Taft ave., Newton, as executive director of the committee on post-war readjustment.

The nomination, one of 13 submitted to the Executive Council for confirmation, was expected to be acted on next week.

well-known to many Newtonians. He has covered a lot of territory, but he seems to get the Newton Graphic regularly. Also, he reads it with extreme care. He wants me to know that there is another side to the child-labor question and that our state laws are too one-sided. He claims that we do not see life as a whole. He feels very strongly that our child-labor laws need constant study and revision in the light of current standards and human needs. (Chaplain Franklin refers to my column of April 29, just in case any of my readers keep a file.)

Kiwanis Activities

Lieutenant Robert J. Noone, USNR, of Auburndale, was one of the speakers at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday. The Lieutenant was introduced by a personal friend, Mr. Walter Hood, member of the Program Committee. Lieutenant Noone described in a very interesting manner many of his experiences while serving as Chief Signal Officer on the Aircraft Carrier Hornet. He was on the Carrier at the time when planes left to bomb Tokio. He described experiences on the same ship during the Battle of Midway which was a running fight for three days. He described some of the sensations which men on the carrier feel when they see enemy dive bombers, sometimes 40 or 50 in number, coming in from all directions at one time. The Lieutenant was severely injured in one of these attacks while an enemy plane with bomb rack full crashed on the Hornet within 10 feet of his station. Ten of Lieutenant Noone's men were killed at this time.

He described another instance, rather comical, when the men had to go without their supper. The cook had prepared over 500 pies, something over 10,000 doughnuts and had cooked 425 chickens. Just before the men had a chance to enjoy this meal, a bomb landed in the pantry and destroyed it all.

Another speaker was Sergeant Carmen C. DiMuzi. Sergeant DiMuzi's experiences had been in the European theater. He described numerous bombing raids that he had taken part in from England over Germany, over Holland, over Belgium. Later on he was stationed with the African forces and partook in that campaign. He has had something over 400 hours of active flying in the fighting service.

Both speakers have been decorated with the Purple Heart and numerous other decorations for valor and bravery when under fire.

Total attendance was 32, consisting of 25 members and 7 visitors. Visitors were Joe O'Neil of the Waltham Kiwanis Club, Police Inspector Joseph Lyons, Chief Probation Officer of Newton, John Enegess and Carmen C. DiMuzi, who were the guests of Jim Gallagher, also Harold Young, Secretary to Mayor Paul Goddard who was the guest of President James Riggs and Sal DeFazio, Jr. of the Wellesley Club.

WALTER LOMBARD MCGILL

Walter Lombard McGill, who died Friday, July 16, at his home 144 Gibbs st., Newton Centre, was president of Lombard & Co., Somerville. He was a graduate of Andover '09 and Yale, Theta Xi, 1913. He is survived by his widow Priscilla Alden Williams McGill and three children, Mrs. John E. French, Walter Lombard McGill Jr., and Suzanne McGill.

Services were held at the Newton Cemetery New Chapel on Sunday, July 18th.

Poison Ivy Now Easily Eradicated

The luxuriant Poison Ivy patches in Newton constitute a serious menace this year to the health of children and all persons susceptible to its effects. With whole families spending the summer out of doors at home, the menace of Ivy poisoning is greater than during recent years when more time was spent away from home.

Many Victory Gardeners are very susceptible to Poison Ivy and already some of them have lost their enthusiasm for food production in newly cultivated ground that is bordered with the Ivy. Often the ivy roots will enter the garden and send up shoots of the three-parted leaves right in the rows of vegetables.

Last season a new product was put on the market that differed from the crankcase oil and rock salt that have been used to kill Poison Ivy in the past. This new material is absorbed into the leaves of the ivy, and kills the stems and roots with one application. No sooner had it been tested and approved by the State Experiment Stations in New England and elsewhere, than the entire output of the manufacturer was taken over by the government for the fire proofing of fabrics.

A few weeks ago the firm was permitted to release some of the product for civilian use and the first material received in Framingham was tested the day it arrived. E. Dexter Davis, Mill st., Framingham Centre, adjoining Little Tree Farms, sprayed some on his infestation of poison ivy bordering a vegetable garden. Within twelve hours the ivy leaves were wilting and were completely dead in less than a week.

The new weed killer, which is not poisonous, will destroy any foliage it touches, but has not injured the branches or trunks of trees or shrubs. One pound of this new gift to gardeners is mixed with five quarts of water in any sprinking can or garden sprayer and applied to one hundred square feet of infested area.

A limited supply of the new weed killer is now available for distribution and Mr. Davis or any of the personnel at the Little Tree Farms on Pleasant st., Framingham Centre will be glad to answer any questions regarding its use. Either in person, or over the telephone, Framingham 6133.

Children Enjoy Hot Dog Roast

Thursday evening the lower playground at Newton Upper Falls was the scene of a hot-dog roast in which two hundred children participated.

The children roasted hot-dogs, toasted marshmallows. In the dusk of the evening the children gathered around the fire and sang songs.

Helpers for the evening were the Tarbell twins—Carl and Joe—Marie De Bourke, Marjorie Overstrom, David D. Fazio and Jean Haskins. Directors in charge—Margaret Cotter and Jennie Chesapeake.

Each Thursday evening at about 7 o'clock a hot-dog roast will be held. All children and parents are invited. Bring your own hot-dogs and buns; we supply the dressing.

'Shakers' Houses, Goods Made to Last 1,000 Years

Mother Ann, the leader of the Shakers sect that attained its peak between 1840 and 1860, admonished her followers to "Do all your work as though you had a thousand years to live and as you would if you knew you must die tomorrow."

They designed and built their houses and furniture, workshops and equipment, barns and outbuildings, with the teachings of Mother Ann in mind. Perfection was sought in all things, down to the slightest detail. Every barn, workshop, meeting-house and dormitory was planned for efficiency and easy, co-operative use.

Every object was made with extraordinary and loving care. The Shaker furniture, with its well-balanced proportions light-colored stain and functionalism, appears to have been made for the "thousand years of holiness."

The Shakers were at times a persecuted sect, largely because of the celibacy and the communism that were part of their religion.

The case of Armand D. Auger of 58 Valley st., Everett, who was arrested on July 12 and charged with manslaughter in the death of Robert Sennott, 11, of 352 Watertown st., Newton, was continued on Tuesday morning in the Newton District Court until August 10 at the request of his attorney.

Armand was the driver of the moving van which struck three boys when it mounted the sidewalk on Watertown st. He was also charged with driving to endanger.

An inquest into the Sennott boy's death has been held but the court has not as yet entered a finding.

DONAHUE-NELSON

Miss Dorothy Louise Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Nelson of 392 Cherry st., West Newton was married to Pfc. Paul Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Donahue of 22 Auburn st., West Newton, at a ceremony performed Thursday evening, July 22, in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton by the Rev. John A. Saunders.

The bride who was gown in white satin was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Miss Marjorie Goodale of West Newton. Robert McNamara of Waltham served as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from the Newton High School. Private Donahue was graduated from St. Charles High School in Waltham.

Private Donahue trained at Gowen Field, Denver, Colorado, and at Boise Field, Idaho. He is now stationed at the Army Air Base at Herington, Kansas where he is armorer of an airframe squadron. He and Mrs. Donahue will reside in Kansas. Mrs. Donahue was formerly employed in the office of the Parke, Snow Co., in Waltham.

Quarters for Rabbits
Rabbit hutches, which may be built of scrap material, should be adapted to the requirements of two mature does. Outside measurements should be approximately 30 inches width, 20 inches height and 10 to 12 feet length. A V-shaped hay rack made of three-quarter inch poultry wire may be placed in the center to serve both compartments. A slide about eight inches wide and one inch deep beneath the hay rack will hold grain and catch hay leaves. Self-cleaning type floors are best made with one by two inch slats, or with half inch mesh hardware cloth.

Claims Laundries Facing Hazards

The professional laundry industry is still providing clean, sanitary clothing for twelve million American families, but under hazards which threaten it with extinction as a coordinated service vital to the wartime program. If conditions become much worse, according to the American Institute of Laundering, they might eventually cause the entire nation's wash to be thrown back on home facilities which are wholly inadequate to handle it.

Laundry volumes generally have gone up 35 per cent since the immediate pre-war era and the labor shortages have reached the danger point in many cities throughout the country. Laundry work has slipped behind from two to three weeks in most areas, and plants are packed ceiling high with soiled clothing.

The industry, the Institute explained, has the feeling the public still does not realize the dangerous implications involved in this major problem—labor shortages, even though some of the steps laundrymen have been found to take may have impressed housewives.

For instance, the peacetime luxury laundry bundle has practically passed out of the picture. Such things as curtains, dollies, slip covers and fancy tablecloths are on the "keep at home" list with many plants. Further streamlining of the laundry bundle will depend upon local conditions throughout the country.

Whether the laundries survive the worst emergency in their history will depend, the Institute declared, on the cooperation they get from both the government and the public.

Government job stabilization has come too late and in too few areas it is felt. More than 400 laundries have closed their doors within the last eleven months, 125 of them in the past two months. All attempts now are designed to keep as many others as possible from closing. Laundries must continue to function to prevent a letdown of safeguards to public health, it was emphasized.

The nation's laundries are serving troop training centers, troops in transit, restaurants, hospitals, hotels, rooming houses, and the like, where the health of large groups is of prime importance to the conduct of the war on the home front.

What laundries are hoping for is partial help which would come if:

(1) Housewives, now unemployed and available, volunteer their services to laundries, recognizing such work as patriotic and vital; (2) High school boys and girls volunteer for some of the lighter laundry tasks, especially during vacation periods; (3) The government relaxes price ceilings so that higher wages could be assured as a means of holding more workers.

Beyond that, according to the Institute, there are a number of little things that could be done by housewives to ease production bottlenecks in laundries. Various items of one type could be grouped together in wash bundles; sleeves could be unrolled, shirts unbuttoned, and socks unrolled before shipping them to the laundry; trinkets, belts and removable buttons, if taken from clothing before it is packed for laundering, would aid considerably in saving precious time of workers in the laundry.

The Institute assured housewives that no one knows better than the laundries themselves that the wash is behind schedule. Fewer phone calls will let laundrymen devote more time to their wartime job.

Officers Elected By Central Circle

Mrs. J. Herbert Weeks was elected president of the Central Circle of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, at a lawn picnic supper meeting held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Stanley Kindreds, 75 Wyoming rd., Newtonville.

Other officers chosen were Mrs. Kindreds, vice-president; Mrs. Gladys Keene, recording secretary; Miss Faith McGinley, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Marjorie P. Perkins, treasurer.

An electric clock was presented retiring President Mrs. Joseph R. Ludwigson by Past President Mrs. Robert Monroe in behalf of the circle. Mr. and Mrs. Ludwigson will move to Cleveland, Ohio, in September.

WAVES AND SPAR GET COMMISSIONS AT NORTHAMPTON

Four Newton WAVES and one SPAR were among the 500 women who received commissions as ensigns in the women reserves of the Navy Tuesday at colorful exercises in Green Hall of the Smith College Campus in Northampton.

The new graduates were reviewed by Governor Saltonstall and Capt. Herbert W. Underwood Tuesday morning. Gov. Saltonstall delivered the commencement address. He stated the women were well qualified for leadership. He also declared his conviction that the WAVES should be permitted to leave the country for foreign service.

Newly commissioned Newton WAVES are Marion A. Roberts of Auburndale, Dorothy E. Rowe of Newton, Lavinia F. Wentworth of Waban and Dorothy E. Wilson of Newtonville. Rosalie W. Martin of Auburndale was commissioned an ensign in the SPARS.

Markham Talmadge of Hila, Hawaii, in Honolulu, T. H., on Thursday, July 15. Mrs. Talmadge was formerly a member of the faculty of Beaver Country Day School and Nightingale-Bamford in New York. Rev. and Mrs. Talmadge will make their home in Hilo.

poses at $8500. The grantor was Margaret L. Boland.

The office of Charles J. Kinchla reports the sale of the property located at 66 Fountain st., on W. Newell Hill. The house, a reproduction of a Salem colonial, contains ten rooms, three baths together with a detached two car garage and 12,000 square feet of land. The property is assessed by the City of Newton for $17,900. Title was conveyed by Mary R. Hickey and Edward J. Hickey to Hugh and Marion Hare, who have already taken possession.

The same office reports the sale of the single residence located at 130 Woodcliffe rd., Newton Highlands for Col. J. E. Banquer of Yuma, Arizona to Martha R. Nolan of Newton Centre.

John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., report increased activity in residential sales throughout the Newton area. From among the many sales negotiated through their offices the past few weeks they report that R. L. Williams and E. L. Hamilton have sold to Homes, Inc., the Queen Anne type single residence of 11 rooms and two baths located at 70 Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill. There is 8000 feet of land and the property is assessed for $7300.

In Newtonville the same office has sold the English type house located at 243 Linwood ave., for Leonard W. Butler to Julia A. Maguire. The house has six rooms and bath. There is a two-car garage and 8000 feet of land, all of which is taxed for $650.

The Burns office has also sold the ten room house located at 11 Kimball ter., Newtonville to Lorimer D. Lovell for Louisa Jellerson.

Dr. Vincent N. Hamnersten, formerly of 1901 Beacon street, Brookline, has purchased the residence of Dr. Raymond B. Spaulding, 111 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, where he has transferred his offices. Dr. Hamnersten is an assistant director of the Out-Patient Department of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital, Jamaica Plain.

Dr. Spaulding is arranging to return to London, England, to resume an extensive practice there. Before the war it was his custom to come back to the United States for several months' vacation each year, and he was here when the outbreak of the war made it impossible for him to return.
